Section 108. For the purpose of this act minors shall have the same power to contract, file claims for compensation and receive compensation as adult employes subject, however, to the power of the board in its discretion at any time to require the appointment of a guardian to contract or to receive moneys thereunder, or under an award for the benefit of any such minor. Any minor employed by his parent or parents shall have the right to file a claim for compensation under this act against such parent or parents in his own name and in his own right and to enforce the payment of such compensation.

Section 201. (d) In any action brought to recover damages for personal injury to an employe in the course of his employment or for death resulting from such injury, the following rule shall apply:

If the jury finds that the employe's injury was caused or contributed to by the employer's violation or failure to observe any safety law applicable to said industry in effect at the time of the injury, the injured employe or his dependents shall be entitled to double damages.

Section 205. Every employer who has elected not to be bound by article three of this act shall insure his liability to pay damages to injured workmen and their dependents, which may be recovered against such employer by suit or otherwise, shall insure his liability in the State Workmen's Insurance Fund or in any insurance company or mutual association or company authorized to insure liability in this Commonwealth, unless such employer shall be exempted by the department as hereinafter set forth. An employer desiring to be exempt from insuring his liability to pay damages shall make application to the department showing his financial ability to pay such damages as in the judgment of the department would be an amount that would accrue as a result of the ordinary risks of the particular employment wherein the employer seeks exemption. Whereupon the department if satisfied of the applicant's financial ability shall, upon the payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00), issue to the applicant a permit authorizing such permit, an appeal shall lie to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County. In any such appeal the only question shall be whether the department abused its discretion in refusing such permit the department shall establish a period of twelve (12) calendar months to begin and end at such times as the department shall prescribe, which shall be known as the annual exemption period. Unless previously revoked all permits issued under this section shall expire and terminate on the last day of the annual exemption period for which they were issued. Permits issued under this act shall be renewed upon the filing of an application and the payment of a renewal fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00). The department may, from time to time, require further statements of the financial ability of such employer, and if at any time such employer appear in the judgment of the department no longer able to pay damages shall revoke its permit granting exemption in which case the employer shall immediately subscribe to the State Workmen's Insurance Fund or insure his liability in any insurance company or mutual association or company as aforesaid.

Every employer liable under this section of the act to pay damages shall post and maintain in a conspicuous place in and about his place of business a notice that he has secured the payment of damages to his employes and their dependents in accordance with the provisions of this section. Such notice shall be in such form as shall be prescribed by the department and among other things shall set forth the name of the employer, the name of the employer's insurance carrier or that he has been exempted by the department from carrying insurance as the case may be.

If any employer shall fail to comply with the provisions of this section with respect to posting and maintaining the notice required by this act, such employer shall, upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding, be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) and costs of prosecution.

If any employer fails to comply with the provisions of this section with respect to insuring or securing an exemption from insurance or in any applications filed under this section shall furnish the department with a false or fraudulent statement of outstanding incurred liability for damages or any other false or fraudulent statement, such employer shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof for every such failure or fraudulent statement shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) and costs of prosecution or imprisonment for a period of not more than one year or both at the discretion of court. Every day's violation and every false or fraudulent statement shall constitute a separate offense. It shall be the duty of the department to enforce this section but this shall not prohibit any citizen from being a prosecutor for violations of this law. The department shall investigate all violations brought to its notice and shall institute prosecution for violation thereof. All fines recovered under the provisions of this section shall be paid by the clerk of the court to the department and by it paid into the State Treasury.

In any proceeding against an employer under this section a certificate of non-insurance issued by the official Workmen's Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau and a certificate of the department showing that the defendant has not been exempted from obtaining insurance under this section shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated. Any employer who fails to secure his employes to pay compensation under article three of this act, or if he has rejected article three of this act and fails to secure his employes in the payment of damages sustained by such employes in the manner set forth in this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than three hundred dollars ($300.00) and not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) or imprisonment of six months, either or both, at the discretion of the court.

For the purposes of this section minor children working for their parents shall be conclusively presumed to be emancipated.

Section 306. The following schedule of compensation is hereby established for injuries resulting in total disability:

(a) For the first five hundred weeks after the seventh day of total disability, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of the wages of the injured employe as defined in section three hundred and nine, but the compensation shall not be more than [eighteen] [twenty] twenty-two dollars per week nor less than [nine] [ten] twelve dollars per week [and shall not exceed in the aggregate the sum of [seventy-five hundred] ten thousand dollars; Provided That if at the time of the injury the employe receives wages of less than [nine] ten dollars per week, then he shall receive the full amount of such wages per week as compensation but in no event less than five dollars per week]. Nothing in this clause shall require payment of compensation after disability shall cease. Should partial disability be followed by total disability, the period of five hundred weeks mentioned in this clause of this section shall be reduced by the number of weeks during which compensation was paid for such partial disability.

(b) For disability partial in character (except the particular cases mentioned in clause (c), sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of the difference between the wages of the injured employe as defined in section three hundred and nine and the earning power of the employe thereafter, but such compensation shall not be more than [fifteen] [seventeen] eighteen dollars per week. This compensation shall be paid during the period of such partial disability not however beyond [three] four hundred weeks after the seventh day of disability. Should total disability be followed by partial disability, the period of [three] four hundred weeks mentioned in this clause shall be reduced by the number of weeks during which compensation was paid for total disability. [The term "earning power" as used in this section shall in no case be less than the weekly amount which the employe receives after the accident.] In cases of partial disability the actual earnings of an employe after the date of injury may, along with other evidence, be received as evidence of the extent of his earning power but if such employe has no such earnings, the referee may in the interest of justice fix such earning power as shall be reasonable having due regard to the character of his previous employment and the nature of his injury and his partial disability.

(c) For [all] disability resulting from permanent injuries of the following classes, the compensation shall be [exclusively] as follows and shall begin upon the termination of total disability if any total disability results from the accident.

For the loss of a hand, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during one hundred and seventy-five weeks.

For the loss of a forearm, sixty-six and two-thirds percentum of wages during one hundred and ninety-five weeks.

For the loss of an arm, sixty-six and two thirds per centum of wages during two hundred and fifteen weeks.

For the loss of a foot, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during one hundred and fifty weeks.

For the loss of a lower leg, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during one hundred and eighty weeks.

For the loss of a leg, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during two hundred and fifteen weeks.

For the loss of an eye or for the removal of a cataract from or lens of an eye causing the loss of binocular vision, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during [one hundred and twenty-five] two hundred weeks.

For the loss of a thumb, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during sixty weeks.

For the loss of a first finger, commonly called index finger, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during thirty-five weeks.

For the loss of a second finger, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during thirty weeks.

For the loss of a third finger, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during twenty weeks.

For the loss of a fourth finger, common called little finger, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during fifteen weeks.

The loss of less than the first phalange of the thumb or of any finger shall be considered equivalent to the loss of one-half of such toe, thumb or finger and shall be compensated at the same rate as for the loss of a toe, thumb or finger but for one-half of the period provided for the loss of a toe, thumb or finger: Provided, however, That the accident involves injury to part of the bone of the phalange.

The loss of [more than] one phalange or more of a toe, thumb or finger shall be considered equivalent to the loss of the entire toe, thumb or finger.

For the loss of [or permanent loss of the use of] any two or more such members, or the permanent loss of the use of the finger, thumb, hand, arm, foot, leg, toe or eye as hereinbefore provided, not constituting total disability, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during the aggregate of the periods specified for each.

For the loss of a great toe, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during [forty] sixty weeks.

For the loss of any other toe, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during [sixteen] thirty weeks.

The loss of less than the first phalange of the great or of any finger shall be considered equivalent to the loss of one-half of such great toe or other toe, and shall be compensated at the same rate as for the loss of a great toe or other toe but for one-half of the period provided for the loss of a great toe or other toe.

The loss of [more than] one phalange or more of a great toe or any toe shall be considered equivalent to the loss of the entire great toe or other toe.

For the loss of or permanent loss of the use of any two or more such members not constituting total disability, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages during the aggregate of the periods specified for each.

For serious and permanent disfigurement of the head, [or] face or neck of such a character as to produce an unsightly appearance and such as is not usually incident to the employment, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages not to exceed one hundred and fifty weeks. If by reason of disfigurement an injured employe shall be unable to obtain employment for which he is otherwise qualified, the board may order compensation to be paid in accordance with the provisions of clause (a) or clause (b) of this section. The compensation referee or the compensation board by viewing the person seeking compensation for disfigurement shall describe said disfigurement for the record and shall be authorized to make an award of compensation by such view and an award made by the fact-finding body, whether the referee or the board, to the effect that the disfigurement is serious, permanent and unsightly will have the same value as a fact found if testimony had been taken establishing said features. Either party may introduce testimony describing said disfigurement if it sees fit.

Unless the board shall otherwise determine, the loss of both hands, or both arms, or both feet, or both legs, or both eyes shall constitute permanent total disability to be compensated according to the provisions of clause (a).

Amputation [between the elbow and] [at] between the wrist and the knuckles shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of a hand, and amputation [between the knee and] [at] toes and the ankle shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of a foot. [Amputation between the wrist and the elbow shall be considered as the loss of a forearm and amputation between the ankle and the knee shall be considered as the loss of a lower leg] Amputation [at or] at or above the [elbow] wrist shall be considered as the loss of an arm and amputation [at or] at or above the [knee] ankle shall be considered as the loss of a leg. Permanent loss of the use of a hand, arm, foot, leg, eye, figner or thumb, great toe or other toe shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of such hand, arm, foot, leg, eye, finger or thumb, great toe or other toe.

This compensation shall not be more than [eighteen] [twenty] twenty-two dollars per week nor less than [nine] [ten] twelve dollars per week. [Provided, That if at the time of injury the employe receives wages of less than [nine] ten dollars per week, then he shall receive the full amount of such wages per week as compensation, but in no event less than five dollars per week.]

(f) During the first [sixty] ninety days after [disability begins] the date of injury and during such further period as the board may in the manner hereinafter provided require in a particular case, the employer shall furnish reasonable surgical, [and] medical, dental and nursing services, hospital treatment, artificial appliances, medicines and supplies as and when needed unless the employe refuses to allow them to be furnished by the employer: Provided, That the injured employe, by petition to the board and notice to the employer, may be permitted by the board to consult a physician of his own choice at any time during his disability, the cost of such consultation to be paid by the employer in accordance with a schedule of charges to be prescribed and approved by the board. Any such request shall be acted upon promptly, either with or without a hearing, and shall have preference over any other matter or proceeding pending before the board or the referee. Upon application of an injured employe the board may issue its order requiring the employer to furnish such further services, hospital treatment, medicines, artificial appliances or supplies during such further period and in such additional amounts after the three months' period as the board may in the interest of justice deem advisable. [The cost of such services medicines and supplies shall not exceed one hundred and fifty dollars ($150), except that the board upon petition of the claimant may grent extra medical services for an additional thirty days not to exceed seventy-five dollars ($75).] If the employer shall upon application made to him refuse to furnish such services, hospital treatment, appliances, medicines and supplies, the employe may procure same and shall receive from the employer the reasonable cost thereof. [With the above limitations, In addition to the above service, medicines and supplies, hospital treatment, services and supplies shall be furnished by the employer for the said period of sixty days, except that the board upon petition of the claimant may grant an additional thirty days. The cost for such hospital treatment, service and supplies shall not in any case exceed the prevailing charge in the hospital for like services to other individuals.] If the employe shall refuse [reasonable surgical, medical and hospital] such services, hospital treatment, appliances, medicines and supplies tendered to him by his employer, he shall forfeit all rights to compensation for any injury or any increases in his incapacity shown to have resulted from such refusal; Provided, however, That the employe need not submit to surgical treatment, which, in the opinion of at least two qualified physicians, might jeopardize his life. The employer shall also furnish to the employe or pay the cost of transportation to and from the place where such services are rendered and reimbursement for such costs assumed by the employe may be enforced as payments of compensation are enforced.

(h) [Hernia shall be considered as a physical weakness or ailment which ordinarily develops gradually and shall not be compensable unless incontrovertible proof is offered that the hernia was at once precipitated by sudden effort or severe strain and that first the descent of the hernia followed the cause without intervening time, second there was actual pain in the hernial region at the time of descent, third the above manifastations were of such severity that the same were noticed at once by the claimant necessitating immediate cessation of work and communicated to] Where claim is made for hernia claimant must notify the employer or a representative of the employer within [forty-eight] seventy-two hours after the occurrence of the accident.

Section 307. 1(a) If there be one child, twenty-five per centum of wages of deceased but not in excess of [six] [seven] eight dollars per week.

(b) If there be two children, [thirty-five] fifty per centum of wages of deceased but not in excess of [nine] [ten] twelve dollars per week.

(c) If there be three children, [forty-five] sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages of deceased but not in excess of [eleven and a half] [thirteen] sixteen dollars per week.

(d) If there be four children, [fifty-five] sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages of deceased but not in excess of [fourteen] [sixteen] eighteen dollars per week.

(e) If there be five children, [sixty-two and one-half] sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages of deceased but not in excess of [sixteen and a half] [eighteen] twenty dollars per week.

(f) If there be six or more children, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages of deceased but not in excess of [eighteen] [twenty] twenty-two dollars per week.

2. To the widow or widower, if there be no children, [forty-four] sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages but not in excess of [eleven] [twelve] dollars per week.

3. To the widow or widower, if there be one child, [fifty-three] sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages but not in excess of [thirteen and a half] [fifteen] eighteen dollars per week.

4. To the widow or widower, if there be two children, [sixty-two and one-half] sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages but not in excess of [sixteen] [eighteen] twenty dollars per week.

4½. To the widow or widower, if there be three or more children, sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages but not in excess of [eighteen] [twenty] twenty-two dollars per week.

5. If there be neither widow, widower nor children entitled to compensation, then to the father or mother if dependent to any extent upon the employe at the time of the accident [twenty-five] fifty per centum of wages but not in excess of [five] [six] twelve dollars per week; Provided, however, That in the case of a minor child who has been contributing to his parents, the dependency of said parents shall be presumed; And provided further, That if the father or mother was totally dependent upon the deceased employe at the time of the accident, the compensation payable to such father or mother shall be [forty-five] sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages but not in excess of [ten] [eleven] eighteen dollars per week.

6. If there be neither widow, widower, children nor dependent parent entitled to compensation, then to the brothers and sisters if actually dependent upon the decedent for support at the time of his death [fifteen] thirty per centum of wages for one brother or sister and [five] ten per centum additional for each additional brother or sister with a maximum of [twenty-five] fifty per centum, such compensation to be paid to their guardian, or if there be no guardian to such other person as may be designated by the board as hereinafter provided.

7. Whether or not there be dependents as aforesaid, the reasonable expense of burial not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars, which shall be paid by the employer or insurer directly to the undertaker (without deduction of any amounts theretofore paid for compensation or for medical expenses).

Compensation shall be payable under this section to or on account of any child, brother or sister only if and while such child, brother or sister is under the age of [sixteen] eighteen. No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widow unless she was living with her deceased husband at the time of his death or was then actually dependent upon him and receiving from him a substantial portion of her support. No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widower unless he be incapable of self-support at the time of his wife's death and be at such time dependent upon her for support. If members of decedent's household at the time of his death, the terms "child" and "children" shall include step-children, adopted children and children to whom he stood in loco parentis and shall include posthumous children. Should any dependent of a deceased employe die or remarry, or should the widower become capable of self-support, the right of such dependent or widower to compensation under this section shall cease: Provided, however, That upon remarriage of any widow the compensation of such widow shall continue as hereinbefore provided for one-third of the period during which compensation then remains payable to her: Provided further, That if upon investigation and hearing it shall be ascertained that the widow or widower is living with a man or woman, as the case may be, in meretricious relationship and not married, or the widow living a life of prostitution, the board may order the termination of compensation payable to such widow or widower. If the compensation payable under this section to any person shall for any cause cease, the compensation to the remaining persons entitled thereunder shall thereafter be the same as would have been payable to them had they been the only persons entitled to compensation at the time of the death of the deceased.

The wages upon which death compensation shall be based shall not in any case be taken to exceed [twenty-seven] thirty dollars per week nor be less than [fifteen] [seventeen] eighteen dollars per week.

This compensation shall be paid during [three] four hundred weeks and in the case of children entitled to compensation under this section, the compensation of each child shall continue after said period of [three] four hundred weeks until such child reaches the age of [sixteen] eighteen at the rate of [seventeen and one-half] thirty per centum of wages but not in excess of [four and a half] six dollars per week if there is one child; [twenty-seven and one-half] forty per centum of wages but not in excess of [six and a half] [seven] nine dollars per week if there are two children; [thirty-eight and one-half] fifty per centum of wages but not in excess of [nine] [ten] twelve dollars per week if there are three children; [fifty] sixty per centum of wages but not in excess of [eleven and a half] [thirteen] fourteen dollars per week if there are four children; [fifty-five] sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages but not in excess of [twelve dollars and seventy-five cents] [fourteen] sixteen dollars per week if there are five children; and sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of wages but not in excess of [fourteen] [sixteen] eighteen dollars per week if there are six children or more.

The board may, if the best interest of a child or children shall so require, at any time order and direct the compensation payable to a child or children or to a widow or a widower on account of any child or children to be paid to the guardian of such child or children, or if there be no guardian to such other person as the board as hereinafter provided may direct. If there be no guardian or committee of any minor dependent or insane employe of dependent on whose account compensation is payable, the amount payable on account of such minor dependent or insane employe or dependent may be paid to any surviving parent or to such other person as the board may order and direct, and the board may require any person other than a guardian or committee to whom it has directed compensation for a minor dependent or insane employe or dependant to be paid to render as and when it shall so order accounts of the receipts and disbursements of such person and to file with it a satisfactory bond in a sum sufficient to secure the proper application of the moneys received by such person.

Section 309. The public policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby declared to be that the method of computing wages set forth in this section and the rates to be paid the injured employes or their dependents under sections 306 and 307 of this act are just and reasonable. Wherever in this article the term "wages" is used it shall be construed to mean [the average weekly wages of the employe ascertained as follows:

(a) If at the time of the accident the wages are fixed by the week, the amount so fixed shall be the average weekly wage.

(b) If at the time of the accident the wages are fixed by the month, the average weekly wage shall be the monthly wage so fixed multiplied by twelve and divided by fifty-two.

(c) If at the time of the accident the wages are fixed by the year, the average weekly wage shall be the yearly wage so fixed divided by fifty-two.

(d) If at the time of the accident the wages are fixed by the day, hours or by the output of the employe, the average weekly wage shall be the wage most favorable to the employe computed by dividing by thirteen the total wages of said employe earned in the employ of the employer in the first, second, third or fourth period of thirteen consecutive calendar weeks in the fifty-two weeks immediately preceding the accident, or in case the employe receives wages monthly or semi-monthly by dividing by thirteen the total wages of said employe earned in the employ of the employer in the first, second, third or fourth period of three consecutive calendar months in the year immediately preceding the accident.]

[If the employe has been in the employ of employer less than thirteen calendar weeks (or three calendar months if the employe receives wages monthly or semi-monthly) immediately preceding the accident his average weekly wage shall be computed under the foregoing paragraph taking "total wages" for such purpose to be the amount he would have earned had he been so employed by employer the full thirteen calendar weeks (or three calendar months) immediately preceding the accident and had worked when work was available to other employes in a similar occupation unless it be conclusively shown that by reason of exceptional causes such methods of computation does not ascertain fairly the "total wages" of employe so employed less than thirteen calender weeks (or three calendar months).

(e) In occupations which are exclusively seasonal and therefore cannot be carried on throughout the year, the average weekly wage shall be taken to be one-fiftieth of the total wages which the employe has earned from all occupations during the twelve calendar months immediately preceding the accident unless it be shown that during such year by reason of exceptional causes such method of computation does not ascertain fairly the earnings of the employe in which case the period for calculation shall be extended so far as to give a basis for the fair ascertainment of his average weekly earnings.

The terms "average weekly wage" and "total wages" as used in this section shall include board and lodging received from the employer and when so received the board shall be rated at fifty cents per day and board, together with lodging, shall be rated at one dollar per day but such terms shall not include gratuities received from the employer or others nor shall such terms include amounts deducted by the employer under the contract of hiring for labor furnished or paid for by the employer and necessary for the performance of such contract by the employe nor shall such terms include deductions from wages due the employer for rent and supplies necessary for the employe's use in the performance of his labor.

Where the employe is working under concurrent contracts with two or more employers and the defendant employer has knowledge of such employment prior to the accident, his wages from all such employers shall be considered as if earned from the employer liable for compensation] the money rate at which the service rendered is recompensed under the contract of hiring in force at the time of the accident, except that if the injured employe was at the time of the injury a minor and his disability shall continue after he shall have reached the age of twenty-one (21) years, his average weekly wage for the purpose of determining the compensation payable under this act shall be determined on the basis of the earnings that such minor if not disabled probably would earn at the age of twenty-one (21) years. In determining such probable earnings due consideration shall be given to the employe's aptitude, education and experience fitting him for any employment not only in the trade or business in which he was engaged at the time of the injury but in any other trade or business. In determining such probable earnings the referee and the board shall have the right to receive into evidence as competent testimony the earnings of other employes of similiar aptitude, education and experience engaged in a similar trade or business, and findings based upon such testimony shall be final. The term "wages" shall include board and lodging received from the employer. Whenever the employe receives board and lodging as a part of his wages the board shall be rated at fifty cents per day and board, together with lodging, shall be rated at one dollar per day for the purpose of computing wages. In seasonable occupations the employe's weekly wages shall be taken to be one-fiftieth of the total wages which he has earned from all occupations during the year immediately preceding the accident unless it be shown that during such year by reason of exceptional causes such method of computation does not ascertain fairly the earnings of the employe in which case the period for calculation shall be extended so far as to give a basis for the fair ascertainment of his average weekly earnings. In continuous employments if immediately prior to the accident the rate of wages was fixed by the day or hour or by the output of the employe, his weekly wages shall be taken to be five and one-half times his average earnings at such rate for a working day and using as a basis of calculation his earnings during so much of the preceding six months as he worked for the same employer: Provided, however, That if the employe regularly and habitually worked more than five and one-half days per week, the weekly wage shall be found by multiplying his average earnings for working day by six and one-half or seven according to the customary number of working days constituting an ordinary week in his occupation or trade. Where the employe is working under concurrent contracts with two or more employers his wages from all employers shall be considered as if earned from the employer liable for compensation.

In cases where the employe has been in the employ of the employer less than one full week and by reason of the shortness of time during which the employe has been in the employment of the employer or the nature of terms of the employment it is impracticable to ascertain the average weekly wages as hereinbefore provided, the average weekly amount which during the six months previous to the injury has been earned by other persons employed by the same employer under similar contracts of hiring, or if there are no persons so employed by other persons employed by other employers under similar contract of hiring under similar conditions shall be taken as the basis for the ascertainment of the weekly wages of such employe.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, these amendments follow the general plan that I outlined in connection with Senate Bill 656. They represent the result of the study and the conferences held by representatives of labor, at the suggestion of the Governor. I repeat, too, that this bill represents, as it now is, without amendment, the desires and the requests of industry. Labor tried to be reasonable in its requests.

Under section 101, as the amendments that I have offered would now place the bill, instead of saying that accidents are to be compensated, we use the words "personal injuries" when had in the course of employment, and not accidents as narrowly defined by court decisions, which severely limit compensation; such injuries should be sufficient cause for compensation as an unavoidable industrial cost, to be carried as are other regular costs without which industry does not operate normally.

Along that line, Mr. President, I might say there is no provision in the bill before this Senate to take care of the numerous accidents that will prevail. I hate to be bringing into these arguments the returning soldier who will participate in industry, as it sounds like you are trying always to carry pieces of legislation on the shoulders of the men who are fighting the war, but it is our duty, as I see it, to see to it that all legislation aims at giving every returning soldier an opportunity to participate with an equal chance in industry.

Under Section 101, I say to you, under the bill that is now presented before you, if a soldier returns and in the course of his daily work has a mental relapse or a physical relapse because of strains that he has undergone in the pursuit of the war, and who accidently became momentarily lost and by this act became injured, under the present law he will not be compensated.

Under the terms of the amendments that I now offer the definition of personal injury would definitely pay that man, or any other person who becomes injured in the course of his employment, compensation for which—mind you, this is an important part—industry is paying sufficient premiums to be insured against.

Under Section 108 we ask that minors shall have the same right to full compensation for injuries suffered. Certainly they should be treated equally as adults when they take the same risk. Under the present law, when children, minors, are employed illegally, they receive compensation to the tune of 110 per cent. We ask that they be paid the same amounts that are paid to adults under the same conditions, or double compensation.

Under Section 205 we ask that financial responsibility should be proved by employers who refuse to come under the act, so that victims who are injured in the course of their employment may collect the damages to which they are entitled.

In Section 306 we define the limits of compensation. We ask for $12 minimum and $22 maximum. Does that not make you think a little bit—twenty-two dollars a week for a person who is incapacitated because of injury in employment. The full amount that he shall receive under the terms of the amendment that we ask for is $22. Under the terms of the bill that you now are asking passage of, the limit is $20 a week. You may say, "What is two dollars, it does not amount to much, two dollars to a person who is injured, two dollars to a person who has a family to keep." Two dollars does not amount to anything to the employer who is paying the bill, because the difference between what the employer pays and what the injured workman receives represents a far greater figure than the two dollars we here ask for.

Arbitrarily industry set a ceiling of $20 on workmen's compensation, unemployment compensation, occupational disease compensation—$20. Enlightened states set as much as $25. Industry in Pennsylvania, cognizant of the fact that they have control of the House and Senate, place their limit at $20, two dollars above the present maximum. We ask, and I think justly so, in this period of high cost of clothing, food, rent heat, and all the essentials that go into making up the everyday man's life, we ask $22, which is far below the amount that could justly be asked, when you compare the amount that is earned by a man in the full control of his facilities, as compared to what you offer to pay to a man who is injured in the course of his employment.

Under Section 306 (b), where we deal with partial disability, except in particular classes which are contained in the amendments, we ask 66 2/3 per cent of the amount between wages earned and earning power thereafter. Is that too much to ask? Is that too much, to a fair-minded man, to ask when he has been deprived of his earning power? We say in our limitation, taking into consideration that we must not do anything that would jeopardize industry in Pennsylvania, if you please, we say that the limit shall be in this particular case of partial disability, $18 a week for a total of four hundred weeks, as compared with $22 a week and a total of five hundred weeks.

I could go through the schedule, I could say to you that we have the various specific losses, by calling to your attention the fact that we ask, for the loss of a forearm, 195 weeks at 66 2/3 per cent of the wages; of an eye, or removal of a cataract from or lens of eye causing loss of vision, two hundred weeks.

You know, you can not measure by money the amount by which a man can be compensated for his losses, but you do try to build up a rehabilitation period by the amounts that you pay the man. Years ago this fight that we are leading now for decent and reasonable amendments was led by men who fought for any kind of a compensation bill, and they were met with the same stony silence that we meet here tonight, the same uncompromising attitude, the same wilful disregard for the rights of the men who create the very industry that pays the bill.

We ask, for the loss of a big toe, sixty weeks. I have heard men say a man could work very easily without his big toe. Some people say you can see just as well with one eye, too, but who wants to lose an eye?

I could go on through the list of specific losses, but I will not take the time now to read every one. We know the ultimate result of our argument.

Under Section (f) we ask for ninety days to be provided for dental and nursing attention; artificial appliances and hospital treatment are included in these amendments.

Fourteen states have no limit on medical services, fourteen more states, making a total of twenty-eight, leave determination to the administrative authorities after this specific time allowance. Other states, which provide limited medical services, go far beyond the great and wealthy industrial state of Pennsylvania.

Under the bill that you provide for, you ask that hernias be reported within forty-eight hours. We ask leave to submit an amendment which would give the right to report a hernia within seventy-two hours. Medical authorities themselves are in dispute over the causes of hernia, judgment as to where and when hernia occurs. I would say that the greatest grief that has been caused to both employer and employe has been the restriction insisted upon by certain people on the determination and the definition of hernia.

Under Section 307 we ask for upward increases in the dependency benefits. We ask, in the case of a dependent, one child, 25 per cent of wages up to $8 a week. We go on down through the list and we only increase within a reasonable demand. At no time can anybody show where the demands, or rather, not demands, I say humbly to you, but the requests of the men who toil for a living, no person can show me where their requests have been beyond reason, where they have at any time asked for more than they are justly entitled to.

Here are some figures—I know they will not interest you—but at least when you do vote you will not vote ignorant of the things that I speak of: 25 months after Pearl Harbor, on December 7, 1941, till January, 1944, industrial casualties amounted to the following figures—they may not surprise you, they may not astound you, but I am sure they will enlighten you—37,600 American laboring men and women were killed in industry; 310,000 were permanently disabled; 4,500,000 temporarily disabled. This is sixty times more than were injured during the same period of twenty-five months in war, and yet would there be a man on the floor of this Senate who would refuse to vote $22 to a crippled soldier—and is not a man who has worked here and made it possible to wage this war just as important a soldier as those who have died on foreign shores?

This is something else for you Pennsylvanians to be proud of or to be ashamed of—it is a matter purely of conscience—1942 payments for workmen's compensation in four comparable states. Pennsylvania, with a population of 9,900,000 paid $25,609,000 in compensation. New York, with a population of 13,479,000, paid a compensation bill to injured employes of $62,878,000—no wonder they say New York is the leading state of the union. California, which only has two-thirds the population of Pennsylvania and not near the heavy industry that we have, with a population of 6,907,000 paid a total compensation award to injured employes of $28,402,000, or better than $3,000,000 more than Pennsylvania with all its diversified industry and its heavy accident industry. I hope you are proud of that. Ohio, our neighboring state, with two-thirds the population of Pennsylvania, paid $1,000,000 less than we did in Pennsylvania, with a population one-third greater, over 3,000,000 people.

I know that I am not proud of that, because I often pride myself on coming from the state in the union with the greatest number of skilled employes, with the greatest number of intelligent employes in the entire union.

I think we members of the General Assembly ought to be equally as skilled and equally as intelligent as the men who work and slave for a living within the confines of this state.

Compensation itself is not a matter of economics. You may say that it is. It is a matter of social adjustment; it is a matter of rehabilitation; it is a matter of taking care of those who in their full bloom of health take care of us. You may say to yourself, "well, if we overburden industry, industry will move." No, Mr. President, they will not move, because I will tell you something, and I am not letting you in on any secrets. Industry in Pennsylvania is part of the Commonwealth. They are here for many reasons; they are here because of natural resources; they are here because of water power; they are here because of the railroads; they are here because of transportation facilities in other lines; they are here because of the population that consumes the goods that they produce; and they are here because, above every other reason, we have within the confines of Pennsylvania an intelligent and skilled employe market. They will not move.

After twelve years in the Senate and House I have made up my mind that no matter how many times we call a warning to the things that are apparently wrong in legislation, caucus action by the majority party, in your day and in mine, nullifies the arguments placed upon the floor by any person that tries to do the right thing from a sincere viewpoint.

In 1939 I called attention to the fact that an act then before us would remove from the compensation law the Romig decision, that decision which gave a workingman a decent compensation return. It was denied that such was the case.

I very seldom like to read epitaphs, and this is definitely an epitaph, because it relates to a bill that killed workmen's compensation in Pennsylvania, so far as the man who toils for a living is concerned. I said then and I repeat now, that the contention of the sponsors of this bill, that its contents will increase compensation payments approximately twenty per cent over the benefits paid prior to the amendments of 1937, is a misrepresentation. If enacted this bill, instead of increasing compensation benefits, as the schedule stood prior to 1937, mind you, will decrease benefits in just about the same ratio.

It does not matter so much, Mr. President, whether I am heard or not, but it does matter whether the people of Pennsylvania can some day read in the Legislative Journal that somewhere along the line somebody called attention to the fact that under the guise of liberalization we are passing a bill in the Senate of Pennsylvania which does not go far enough, which does not do the job we intended it to do.

So, Mr. President, I will close by asking that the members on both sides of this Senate vote for these amendments.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I agree with a great many things that the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, said. One thing, however, that is more or less paramount, and must be kept in mind, is that in 1937 a democratically controlled Legislature passed a compensation law in which they increased benefits from a maximum of $15 a week to $18 a week.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania held that under the Constitution the rates of workmen's compensation had to be reasonable. They sent the case to the Dauphin County Court to determine whether those rates were reasonable, and that Court held that they were not; the rule of law applied was whether any particular industry could afford to pay those rates and still make a reasonable return on its investment.

This bill goes further even than that act and raises the rate to $20 a week. All the people who expected to get compensation at $18 a week during the period that bill was in effect, which was over a year and a half, did not get that rate at all, because that act was held to be unconstitutional.

What we are trying to do in this bill is not to overbalance and still give working men a reasonable compensation so that they will get at least what we are trying to give them.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not think the members of the Senate want me to voice an opinion about the Supreme Court decision, so I will not do that. All men are entitled to their personal and party views. I will say this, Mr. President, that the primary crime committed against labor in Pennsylvania — and mind you, the primary crime has been the cause of all the trouble in workmen's compensation, it has been the cause of such reduced benefits, with such increased premiums paid by industry—and I speak from authority because I used to receive and accept the benefits when I was injured and I now pay the premiums, so I know whereof I speak—the primary cause, Mr. President, and the primary reason for all this trouble is because the compensation carrying companies in Pennsylvania, the insurance companies, were strong enough in their political affiliations to divide high risk industry from low risk industry, so that, instead of having a common pool where all injured workmen would draw their benefits from, we have a pool that is set up for high risk industries, creating a high premium that is always used as a criterion when it comes to measuring the amount of benefits that will be paid to injured workmen.

Mr. President, I say this advisedly, we can never give the injured workmen his just dues as long as you have a great number of employes who are covered in one pool, which pays through its employers a premium as low as nineteen and twenty cents on a hundred dollar payroll, and another pool where they pay as high as eleven dollars on a hundred dollar payroll. There is only one reasonable method to follow, and that is if every injured workman receives his compensation out of a common pool and spends it for the common good; then you will find the rates on coal reduced to a point where coal will not be overburdened to the extent that it is today.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HEYBURN and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17

Barr,	Gourley,	Klein,	Rosenfeld,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Margle,	Ruth,
Cox,	Holland,	McCreesh,	Stiefel,
Dent,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Woodring,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Messrs. DENT, GOURLEY and HALUSKA offered the following amendments:

An Act to further amend the act approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred fifteen

(P. L. 736), entitled as amended, "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment, establishing an elective schedule of compensation, providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder, and prescribing penalties."

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I suggest that we now revert to the next bill on the Calendar, Senate Bill No. 686, appearing on page 13.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not like to ask any special favors, but I would like to ask that we continue on with the labor program and let us finish the unemployment compensation bill at this time because I may not be here the rest of the week to carry out the program.

Mr. HEYBURN. I have no objection to calling up Senate Bill No. 658, the unemployment compensation bill.

SENATE BILL No. 658 CALLED UP

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I call up for consideration at this time Senate Bill No. 658, on page 32 of today's second reading Calendar.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 658 on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" changing the provisions thereof and the rights obligations and procedure thereunder

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I object.

BILL ON SECOND READING, AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 658, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" changing the provisions thereof and the rights obligations and procedure thereunder

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

time, and agreed to.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am about to offer amendments; before they are acted upon I ask that they be read for the information of the Senate.

(The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:)

Amend Section 1 (Sec. 4) page 6, line 12, by inserting light face brackets before and after the word and figure "twenty (20)" and inserting immediately thereafter the following: "one or more"; Amend Section 1 (Sec. 4) Page 6, lines 12 and 13 by striking out the words, "each day being in a different calendar week"; Amend Section 1 (Sec. 4) page 10, by inserting after line 29 the following:

(6) [Service performed in the employ of a state a political subdivision thereof or an instrumentality of one or more states or political subdivisions.] Service performed in the employ of any other state or any political subdivision thereof or any instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing which is wholly owned by one or more states or political subdivisions and any service performed in the employ of any instrumentality of one or more other states or their political subdivisions to the extent that the instrumentality is with respect to such service exempt under the Constitution of the United States from the tax imposed by section 1600 of the Federal Internal Revenue Code.

(17) Service performed by an individual for an employer as [an insurance agent or] a real estate salesman or [as an insurance solicitor or] as a real estate broker if all such service performed by such individual for such employer is performed for remuneration solely by way of commission or services performed by an individual as an unsalaried correspondent for a newspaper who receives no compensation or compensation only for copy accepted for publication.

Amend Section 1 (Sec. 4) page 11 by inserting between lines 26 and 27 the following:

(20) Notwithstanding any of the other provisions of this subsection services shall be deemed to be in employment if with respect to such services a tax is required to be paid under any Federal law imposing a tax against which credit may be taken for contributions required to be paid into a State Unemployment Compensation Fund.

Amend Section 1 (Sec. 4) page 14, lines 22 to 29 inclusive by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Section 1 (Sec. 4) page 15, lines 1 to 10 inclusive by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

[(s)] (u) "Total Unemployment", [An individual shall be deemed totally unemployed with respect (1) to any week during which he performs no services for which remuneration is paid or payable to him or (2) to any week less than fulltime work if the remuneration paid or payable to him does not exceed three dollars ($3.00).] means the total lack of any employment or wages payable on any day including employment not subject to this act.

* * * * *

Amend Section 1 (Sec. 4) page 18, lines 5 to 8 inclusive by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

[(v)] (z) "Week" means any calendar week ending at midnight Saturday or [the equivalent thereof as determined in accordance with general rules adopted by the department] any seven consecutive calendar days or each accumulation of four effective days which need not be consecutive.

* * * * *

[(w)] (z.1) "Effective day" means a full day of total unemployment provided such day falls within a week in which an employe had four or more days of total unemployment and provided further that only those days of total unemployment in excess of three days within such week shall be deemed "effective days" An employe who is employed on a shift continuing through midnight shall be deemed to have been employed only on the day beginning before midnight with respect to such shift.

Amend Section 8 (Sec. 401) page 38, lines 13 to 16 inclusive by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(a) [Has within his base year been paid wages of fifty dollars in each of two separate calendar quarters during his base year.] Has during his base period been paid wages equal to not less than the amount appearing in column "C" of the table in section four hundred four of the line on which in column "B" of that table appears his weekly benefit rate. Provided, however; That an unemployed individual who has paid wages for more than one calendar quarter of his base period but who has not been paid wages in an amount equal to the amount appearing in column "C" of the table in section four hundred four thereof on the line in which in column "B" there appears his weekly benefit rate but has been paid an amount of wages equal to or greater than the amount appearing in column "C" of the table on the line immediately above the line on which appears his weekly benefit rate shall be deemed to have qualified for the weekly benefit rate and the maximum total benfits in the benefit year appearing on the line in the table immediately above the line in which falls the wages paid in the highest quarter of his base period.

Amend Section 8, (Sec. 401) page 39, line 7 by inserting after the word "and" the following:

Provided, however, That subject to such limitations and conditions as the department may prescribe an unemployed individual shall not be ineligible by reasons of unavailability for work during a period of vocational training in a vocactional training program maintained by a Federal, State or other public agency when his unavailability is due solely to requirements with respect to attendance at and completion of such training and

Amend Section 9 (Sec. 402) page 40, line 6 by inserting after the word "week" the following: "or accumulation of four effective days or waiting period credit for any week"; Amend Section 9 (Sec. 402) page 41, line 24 by striking out the word "fourth" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "third"; Amend Section 9 (Sec. 402) page 42, lines 13, 14 and 15 by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Section 10 (Sec. 404) page 42, lines 21 to 29 inclusive by striking out the words "Rate and Amount of Compensation. Com-" in line 21, all of lines 22 to 29 inclusive; Amend Section 10 (Sec. 404) page 43, lines 1 to 29 inclusive by striking out all of said lines; Amend Section 10 (Sec. 404) page 44, lines 1 to 28 inclusive by striking out all of said lines; Amend Section 10 (Sec. 404) page 45, lines 1 to 26 inclusive by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Rate and Amount of Compensation.—Compensation shall be paid with respect to each eligible employe whose benefit year began prior to June first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-three, in accordance with the provisions of this act prior to that date, and with respect to each eligible employe whose benefit year begins subsequent to May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-three, and who is totally unemployed and is not disqualified under any provisions of this act, at a weekly rate and for a number of weeks to be determined in accordance with the following provisions by reference to Table 1, if the balance in the Unemployment Compensation Fund is in excess of one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation during any twelve consecutive months, or to Table II, if the balance in said fund is equal to or less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation during any twelve consecutive months as set forth in the tables in this section.

(a) The employe's weekly benefit rate shall be that rate which appears in "PART B" and which is on the same horizontal line in "PART A" as the interval which includes his "highest quarterly wage."

(d) The "highest wages" of an employe shall be the total wages (computed to the nearest dollar) which were paid to such employe in that calendar quarter in which such total wages were highest during the base year."

(e) The maximum number of weeks for which an employe may receive compensation for total unemployment during a benefit year shall be the number of weeks which appears at the top of a column under "PART C", to be ascertained by locating on the same horizontal line on which his weekly benefit rate appears the interval which includes the total wages paid to him during his base year.)

Amend Section 10 (Sec. 404) page 50, lines 1 to 20 inclusive by striking out all of said lines; Amend Section 10 (Sec. 404) page 51, lines 1 to 20 inclusive by striking out all of said lines, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Rate and Amount of Compensation. Compensation shall be paid with respect to each eligible employee whose benefit year began prior to June first one thousand nine hundred forty-five in accordance with the provisions of this act prior to that date and with respect to each employee whose benefit year begins subsequent to May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-five in accordance with the following provisions of this subsection.

(a) The employee's weekly benefit rate shall be the amount appearing in Column "B" in the table in this subsection on the line on which in Column "A" of such table there appears the total wages paid to such individual in that quarter of his base period in which such total wages were highest.

Column A Wages paid in highest quarter of base period	Column B weekly benefit rate	Column C Qualifying wages in base period	Column D Maximum total benefits in benefit year

(b) Weekly Benefit for Unemployment—Each eligible individual who is totally unemployed with respect to any week shall be paid with respect to such week a benefit in an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate.

(c) Duration of Benefits—Any otherwise eligible individual shall be entitled during any benefit year to the amount appearing in Column "D" of the table in this section on the line on which in Column "B" of that table appears his weekly benefit rate.

Amend the bill, page 63 by inserting between lines 6 and 7 the following:

Section 17. Sections five hundred one, five hundred four and five hundred five of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-two, (Pamphlet Laws 60) are hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 501. Initial Determination of Compensation Appeals. The Department shall promptly examine any application for benefits or claim filed and on the basis of the facts found by it shall determine whether or not the application for benefits or claim is valid. The determination of any application for benefits shall include the determination of the first day of the benefit year the [weekly] benefit rate and the number of benefit weeks or accumulations of four effective days payable. The claimant and other affected parties shall be promptly notified of the decision and the reasons therefor in writing except that no notification shall be necessary when the department shall approve a claim for a week of total unemployment. Unless the claimant or other affected parties files an appeal from such decision with the board within ten calendar days after such notification was delivered to him personally or was mailed to his last known post office address and applies for a hearing such decision of the department shall be final and compensation shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith. In the event that an appeal is filed with the board the payment of any contested amount of compensation shall be withheld pending determination of the claim, but any uncontested amount of compensation allowed in any decision shall be paid notwithstanding any appeal which may thereafter be taken. Provided, That when a referee or the board affirms a decision of the department allowing compensation such compensation shall be paid notwithstanding any further appeal.

Section 504. Powers of Board Over Claims.—The board shall have power on its own motion or on appeal to remove transfer or review any claim pending before or decided by a referee and in any such case and in cases where a further appeal is allowed by the board from the decision of a referee may affirm, modify or revise the determination or revised determination as the case may be of the department or referee on the basis of the evidence previously submitted in the case or direct the taking of additional evidence. When any claim pending before a referee is removed or transferred to the board, the board shall afford the claimant person designated by him and all other affected parties, reasonable opportunity for a fair hearing. The parties shall be duly notified of the board's final decision and the reasons therefor. A complete record shall be kept of each case heard before the board. All testimony at any hearing before the board, whether on appeal or otherwise, shall be taken by a reporter, but need not be transcribed unless the disputed claim is further appealed.

Section 505. Rules of Procedure.—The manner in which appeals shall be taken, the reports thereon required from the department, the claimant and employers and the conduct of hearings and appeals shall be in accordance with rules of procedure prescribed by the board, whether or not such rules conform to common law or statutory rules of evidence and other technical rules of procedure.

When the same or substantially similar evidence is relevant and material to the matter in issue in applications and claims filed by more than one individual or in multiple applications and claims filed by a single individual, the same time and place for considering each such application and claim may be fixed, hearing thereon jointly conducted, a single record of the proceedings made and evidence introduced with respect to any application or claim considered as introduced with respect to all of such applications or claims. Provided, That in the judgment of the board or referee having jurisdiction of the proceeding such consideration will not be prejudical to any party, and Provided further; That the board shall afford the claimant person designated by him and all other affected parties, a reasonable opportunity for a fair hearing which shall be public, and wherein all evidence shall be taken under oath or affirmation.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The amendments have been read. What is the pleasure of the Senate?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, before these amendments are voted upon I would like to acquaint the Senate with their contents and their relationship to the bill before us.

Under the amendments that we offer we ask for the same total week benefits as recommended by the Council of State Governments. I need not go into the make-up of the Council of State Governments, except to say that it represents the progressive thinking of all the state governments of the United States.

We are faced with a problem as a state government whereby there is some danger, because of the inability of the various states to agree upon benefit payments, benefit weeks, and various other phases of unemployment compensation that the federal government is contemplating—and I think every one of us should face the issue squarely, the complete taking over of unemployment compensation, because the federal government recognizes unemployment compensation for what is really is. It is not a problem of a specific state; it is a problem dealing with the welfare of the entire nation, aimed at building up buying power or consumer power during periods of depressed earnings, caused by fluctuations in markets, consumption, employment and earnings.

We also ask in these amendments for a 26 week benefit payment period as recommended by representatives of all the states of the union, through the Council of State Governments, namely, 26 weeks of benefits.

We also ask in these amendments that the duration period be uniform and that payments be made over the entire period of the weekly benefit period. Already seventeen states have uniform duration periods, and I again mention our neighboring and, if you please, our competing states for industry and for labor—New York and Ohio. Along the eastern seacoast we have Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, states that many men do not place in their minds as progressive states, and yet they are far ahead of Pennsylvania in their planning for unemployment compensation.

We ask for a minimum of $10 a week. We have in the United States many states, of which I will name a few—New York, Michigan, California, Orgeon, that are paying a $10 minimum now. Are we any lesser state than they are? Indeed not. That might interest you.

The Federal Social Security report for December, 1944, places the national weekly average of unemployment compensation at $16.45, as compared with Pennsylvania's weekly average of $15.42. That figure is not astounding in itself, until you go back of the figure and take into consideration the many low rate states, agricultural states, mid-western beef-raising states, and so forth, take them into consideration and figure how that breaks the national average down, and yet that national average is higher than Pennsylvania's average in unemployment compensation.

Over half the employes of Pennsylvania that were unemployed, up to the present time, have exhausted their weekly payments before their unemployment period was up, before they had returned to work. That defeats in itself the entire purpose of unemployment compensation.

The greatest argument that we find with your present bill, and one that we wish to amend and correct by these amendments, is the payments for partials. We advocate, in a state composed of the industries that Pennsylvania is composed of, the day base plan. We feel that unemployment compensation on a partial basis ought to be based entirely upon the number of days lost, and not upon the earnings lost. The reason I say that is because we have some industries, particularly coal mining and steel, our basic industries, which have a high daily wage, and yet at the end of the year the number of days where they have been employed does not compare with a lower rate industry, and so a person who is employed in these industries, although his employer is paying into the fund, receives no benefits or very few benefits, as compared to those who are employed in low base pay industries.

We feel that the coal miner and the steel worker and the coal operator and steel works operator are being cheated by the provisions of the bill now before us, and therefore wish to amend the bill to contain within its contents the day base plan, rather than the loss of wage plan.

We would also like to include in this bill an extended coverage. This has been suggested to the federal government, and in all probability will be accepted by the federal government before many days have passed. The extension provided would include all who might be covered by congressional extension of the Federal Social Security Act. Is there anything unfair or unreasonable about a proposal like that? If the federal government extends the coverage of the act, should we not in Pennsylvania also extend the coverage to accept the responsibility for those that the federal government sets up as being reasonably entitled to the benefits?

The War Manpower Commission, on January 5, 1945, which is recent and ought to be fresh in our minds, reported that more than 32,000 industrial establishments, an all-time record, are now participating in organized apprenticeship programs officially registered with the Apprentice Training Service of the War Manpower Commission's Bureau of Training.

We recommend, and introduce amendments to take care of the training period when employes now employed in specific jobs in war production will be retained to enter peace-time jobs. You say "well, they will be in employment or they will be in school; why should we compensate them?" Because you must go back to the basic principle behind unemployment compensation, and that is to keep buying consumer power up so that no depression hits us again. The minute that consumer buying power drops in America, wages drop, employment drops further, and we find ourselves in the bottomless pit of a depression. We have gone through that once in my lifetime; I hope we never have to go through it again.

The Federal Social Security Board recommends $25 a week. Employers in Pennsylvania, in meetings this summer, determined that $20 a week would be the maximum. So we find before us an employers' bill which calls for $20 a week. Labor, in its willingness to cooperate, has not asked for $25, as has been recommended by the Federal Social Security Board, nor does it accept the $20 as recommended by industry, but asks a compromise or medium increase to $22 a week, which would compare with our requests on workmen's compensation and occupational disease compensation.

The Director of the Bureau of Employment Security of the Federal Social Security Board, considering the dangerous factors during reconversion which may bring about a serious business slump, says, and I quote: "In a period of violent economic change there are many chances that one thing or another may go wrong, thus bringing about a setback. It would be prudent for the nation to be prepared for such an eventuality."

We feel in Pennsylvania that although we condemn the federal government, we know that if our unemployment compensation payments are not sufficient to take care of the situation in Pennsylvania, that we will appeal to the federal Congress and we will receive federal aid in one hand and condemn them with another. That is why we pass an inadequate bill. Unemployment compensation aims to insure industry and business against breakdown, or to jack them up when breakdowns occur. Like all insurers, you pay in good times to take care of bad times. To do its job fully, the insurance fund should be large enough to cover the possible loss.

I will not go into the amount of money that has been lost to the fund, during this war period, by the passage of the so-called merit rating plan, but I assure you that Pennsylvania industry did not save any money, because most of Pennsylvania's industry was in the high-bracket income class, and the amount that could have been paid into our fund to take care of eventualities has been paid to the federal government in taxes. Those of you who were here will remember in 1941 and 1943 I made an observation about the dam with water piled up behind it and letting it flow over the top rather than pulling the spigot out from under it. Unemployment compensation is insurance to provide consumer purchasing power. I have covered that, and I know you know that is a it is, and unless we in Pennsylvania—and I have repeate this warning since the first days of the passage of this bill—unless we in Pennsylvania are big enough to accept that philosophy behind the passage of this bill, we will find this act federalized and the entire administration taken out of our hands, because the federal government had to pay the bill when the states broke down and fell down during the depression, and they are going to make sure of that now, I am sure, so that when we come to that period of reconversion we will not again be placed in the same position.

I call upon the members of the Senate to vote for these amendments. No amount of argument or logic on my part will convince some of you as to the right of the amendments that I have introduced. The justice that I appeal for stems from your willingness to do good. Your knowledge of the problem should be based entirely upon the facts as they presented themselves in the past history of unemployment compensation and in the doubtful future that we face. You can pass this bill as it is, or you can go further and amend it so that we in Pennsylvania will always have at our beck and call a ready market of trained, skilled, intelligent labor, which will seek to come to Pennsylvania because we in Pennsylvania deal justly with the men who work for a living.

I ask my colleagues on both sides to vote in favor of these amendments.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, the Senator from Westmoreland would have you think the Senators on this side of the chamber are a lot of corrupt scoundrels. He talks about this bill being an employers' bill, but, Mr. President, I deny that. This bill largely is the result of a two-year study by members of this Senate, Mr. President, from both sides. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. President, talks about increased benefits and a plan for partial compensation, and in that connection I would like, if I may, Mr. President, to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland for one moment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Delaware will proceed.

Mr. HEYBURN. Does the gentleman from Westmoreland have any estimate as to how much money may be withdrawn from the fund in the first year after the war, as a result of his amendments? Does the gentleman from Westmoreland have any figures on that?

Mr. DENT. I would say, Mr. President, that it will amount to $2 a week per man more than the amount withdrawn if you pass your bill.

Mr. HEYBURN. I am talking about the total amount of money.

Mr. DENT. If the Senator will give me the total amount that will be needed by his bill, I will give him the total amount needed by mine.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, that is rather an unsatisfactory answer. I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will.

Mr. HEYBURN. The gentleman from Westmoreland talked about a day base plan for partial unemployment compensation benefits as being far superior to the loss-of-earnings plan. I am wondering if the gentleman from Westmoreland can tell me how many states there are in the union that use the day base plan.

Mr DENT. The only one that I know of is a state that is comparable to ours, New York.

Mr. HEYBURN. That is it, Mr. President; that is the only state in the Union, New York, the only one, that uses the day base plan as outlined by the Senator from Westmoreland. Yet he says all the comparable industrial states in the union use this day base plan. I humbly submit, Mr. President, that the gentleman proposes a rate of benefits here and, frankly he has not given enough study to it, I do not think. I think he has taken this bill and upped the benefits all the way along the line and has not given much thought as to what might happen to the fund. Mr. President, we are trustees for this fund here in Pennsylvania, we legislators. After the war Mr. President, during the retooling era here in Pennsylvania, a million people probably will be out of work temporarily, and they have all been making good wages and are entitled to top benefits. Take 26 weeks at $22 a week, times a million, and you will find $572,000,000 withdrawn from the fund in the first year possibly, and now the balance in the fund is between $580,000,000 and $600,000,000, so you can see the danger of adopting the amendments of the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent.

The gentleman from Westmoreland talks about this being an employers' bill, Mr. President. I humbly submit that is not the case, but that unemployment compensation in Pennsylvania has been gradually liberalized all along the line, down through the years, and now compares with other industrial states of the union, if you look at the whole act, and in a great many respects is superior to comparable industrial states of the union.

For instance, Mr. President, we started at a maximum of $15 per week, which was raised to $18 per week, and this bill proposes to raise it to $20 a week. At first we paid benefits for 13 weeks, a couple of years ago; that was raised to 16 weeks; this bill proposes to raise it to 20 weeks.

The waiting period, Mr. President, a few years ago, was three weeks; then it was reduced to two, and now it is proposed to reduce it to one.

Mr. President, this bill proposes to pay benefits for partial unemployment to workers in the Commonwealth who do not make full-time during slack periods of employment. The method set up is this, Mr. President, that the wage earner gets that difference between what he actually makes and what he would have gotten on unemployment compensation, plus $3. That is a much more liberal provision than you will find in a great many states in the union. It guarantees to the worker a fixed stated income

I submit, Mr. President, this is one of the best unemployment compensation acts—It will be when it has passed—that there is in existence in the United States of America, taking it all in all, looking at it from top to bottom.

The gentleman from Westmoreland talked about federal definitions, and I think he must know we have always kept up to the federal act as far as definitions concerning employment and unemployment are concerned, and this bill at present is in exact conformity with the federal act. If and when the federal act is changed, Mr. President, I am sure this legislature can likewise make changes. To be out of conformity, Mr. President, causes confusion and does no one any good.

I think that this bill, Mr. President, is worthy of the support of all the liberal-minded, clear-thinking people in the Commonwealth.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President that was quite a long interrogation and I stood here patiently trying to correlate an answer.

The gentleman from Delaware figures along different lines than I do; he totals up the 26 weeks that we ask for and the $22 we ask for and then lays before the Senate an enormous sum of money. I figure along a different line; I take only the $2 a week we ask for, more than you ask for, and figure on the basis of a million employes, and I do not know where the gentlemon from Delaware got that figure, because surely I for one will not try to estimate the figure on unemployment and say one million people will be unemployed for a total of 26 weeks and they will receive $2 more per week than you propose to give them, if you pass my amendments, but under my simple arithmetic that would be $52,000,000, which is, incidentally, a lot less than was lost to the fund by you, the custodians of the fund, when you passed merit rating for the General Electric Company and other interested persons in Pennsylvania, who demanded the passage of the Texas plan in Pennsylvania, a purely industrial state, as compared to Texas.

I argued the point then and I argue it now, that certainly you can not increase benefits—I told you when you passed the merit rating plan that your argument would be that you would deplete the fund by the passage of increased benefits—harken back to the same argument I gave you concerning workmen's compensation—you made the premiums high enough so that benefits were kept low, simply because somewhere in Pennsylvania the great little tin god of insurance, Joseph Grundy, dictated how much should be paid by the employer and how much should be paid to the employe.

You come right back to the same argument on unemployment compensation. If you would have left the tax as it was, if you would have left the tax in the reasonable bracket it was in, you would have today a fund in Pennsylvania that could have taken the entire amount recommended by the Federal Social Security Board, rather than merely the $22 a week that we ask.

When you talk to me about $22 and say you have to multiply that by 26 weeks, and further multiply by a million, you fail to realize that out of 26 weeks, you are giving $20 of that $22, for twenty weeks, and therefore the increase we ask for is 6 weeks, times $2, times a million, which is $12,000,000 more than you are giving right now.

Maybe there is something wrong with my mathematical figures; maybe I do not know exactly what the gentleman from Delaware is driving at, but I do know this, that when hearings on unemployment compensation were held by the committee that was studying this problam, we were all set one day to pass merit rating until industry was acquainted that day with the results of the passage of merit rating, and it was defeated at the time, and then later, by persuasion and other methods best known to the people who engineered passage of the amendments, industry acceded to the demands and passed a merit rating plan about which I said then, and predict now, that Pennsylvania will rue the day. We are not the type of state that can make fish out of one and fowl out of another. We have a state that is composed of many industries, and they have seasonal occupation and employment. Right now industry is very well satisfied with the reductions they have received. Of course, maybe some blind leaders in industry fail to realize that the percentage they are saving in Pennsylvania is paid to the federal government, either in toto or in major part, and therefore the saving is nil to industry, yet the time will come when industry in Pennsylvania, because of cutbacks and because of returning to normalcy in production of goods that they produced prior to this extended position that we are in today, will suffer the consequence of their folly in advocating and allowing passage of their so-called merit rating plan.

Yes, you say that this is an improvement, and I repeat anything is an improvement—if you have one slice of bread to feed three, and you get one and a half slices of bread to feed three, that is an improvement, but it is still not enough bread for three.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I am not going to prolong this argument but as to the gentleman's figures, as far as benefits are concerned, there is a vast difference, much more than any $12,000,000, because if the gentleman takes a pencil and figures it out he will find there is $172,000,000 difference in one year, Mr. President, between his rate of benefits and the rate in this bill.

Mr. President, I want to say just one thing about experience rating When experience rating was adopted by this Legislature it was more or less made necessary by the fact that competing states had merit rating and without it, Mr. President, Pennsylvania industry could not have competed, and to have done otherwise than adopt this experience rating amendment would have caused tremendous unemployment in the Commonwealth

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Messrs. DENT, GOURLEY, and HALUSKA offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1 (Sec. 4) page 6, line 12, by inserting light face brackets before and after the word and figur "twenty (20)" and inserting immediately thereafter th following: "one or more"; Amend Section 1 (Sec. 4) Pag 6, lines 12 and 13 by striking out the words, "each da being in a different calendar week"; Amend Section (Sec. 4) page 10, by inserting after line 29 the following

Messrs. DENT, GOURLEY and HALUSKA offered the following amendments:

Amend the bill, page 63 by inserting between lines 6 and 7 the following:

Section 17. Sections five hundred one, five hundred four and five hundred five of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-two, (Pamphlet Laws 60) are hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 501. Initial Determination of Compensation Appeals. The Department shall promptly examine any application for benefits or claim filed and on the basis of the facts found by it shall determine whether or not the application for benefits or claim is valid. The determination of any application for benefits shall include the determination of the first day of the benefit year the [weekly] benefit rate and the number of benefit weeks or accumulations of four effective days payable. The claimant and other affected parties shall be promptly notified of the decision and the reasons therefor in writing except that no notification shall be necessary when the department shall approve a claim for a week of total unemployment. Unless the claimant or other affected parties files an appeal from such decision with the board within ten calendar days after such notification was delivered to him personally or was mailed to his last known post office address and applies for a hearing such decision of the department shall be final and compensation shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith. In the event that an appeal is filed with the board the payment of any contested amount of compensation shall be withheld pending determination of the claim, but any uncontested amount of compensation allowed in any decision shall be paid notwithstanding any appeal which may thereafter be taken. Provided, That when a referee or the board affirms a decision of the department allowing compensation such compensation shall be paid notwithstanding any further appeal.

Section 504. Powers of Board Over Claims—The board shall have power on its own motion or on appeal to remove transfer or review any claim pending before or decided by a referee and in any such case and in cases where a further appeal is allowed by the board from the decision of a referee may affirm, modify or revise the determination or revised determination as the case may be of the department or referee on the basis of the evidence previously submitted in the case or direct the taking of additional evidence. When any claim pending before a referee is removed or transferred to the board, the board shall afford the claimant person designated by him and all other affected parties, reasonable opportunity for a fair hearing. The parties shall be duly notified of the board's final decision and the reasons therefor. A complete record shall be kept of each case heard before the board. All testimony at any hearing before the board, whether on appeal or otherwise, shall be taken by a reporter, but need not be transcribed unless the disputed claim is further appealed.

Section 505. Rules of Procedure—The manner in which appeals shall be taken, the reports thereon required from the department, the claimant and employers and the conduct of hearings and appeals shall be in accordance with rules of procedure prescribed by the board, whether or not such rules conform to common law or statutory rules of evidence and other technical rules of procedure.

When the same or substantially similar evidence is relevant and material to the matter in issue in applications and claims filed by more than one individual or in multiple applications and claims filed by a single individual, the same time and place for considering each such application and claim may be fixed, hearing thereon jointly conducted, a single record of the proceedings made and evidence introduced with respect to any application or claim considered as introduced with respect to all of such applications or claims. Provided, That in the judgment of the board or referee having jurisdiction of the proceeding such consideration will not be prejudical to any party, and Provided further; That the board shall afford the claimant person designated by him and all other affected parties, a reasonable opportunity for a fair hearings which shall be public, and wherein all evidence shall be taken under oath or affirmation.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I have no objection to this bill going over in its order, but I would like it to come up tomorrow for action. This is a harmless bill. This is a bill that Senator Jaspan, at his request and my request, investigated with the registration commissioners of Philadelphia, which is composed of three Republicans and two Democrats, and this bill is necessary to make certain minor changes. I have no objection to it going over in order today, but I would like to have it come up for final passage tomorrow.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection to House Bill No. 1082 going over in its order? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1170, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the installation of an electric roll call system in the Hall of the House of Representatives

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Property and Supplies for the purpose of purchasing an electric roll call system and installing the same in the Hall of the House of Representatives

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in my opinion, passage of this bill would be a confession of weakness. It admits that the House must resort to an electrical roll call system in order to eliminate its turbulence and constant flux.

I recall a passage from European literature about a gentleman of leisure who envisioned the millennium, when cakes would grow on trees, and he expressed the wish that the cakes should fall from the trees into sour cream, turn over therein and then leap into the dreamer's mouth.

House Bill No. 1170 will completely atrophize the legislative process in the House and will transform the expression of the citizenry of Pennsylvania into the work of robots.

Mr. President, in my opinion, the installation of an electrical roll call system in the House will remove the last vestiges of dignity from the legislative halls of Pennsylvania. I can hardly visualize how this electrical roll call system will be erected against the background of those magnificant murals.

These are two beautiful chambers that we have in the State Capitol, each one cast into a different blending of colors, each one symbolic of its membership. The Senate is cast in green, cool, placid and quiet; the House is pinkish, turbulent and always on the go.

I would rather have it preserved that way, because in the House when two hundred and eight State Representatives express their wishes, the people of Pennsylvania want to hear them cast their ballots in a loud voice, and I believe that we should cling to the old system and not waste money on unnecessary mechanical devices.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, last week over in the House there was a bill stolen through. I do not know whether this electric robot system, as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, calls it, will stop the stealing of bills through. I am convinced, the way they operate over there now, if they can steal a bill through, I do not know what they would do with about a hundred fellows operating an electric system. I can not vote for a bill like this. I will have more to say about the bill that was stolen through when it comes before us in the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 717, entitled:

An Act authorizing the playing of certain sports on Sunday after certain hours where the electors of a municipality or township vote in favor of the same; providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors; prescribing penalties; and repealing inconsistent laws.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, this bill provides for a referendum providing for the staging of ice-skating exhibitions and ice-hockey games after two p. m. on Sunday. I believe that any bill placing this subject before the public at the polls should have some merit. For a number of years I have been interested in such bills, especially one permitting bowling on Sundays, and therefore give those people the same right who believe in bowling on Sunday. In order to decide this issue at the polls I offer the following amendments, which consist of adding only one word to the entire bill, the word "bowling"; it appears eighteen times, and with permission of the Chair it may be read only once and it will answer the entire question.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I object to the introduction of amendments by the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska. If the gentleman wants to include bowling, let him introduce his own bill. This bill deals entirely with ice skating, ice hockey and ice exhibitions and has nothing to do with bowling, and I object to introduction of the amendments.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I certainly feel sorry the gentleman from Monroe objects to the amendments being read. However, he has no choice because the amendments must be read and voted upon; then he may object, but he certainly can not stop them from being read.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Cambria is correct.

Mr. HALUSKA offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 2, page 1, line 6, by adding at the end of the line the word "bowling"; Amend Section 2, page 2, line 7 by inserting after the word "of" the word "bowling".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HALUSKA and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—12

Barr,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Coleman,	Holland,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Gourley,	Jaspan,	Rosenfeld,	Woodring,

NAYS—28

Becker,	Crowe,	Kephart,	Thomas,
Berger,	Ealy,	Letzler,	Troutman,
Blass,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Tyler,
Bowers,	Geltz,	Scarlett,	Wade,
Carr,	Heyburn,	Snowden,	Wagner,
Chapman,	Homsher,	Stevenson,	Wilson,
Crider,	Jones,	Taylor,	Walker,
			Presiding Officer

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the Section?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, since my first amendment has been defeated, and in view of the fact that the seventeen remaining amendments deal with the same subject, in order to save time I will withdraw the balance of my amendments and save the gentleman from Philadelphia the trouble of looking up the Constitution.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I desire to explain my vote. Section 3, Article 3 of the Constitution provides as follows: "No bill, except general appropriation bills, shall be passed containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title."

To add bowling to this bill would make it contain two subjects. I am in accord with the idea of the gentleman from Cambria, and I do not want the impression to be gotten that I am not, but I do not want to have this bill spoiled by having two subjects in it.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, will have to convince me that skating and bowling are not the same subject—they are both sports.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair advises the gentleman from Allegheny that they are not the same sport—you make one with the hand and the other with the feet.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. CROWE offered the following amendment:

Amend page 2, section 2, line 19, by striking out after the word "summary" and before the word "be", the word: "[proceedings]"; and insert in lieu thereof, the word: "proceeding".

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. CROWE offered the following amendment:

Amend page 3, section 3, line 7, by striking out after the word "preceding" and before the word "election," the word: "[general]"; and inserting in lieu thereof, the word: "municipal".

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. CROWE offered the following amendments:

Amend page 4, section 4, line 23, by striking out after the word "exhibitions" and before the word "ice", the word: "[or]", and inserting in lieu thereof, the word: "and"; Amend page 5, section 4, line 11, by striking out after the word "exhibitions" and before the word "ice", the word: "[or]"; Amend page 5, section 4, line 12, by striking out with bold face brackets after the word "games", and before the word "for", the following: "[or to conduct a rink or place]", and inserting in lieu thereof, the following: "and conducting rinks or places".

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fifth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. CROWE offered the following amendments:

Amend page 5, section 5, line 29, by striking out after the word "preceding" and before the word "municipal", the words: "[general or]"; Amend page 6, section 5, line 26, by inserting at the end of the line, after the word "such", the words: "ice skating"; Amend page 7, section 5, line 5, by inserting after the word "such" and before the word "ice", the words: "ice skating".

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The sixth and seventh sections were read and agreed to.

The eighth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. CROWE offered the following amendment:

Amend page 7, section 8, line 24, by striking out after the word "of" and before the word "and", the word: "[ice]", and inserting in lieu thereof, the word: "vice".

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The ninth section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 40 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I call from the table House Resolution No. 40, Serial No. 53.

INVESTIGATION OF THE GAME AND FISH COMMISSION

In the House of Representatives, March 19, 1945.

Since the organization of this General Assembly, the Game Commission and the Fish Commission have been the objects of adverse criticism and various resolutions have been introduced requesting investigations of the conduct of their work.

In his address to the General Assembly at the time of the convening of this session, His Excellency, The Governor, stated that the idea of "combining the two commissions had been suggested" which leads to the conclusion that others think that the game and fish situation in Pennsylvania could be improved.

The criticism of, and the abuse directed at these two commissions must have some basis, and even though the facts upon which that basis is constructed may be erroneous, it is still sufficient to raise a doubt as to the efficiency of those two very important parts of the State Government.

If the criticisms are justifiable, a change should be made. If they are not, then both commissions are entitled to the support of the General Assembly and to its stamp of approval.

For their protection and for a renewal of the faith of the people in the efficiency of the administration of these important commissions, a full investigation should be made; thereofore be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby requests the Joint State Government Commission to make a thorough investigation of the Game Commission and the Fish Commission of the Commonwealth, and of their manner of administering the laws of the Commonwealth relating to game and fish, of the manner of restocking the game and fish life, and of the establishing of closed seasons, and to study and make a comparison of the work and conduct of similar commissions or departments in other states, and to make a full and complete report of their study and investigation to the General Assembly not later than March 1, 1947, accompanied by such recommendations concerning any change in the administration of the matters now under the supervision and control of the Game Commission and the Fish Commission that they decide should be made.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution of the House?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

L. 317) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 The annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas of the first [and] fifth tenth eleventh thirty-second thirty-eighth and forty-fifth judicial districts shall be fourteen thousand dollars ($14,000)

The annual salary of each of the judges of the courts of common pleas learned in the law in judicial districts having a population of [more than two hundred and fifty thousand and less than one million inhabitants shall be twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) in judicial districts having a population of] one hundred thousand and more but less than two hundred and [fifty] eighty thousand inhabitants shall be twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) in judicial districts having a population of sixty-five thousand or more and less than one hundred thousand inhabitants shall be ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in judicial districts having a population of less than sixty-five thousand inhabitants shall be nine thousand dollars ($9,000) The amounts of the salaries to be paid under this paragraph in the respective judicial districts shall be determined and fixed according to the population of such districts as ascertained by reference from time to time to the last preceding decennial United States census

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately on final passage

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to do anything that hurts our poor judges. No doubt they believe they ought to receive more pay, but it does not seem right to give one or two judges in the State a raise when many other judges equally as good, perhaps deserve a raise too.

We have a rule, as I understand it, in the House, to the effect that anyone interested in a bill should not vote upon it, and inasmuch as practically every lawyer is interested to the extent that someday sooner or later the lightning may strike in his favor and he will become a judge, it seems to me that the lawyers ought to refrain under those circumstances from voting on this bill.

As a matter of fact, strangely as it may seem, all these judges' bills so far as I can judge or can ascertain are being advocated by lawyers, sponsored by lawyers. Now, the lawyers are fine men; we have some very fine lawyers in this House, and I do not want to say anything against them, but it does seem to me that they are directly interested in having the judges' salaries increased, and therefore they should refrain from voting. I propose to vote against this bill.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, this bill is on the calendar for the second time. The Members will recall that I refrained from making any remarks at the time it was voted upon previously, but after hearing Mr. Reagan suggest that lawyers should not vote on this bill because of a possible or potential interest I want to qualify by saying that I at the moment do not have any aspirations to occupy a judicial office.

The reason I am going to vote for this bill, which I did not state when it was before the House before, is simply this, I feel that in third class counties, and basing it on what we have in Montgomery County, which is one of the third class counties immediately adjacent to Philadelphia, the Philadelphia County Common Pleas Judges receive fourteen thousand dollars a year, and having appeared from time to time in Common Pleas Court in Philadelphia I feel that proportionately the judges of the Common Pleas Courts of Philadelphia County do not have any greater amount of work to do than the judges of Montgomery County, which is a third class county. Therefore I feel that I can conscientiously vote to give the judges of the third class counties, and particularly my county, the same salary that the judges of the Courts of Common Pleas receive in Philadelphia County.

Now, if Mr. Reagan feels that there are judges in other districts that are not being properly paid, possibly we are following the principle of beneficent spread, that is to say, if we can get a chunk of it for those who deserve it at this time in the third class counties maybe we can spread the cake a little deeper the next time.

Mr. ROBERTSON. I for one have a very high regard for the judiciary, and especially in the district in which I live. However, I think this bill is inopportune at this time simply for the main reason that I think the salary in these districts enumerated is sufficient, and second I think that the judges in those districts all oppose this measure, or at least a great majority of them. I believe as an attorney that the judges now are getting a sufficient salary in all those districts. I have heard no objections. The fact is that the presiding judge in my county told me personally that he strongly disapproved of this measure, and he felt that the great majority of all the judges covered by the bill also opposed it.

I think under those conditions it would be foolish for this House to go on and offer these judges an increase in salary when they themselves do not wish it. As far as I have been able to ascertain there were only two judges really that want this bill passed. One of them I believe lives in the so-called wealthy county. Now, if the standard of living in those counties is such that he cannot maintain the standard of living, he certainly can go back to practicing law.

I think in Wayne County, where Mr. Dix lives, Pike County, Wyoming, Lackawanna and Luzerne County, the judiciary there is absolutely satisfied. In some counties they might have a boat, or some hunting, following the hounds or go yachting, but in my county we still maintain the old method of following the hounds with a good old faithful shotgun.

I think the only thing for the House to do at the present time is to vote down this bill.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I feel that I must come to the defense of the Judges of Philadelphia County. The gentleman from Montgomery is quite right when he says that the judges of Montgomery County have as much work to do as the judges from Philadelphia County, but what he does forget is that first they have to live in Philadelphia, second they have to drink dirty water, third they have got to pay a wage tax.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Westmoreland state how many counties this bill affects?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, this bill affects five third class counties in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. DIX. Will the gentleman state how many counties there are in Pennsylvania?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether that question is relevant to the bill before us or not, but if the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, feels that I cannot remember my statistics from back in the school days—and that was some time ago—there were sixty-seven counties at that time, and I hope there are the same number today.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman is correct. The reason I asked that question was to show how unfair this bill is. This bill proposes to give the judges in five counties an increase of from two thousand to twenty-five hundred dollars and gives nothing to the other sixty-two counties of Pennsylvania.

I would further like to ask the gentleman if he considers it fair to increase the salaries of judges from two thousand to twenty-five hundred dollars when that increase alone is greater than the entire salary of the majority of the employees of the state of Pennsylvania?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is asking me whether this bill is fair or not. I want to answer the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, and state that if I thought it were not a fair bill I would not be a co-sponsor of it.

Mr. DIX. Then does the gentleman think it is fair to give the judges two thousand to twenty-five hundred dollars and the other employees around three hundred dollars, that is, employees of the state?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I feel that we are debating the bill before us, that is, House Bill 1124, and I feel that with the statistics that I have at hand I, together with my co-sponsor, am asking for a fair proposal from the Members of this House in the matter of an equalization bill relative to judges' salaries of third-class counties.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman on what basis does he ask for this increase of two thousand to twenty-five hundred dollars.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, in order to answer the gentleman specifically on that question, may I say that I base it in its entirety upon the number of Judges we have, the population of the counties that they are representing, and the amount of work they are turning out of our courts in third class counties.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, over on that side of the House they have a phrase "Let's be fair". Does the gentleman consider it fair to the other sixty-two counties to increase the salaries of the five counties and leave the others out of the picture entirely?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I would reiterate the words of the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Wood, in stating that if the gentleman thinks it is not fair he should introduce a bill that he thinks will be so in taking care of the other counties.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, why did not the gentleman consider all the judges at that time?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, may I inform the gentle-nan from Wayne, Mr. DIX, that such a bill was introduced in the Senate, and of course I was happily anticipating that bill's coming over to the House where I would have had the privilege and the distinct pleasure of voting in favor of it.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman kindly confine their nterrogations to the bill before the House.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I feel that all my questions were in regard to this bill. I would like to make a brief tatement.

Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to inflict upon this House ny so-called poetry, but over on the other side of the louse we have constantly heard during the past two or hree years the phrase "Let's be fair". I think it is appropriate at this time, inasmuch as I consider this bill very unfair to the rural judges and to the judges of ixty-two counties out of the sixty-seven, to read a few ines of verse which I composed not long ago. It is entitled "Let's Be Fair."

When upon life's field of action
You have won the richest prize,
Won it by the merest fraction,
Do not count yourself too wise;
Give some credit to another,
Let someone your victory share;
Just remember—He's your brother—
Let's be fair,
Let's be fair!

If there is some task worth doing,
And some friend has lent a hand,
When the final score is showing,
And the finish looks so grand;
Do not try to take all credit;
Let someone your victory share,
For the wisest men have said it,
Let's be fair,
Let's be fair!

When advantage could be taken
Of another's pain and grief;
When someone has been forsaken,
Just remember—life is brief!
Be a friend when friends are needed,
Go and bind his wounds with care,
Let him know someone has heeded—
Let's be fair,
Let's be fair!

If you find someone in trouble
As you follow down life's trail,
Do not make his burdens double
When he is about to fail;
Lend a hand, and do not censure,
Failure sometimes leads up-stair;
Life is but a great adventure,—
Let's be fair,
Let's be fair!

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended to take ay part in this debate because I felt that I gave arguents when this bill was formerly before the House at were unanswerable to anyone who had a proper nception of the judiciary, a conception of what were e responsibilities, a conception of fairness to men who ve a burden, and for whom we are only trying to sure an equalization.

I however am compelled to answer two or three things. I the first place, the gentleman from Union, Mr. Reagan, ked about the constitutional question, or the rule that a nan could not vote upon a measure in which he had a selfish interest. I did not take him seriously because if that were to be taken seriously there are a lot of farmers in this House who could not vote on farm bills, there are a lot of labor Members in the House who could not vote on labor bills, and there are a lot of insurance men in this House who could not vote on insurance bills.

If the proposition of personal interest were as remote to them as is the interest of the average lawyer in this question—which pertains to five counties—as this question is to the lawyers in this House, then I would say there is no question that ought to trouble the conscience of any Member of the House in voting on such measures. Of course, the rule does not apply in the way in which the gentleman from Union would make it seem to apply.

In the second place, the gentleman from Lackawanna has created or attempted to create the impression in this House that there are only two judges in favor of this bill. I want to say to this House that that is not correct. The gentleman is mistaken. The only complaint that I have heard in regard to this bill, as far as the third class counties are concerned, comes from one judge in Lackawanna County which the gentleman Mr. Robertson, represents. I have received communications both by letter and by telephone, not only from judges in the third class counties, but from other citizens in third class counties asking me to use my best efforts to see that this bill is passed. Only last night I was called upon the phone during the evening by a gentleman whom I did not know and from a part distant from my home, who asked me if there was anything that he could do to help the passage of this bill because he felt this bill ought to go over. I thought I ought to clarify that and set the record straight as far as this measure is concerned.

It seems to me that the gentleman from Wayne is not consistent. He says if we are seeking this for one set of counties it ought to apply to all of them. Well, just the other day I swallowed hard in voting on a bill to provide bridges in Wayne County. I did not hear Mr. Dix urging that all of us get on board and put our own county bridges into it. I didn't hear Mr. Dix in any loud voice urge that we all get on board and find out whether there were some bridges we could tack on to it. But no, he had a bill that pertained to Wayne County alone taking funds out of the State because of some need for bridges up in Wayne County. I like Wayne County. I happen to know something about Wayne County, and I feel that those bridges are necessary, not only to the people of Wayne County but to the public throughout the state generally. I have no objection and raise no question, but in view of the attitude of the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, who always seeks to be fair, I felt that the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, ought to have my support in the instance. So, Mr. Speaker, I feel that this—I won't use the word exactly that I might if it were not on the floor of this House, but it certainly is selfish, it certainly is a small viewpoint, it certainly is looking through the wrong end of the telescope, when you consider the proposition involving judges in the small counties where there is need for equalization. And then the gentleman stands back and says "If we can't get a piece of that cake, doggone it, there won't be any cake."

So I would like to repeat in answer to the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix—I have known him a long time, I have suffered with him at times and I have suffered because of him at times, and I would like therefore first to repeat to him—I never saw the time when the chickens came home to roost so soon as they did on this occasion, because he had the temerity to read what he says is a poem. I would admit for the sake of poetic license that it was what I would say is a jingle, but having respect for the learning of the gentleman from Wayne County, I would say this is a poem, and thus as night falls and as we gather here, the chickens certainly come home to roost in Wayne County.

Listen to this:

"When advantage could be taken
Of another's pain and grief;
When someone has been foresaken,
Just remember that life is brief."

Then listen to this:

"Be a friend when friends are needed,
Go and bind his wounds with care,
Let him know someone has heeded—
Let's be fair, let's be fair."

Then he goes on:

"If you find someone in trouble
As you follow down life's trail,
Do not make his burdens double
When he is about to fail;
Lend a hand, and do not censure,
Failure sometimes leads up-stairs;"

I don't know about that; I never knew failure to lead up-stairs. Then he continues :

"Life is but a great adventure—
Let's be fair,
Let's be fair!"

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I have no desire to prolong this debate or to read any more poetry, or jingles as my friend from Delaware has called it. However, inasmuch as he made a statement in regard to Wayne County I want to say this, that those bridges were destroyed by an act of God, and certainly the judges in Wayne County have not been destroyed by an act of God, and there is no reason, therefore, for an increase of two or three thousand dollars in their salaries, when other state employes have only been increased three hundred dollars. If this bill had come up increasing the salaries of the judges in Wayne County, two thousand or three thousand or even one thousand dollars I would be up on this floor not defending it but opposing it.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, it just occurred to me that we possibly have missed one main part of this bill, and that is that we are starting something when we begin to raise salaries for judges. I dislike very much to see the judges use it as a spear-head to raise the salaries of everybody that is looking for a raise in the state of Pennsylvania. I think the judges are the very ones who ought to refrain from getting a raise at this particular time.

We are now in the midst of a great war, and the question is not whether we will have some cake and whether we will be selfish and deny the other man some cake, but there are ten million men in this great army of ours, a great many boys getting not over fifty dollars a month, and many of them lawyers with a substantial practice who are making great sacrifices. They are not getting cake. Some of them are living on kegs of water and some of them live on rations and that is all they get. If we raise the salaries all around we are liable to start inflation in this country, and that is one of the things our great President was trying to avoid before he died. I think now we ought to make a decision and take a stand as to the situation we are in, at least so far as the judges are concerned so that when the boys return their salaries will at least buy a package of cigarettes.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, just to be consistent, I spoke against this bill the other day, and since Mr. Turner spoke then I think I am in a position to make a few remarks with reference to this bill.

All the members of the House heard what I said the other day, so I will not repeat that, but one thing I forgot to mention why I object to the bill. One reason for my objection is that the judges salaries are paid out of the State Treasury, and I object to the taxpayers of Indiana County paying an increase in judges salaries in other counties.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Messrs. Worley, Freed and Dix requested a verification of the roll.

The affidavit of two of the officers of such corporation limited partnership joint-stock association or company shall be attached to said report Such affidavit shall be in the form required by the Department of Revenue but shall state in addition to any other averments required by the department that with fidelity and according to the best of their knowledge and belief the affiants have estimated valued and appraised as shown in said report the capital stock of the said corporation at its actual value in cash as it existed at the close of the year for which report is made [not less however than] taking into consideration first the average which said stock sold for during the year and second the price or value indicated or measured by net earnings or by the amount of profit made and either declared in dividends expended in betterments or carried into the surplus or sinking fund and third the actual value indicated or measured by consideration of the intrinsic value of its tangible property and assets and of the value of its good will and franchises and privileges as indicated by the material results of their exercise taking also into consideration the amount of its indebtedness

The time for filing reports may be extended taxpayers may be permitted to file their reports on a fiscal year basis the procedure in case the Department of Revenue is not satisfied with the appraisement made by the officers of the taxpayer and the penalties for failing to file reports and pay taxes shall be as prescribed by law

Section 2 Section twenty-one of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 762) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 21 (a) That every domestic corporation other than corporations of the first class nonprofit corporation and cooperative agricultural associations not having capital stock and not conducted for profit and every joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a tax at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred as ascertained in the manner prescribed in said twentieth section Provided That nothing herein contained shall apply to the taxation of capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes which is invested in and actually and exclusively employed in carrying on manufacturing within the State excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors and such as enjoy and exercise the right of eminent domain but every corporation limited partnership or joint-stock association organized for the purpose of manufacturing shall pay the State tax of five mills herein provided upon such proportion of its capital stock if any as may be invested in any property or business not strictly incident or appurtenant to the manufacturing business in addition to the local taxes assessed upon its property in the district where located it being the object of this proviso to relieve from State taxation only so much of the capital stock as is invested purely in the manufacturing plant and business

(b) Every foreign corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a franchise tax at the rate of five mills upon a taxable value to be determined in the following manner The actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred shall be ascertained in the manner prescribed in the twentieth section of this act and shall then be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the taxpayer's tangible property not actually and exclusively used in manufacturing situated within the Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the taxpayer's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of another third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes not exclusively engaged in manufacturing in this Commonwealth and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to all its employes

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business not strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing in this Commonwealth assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business

The sum of the amounts determined in accordance with the foregoing three rules shall be the taxable value In a case where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remaining third equal part of the value of the entire capital stock shall be divided into two equal parts each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable that part of the entire capital stock attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other cocmpensation of employes not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business owned or rented by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year [from (1) sales fees and commissions] except those negotiated or affected in behalf of the taxpayer by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business [owned or rented] maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth and except rents and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributed to the business conducted on premises [owned or rented] maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a taxpayer maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the Department of Revenue shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the taxpayer to the business conducted at such place of business in another state

In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the state of Pennsylvania but performed outside the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case of construction contracts negotiated or affected at an office outside the state but purformed in the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable to the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the state under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the taxpayer are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

(c) It shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officers having charge of any such corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership upon which a tax is imposed by this section to transmit the amount of said tax to the Treasury of the Commonwealth within the time prescribed by law Provided That for the purposes of this act interest in limited partnerships or joint-stock associations shall be deemed to be capital stock and taxable accordingly Provided further That corporations limited partnerships and joint--stock associations liable to a tax under this section shall not be required to pay any further tax on the mortgages bonds and other securities owned by them and in which the whole body of stockholders or members as such have the entire equitable interest in remainder but corporations limited partnerships and jointstock associations owning or holding such securities as trustees executors administrators administrators guardians or in any other manner than for the whole body of stockholders or members thereof as sole equitable owners in remainder shall return and pay the tax imposed by this act upon all securities so owned or held by them as in the case of individuals Provided further That the tax of five mills imposed by this section on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty--six and for each calendar year thereafter or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each fiscal year thereafter shall apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock asso-

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PARLIMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of rliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. COHEN. Do I understand, Mr. Speaker, that we a now preceding under the suspension of Rule 57 for t purpose of taking up appropriation bills for charitable titutions?

The SPEAKER. That motion was agreed to unanimously.

Mr. COHEN. Do I understand then, Mr. Speaker, that w are now considering appropriation bills for a charitable titution at this time?

The SPEAKER. We are entering the third reading calendar in its regular order.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in proper discussion of this bl we should have the ground work of an expert's viewpnt, possibly that of a public accountant, and I would a the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Root, who possily does not mind the advertising, to answer some questions I have, if he will permit himself to be interrated.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia rmit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROOT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the gentleman ll his attention to page 4 of the bill. I ask him to plain to us in non-accounting, but simple language, t what factors under the present law are used to demine the conputing of the Capital Stock tax in Pennvania.

Mr. ROOT. Mr. Speaker, the market value of the ck as it is recorded on the stock exchanges, if it is a blic issue, the earnings of the corporation and the net city or the net worth of that organization, by figuring assets less liabilities.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman whether rnot I am correct when I assume that the use of the language in the law today "not less than" places a limitatn or floor under which such valuations may not be ed.

Mr. ROOT. I would say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that that was the original intent of the act. Unfortunately practice and court decisions have made those three words practically valueless.

Mr. COHEN. May I ask the gentleman whether, if the taxing officers of the Commonwealth were to adopt a figure one half of what the actual value of a certain stock was worth, whether or not that would be permissible?

Mr. ROOT. Under the court decisions that would be permissible.

Mr. COHEN. In other words, Mr. Speaker, do I gather that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has taken unto itself a legislative function disregarding the express language of the act?

Mr. ROOT. I would say that the decisions of the courts of Pennsylvania and the practice of the tax officers in the Department of Revenue is such that the words "not less than" have penalized the smaller companies who did not know the practice and the court decisions and as a result overpaid their taxes.

Mr. COHEN. In other words does the gentleman mean that the smaller companies who read the act and tried to follow the law paid their taxes according to the language in the act, whereas the bigger companies who could afford tax lawyers, followed the law as laid down by the Supreme Court and paid less taxes?

Mr. ROOT. Mr. Speaker, I would not interpret it in that kind of language. I would say, Mr. Speaker, and to my friend from Philadelphia, that the law intended that the tax should be upon the average of these three factors and that the words "not less than" are not an obligation of the taxing offices but merely a statement under oath by the officers of the corporation. The courts have said, however, that in determining the value of the stock of a corporation they should take all of the elements when they take the affidavits and not be limited by the words "not less than".

Mr. COHEN. In other words, Mr. Speaker, the words "not less than" do not mean anything?

Mr. ROOT. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. I wish to thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I thought the Chair was entirely in order a few moments ago in announcing that the House had agreed to suspend Rule 57 to take up bills giving contributions and appropriations to charitable institutions, that this bill came under the proper order of business, because as I see it, we are making appropriations to institutions, although not charitable institutions.

I cannot understand if the Supreme Court has already decided that the words "not less than" are meaningless, and the taxing officers disregard that language and assess taxes on a basis other than the wording of the act, why we have to change the act. I am just beginning to wonder what is behind the whole thing, because if the express mandate of the law as it is today states that these taxes may not be "less than," and if the taxing officers are continuing with figures "less than" which are honestly given in the affidavit, and if the Supreme Court has stated in it's decision that the words "not less than" are meaningless, then we must look for some other reason.

The danger that I see is if we take out the words "not less than," there is going to be a tendency to completely ignore the law so that if the figure of, let us say, ten million dollars would be the figure that would come within the meaning of the term "not less than" and if perhaps the taxing officer figured it should be eight million dollars which, of course, is against the wording of the law today, and if the Supreme Court sustained that position and said that the language "not less than" meant that it had to be ten, but we will let it go at eight, I am wondering if we took this provision out of the law, whether or not the taxing officers would not feel completely free to put it at one hundred thousand or one million dollars.

If that thing should happen then probably we are appropriating money to institutions which are not charitable, and we would not be under the proper order of business. But, Mr. Speaker, we are a little bit concerned now about giving money for the education bill which is over in the Senate, and we have been warned by the executive office that there is not the money for this bill. However, we are going ahead very innocently and asking that an age old rule upon which the capital stock tax of Pennsylvania has been based for many years, which has been ignored by taxing officers and which has been ignored by the Supreme Court in its decisions now be taken out of the law, and I am afraid that the only answer will be that there will be no anchor, there will be no deterrent to a completely bad and absolutely minimum fixing of factors to determine the tax.

In that way, Mr. Speaker, we are giving an appropriation to certain institutions and in that way we are making tax deductions from the capital stock tax for the corporations of Pennsylvania.

I have heard it said, and it may be so, that the corporations outside of Pennsylvania may not feel that they ought to come into Pennsylvania for the purpose of paying taxes here, because our tax laws are not favorable, but that thought has been going on all over the country for years. Down south for many years they advertised "Tax free, come down and locate," and they found to their sorrow that the advantages that Pennsylvania had to offer in the matter of skilled labor could not be found there; when they went out of Pennsylvania they found that they did not have the great transportation facilities of Pennsylvania, that they were far away from the consumer market that Pennsylvania could give them and that they were out of many of the advantages that Pennsylvania has to offer, advantages of marketing, advantages of raw materials close to hand and the ease of access by rail or water. But to say that this bill will give some outside corporations an advantage or be a disadvantage to corporations in Pennsylvania is in a sense negativing everything we are doing to make Pennsylvania more attractive. We are saying "When you come here to locate, when you take the benefits and advantages of Pennsylvania, pay your fair share of the load."

The bill goes a little farther than that. When you get over to page eight of the bill you find that there is a formula for determing the gross receipts factor in establishing this tax, and we find that the bill formerly read "Sales, fees and commissions," that those words are being used in the formula, and those words were eliminated. Then it merely read:

> Except those negotiated or affected in behalf of the taxpayer by agents or agencies chiefly situated at, connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth, and except rents and royalties and interest and dividends.

Now, that may very well be for those items which are accrued and which are earned outside of the Commonwealth, but we are now making a specific exception of those items in the bill. It is true that another section of the bill reads "rents dividends and interest for the use of this Commonwealth," but they are not the same. We are merely taking the same line that we took in House Bill 806 as it came over from the Senate and merely making a reduction for the huge corporations from taxation in Pennsylvania.

I will not repeat now at length the argument, but I will mention the provision on the question of gross receipts received from construction contracts which were performed outside of the Commonwealth which formerly was a factor in establishing the gross receipts in Pennsylvania, but which we are told now will make it up for those corporations outside of Pennsylvania if they will come into Pennsylvania to execute construction contracts.

Of course, Mr. Speaker, I don't see why we are putting up a road block against corporations coming into Pennsylvania, if those construction companies will find their gross receipts under construction contracts taxed in Pennsylvania as distinguished from local companies who do have work on the outside.

I say that the whole idea of the program set forth in House Bill 806 is lopsided, and it is not only lopsided but it is scientifically completely out of kilter, and I say to you, Mr. Speaker, that unless we are prepared to say now that there is enough money to carry House Bill 568, that if there is no difficulty on the part of the administration in saying "We don't have to squeeze hard to get a few more million dollars for school teachers," then we ought to stop giving contributions to the corporations who pay taxes in Pennsylvania by saying we are only doing what the law provides for now. If the law today permits the taxing authority not to go by the term "not less than," then there is no need for this bill. If that law means that we have to disregard this language then I say we may just as well leave the language alone and not tamper with it, because we are getting a long distance from good practice and sticking close to the words of the act, and getting to the point where your taxing officers may run crazy and give your money away to the corporations of Pennsylvania.

Mr. DAVID P. REESE, Jr. Mr. Speaker, I have listened to the very elaborate argument which is entitrely free from the scientific approach to this problem of the revision of the Act of 1879. We have in numerous conferences assured the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen and other Members, that the striking out of the words "not less than" is to make the act comply with the court decisions. As was said in the Beaver Valley Water Company Case, quoting the decision in Pomeroy vs. Commonwealth:

> Valuation for capital stock purposes is not just a matter of figures and accounting; judgment as to value is required. We repeat what was said in Commonwealth versus Pennsylvania Railroad Company, 297 Pa. 308, 317, 147A, 242, 244, (1929), the value of capital stock is not a matter of strict formula, but a matter of judgment. Common sense and practical every-day business experience are the best guides for those entrusted with the administration of tax laws. Taxation is a practical and not a scientific problem.

If the striking out of these words is intended to make the statute conform to the decisions which have been handed down over a period of fifty years—and that's all there is to it—it will not be a deprivation of receipts to the Commonwealth. It is a compliance with a judicial interpretation that has been had, and that is all that it is intended to do. These words being in the act, to a certain extent have confused those who have evaluated the capital stock of the companies, and in many instances they gave value under the strict wording of the act which is beyond what is recognized as the true value of capital stock for tax purposes.

The other part of the bill, on page 8 which Mr. Cohen objects to, these amendments arise out of the Rust Engineering Company case in which it was determined that the words in the first item, that is "Sales, fees and commissions" did not include the receipts arising from construction companies doing business in the state of Pennsylvania, therefore it was concluded as a matter of law that

> No part of receipts from construction contracts should be included in the numerator of the gross receipts fraction either as sales, fees or commissions.

Therefore all those royalties dividends and interest that could possibly be included in the numerator must necessarily be omitted from the first item.

The question of having the proportion of receipts from such taxes examined, could not have been examined other than by the formula which provides for the cost proportion of those receipts which arise in the Commonwealth as compared with those receipts from within and without. These are merely technical points. Unfortunately the minority has committed itself to the proportion that this is change and a reduction, but there evidently is no way to change that attitude.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we have before us a tax bill that if it were to pass has to be clubbed through this House, and the gentlemen to whom I am talking know that I am telling them the truth. The opposition to this bill was so pronounced that it had to be clubbed through. Now, I submit to you gentlemen that when it comes to bludgeoning legislation through the House it is not done by little companies, it is not done by little people, and tax bills are not bludgeoned through this House by interests that are bent upon increasing the revenue of this Commonwealth. Tax bills are bludgeoned through this House by interests that are serving their own selfish purposes.

As a matter of fact there were a few loopholes in the provisions of the bill we passed that might not have suited the powerful construction companies that have been after their exemptions, and so we plugged them up and there was a possibility that that old goose, the underlier, that fat melon cut for particular purposes every year, might not have been completely taken care of in previous legislation, and so it is taken care of in this bill, but the point is that it has been bludgeoned up to this point, bludgeoned through this House by powerful interests serving their own purposes.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 826, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Health to pay the costs of continuing its health programs in full under certain conditions and prohibiting the Department to accept Federal funds under certain conditions

Section 1 The sum of three million four hundred thousand dollars ($3,400,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Health of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five for the payment of salaries wages or other compensation of superintendents and other employes for the payment of general expenses supplies printing and equipment for repairs alterations and improvements to plant and equipment for improvement to land for the purchase of equipment furniture furnishings and livestock for incidental expenses and all other expenses of maintenance and operation necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the Public Health Service Venereal Disease Control Aid to Crippled Children Maternal Rheumatic Disease and Child Health Programs and any other health programs in which the Commonwealth and Federal government share the costs including the incidental expenses necessary for the proper conduct of the orthopaedic work of the department and for the purchase of braces jackets artificial limbs and crutches

Section 2 The sum hereby appropriated shall be used and expended for the aforesaid purposes in the event that all or any part of any funds ordinarily made available to the Commonwealth for the use of the Department of Health for the said purposes by the Federal government shall be denied and not paid for any reason whatsoever

Section 3 The Department of Health is hereby prohibited from entering into any arrangement or agreement with the Federal government or any of its agencies to receive funds to cover part of the costs of any of the said health programs when as a condition to qualify for such funds the Commonwealth or the Department of Health as the case may be shall be required to comply with any regulations instructions orders or directives for the establishment of any specific standards or the kind or manner of hiring appointing promoting transferring suspending discharging or removing any employes in the Department of Health which does not meet with the approval of the Governor and the Secretary of the Department of Health

Section 4 The amount of the foregoing appropriation shall be expended for any of the purposes and in the manner aforesaid and as shall be determined by the Secretary of the Department of Health with the approval of the Governor

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I believe the Members of the House might be happy to know that I will be very brief, because I think that all could be said about this bill was said about it when the amendments were offered on second reading. I was happy when the gentleman on the other side accepted one amendment that I offered to include rheumatic fever in the services rendered by the department. I regret that the Members voted down the other amendments.

Just briefly, to summarize, Pennsylvania is out of step. If this bill becomes law we shall be the first of any State in the Union—we are at least first about something. We usually are last. We are the first state in the Union to tell the Federal Government "We don't want your money". We are the first State in the Union to say that we are so wealthy, we receive so much tax we don't know what to do with it; we don't want your money. I think we are the first state in the Union to make an open declaration against the Hatch Act. Whether we should by joint resolution condemn the Hatch Act or whether we do it by this bill, this House goes on record as saying "We want more politics in our health jobs, and we want less money from the Federal Government."

Perhaps as I said on second reading, we should not have a Hatch Act, but, Mr. Speaker, unless we get final word from Washington that the Hatch Act is repealed, we are saying, as I said before, we have got so much money, we have money for everything except for the teachers, and we don't have money for fair employment practice bills, but we have enough money in pocket now to refuse at least for this bi-ennium over three millions of dollars of Federal money, and perhaps we will have that much money in the bi-ennium to follow, and the bi-ennium after that, but if we pass this bill it will make it necessary to raise more taxes.

I didn't hear the Executive raise hallelujah, "If you want to spend money where are your taxes?" He had that to say about the teacher's bill, but he doesn't say it about this bill. There seems to be plenty of money, so let's send notice to the gentlemen who have the teacher's bill under their care, that there is plenty of money, because it seems tonight that he says so.

The old budget began to give a little bit at the beginning of the Session and then a little more and started to stretch a little bit, and finally the press of Pittsburgh admitted that it was elastic, and I am afraid if we begin to stretch it a little more it will snap. You will remember when we were kids the amazing device known as the rubber band, when you stretched it too far it usually snapped, and you usually got it in the nose. I think we are giving ourselves quite a smack in the nose. We feel that Pennsylvania should take its money where it can get it, whether it be for teacher's bills or for health matters or for anything else. The rest of the Nation is doing just that.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, just in reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, as he has well stated, we had considerable debate on this bill when the bill was amended on second reading, but I wish to say that Pennsylvania will not receive a black eye in my opinion. The provisions of this bill will simply allow the Secretary of Health, with the approval of the Governor, to decide that there are certain functions in the Department of Health that might well be eliminated from the program so far as receiving money from the Federal Government is concerned. We are not saying in this bill that we are refusing Federal funds that are given to the various states in the Union. We are saying that there are functions in the Department of Health which we feel as far as efficiency and expediting the work of those particular bureaus is concerned we can do a better job by setting up our own rules and regulations rather than finding ourselves hamstrung by rules and regulations of the Federal Government—small amounts of money going into the bureaus of the Department of Health to carry on the work.

As I stated before, the provisions of this bill do not say that we refuse all the Federal grants, but that we should decide in Pennsylvania whether or not it is feasible and practical in all instances to receive this Federal aid. I say Pennsylvania should be a leader, because I believe there are many other States that would be willing, happy and glad if they could rid themselves of the shackles of the Federal government in getting these Federal funds and then be subject to all the rules and regulations for operation from Washington.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended to get up and talk on this bill. However, I got a copy of the Patriot, a Harrisburg newspaper this morning and they have a very nice editorial that just about expresses my views. I think it would be a good thing for all the Members of the House to hear what the editorial says, so I quote:

PLAYING POLITICS WITH PUBLIC HEALTH

Capitol Hill patronage has been such a sacred thing to Republican politicians for so many years that it begins to took as though they are willing to forfeit $3,400,000 of Federal funds so that employes of the Department of Health can play politics and escape the dismissal they invite under application of the Federal Hatch act to that and all State departments accepting Federal funds.

This is typical Republican Organization strategy. With more cleverness they might have concealed the real purpose of the Bower bill, but boldly it has been revealed that the only excuse for the measure is to free the clerks, typists, engineers, bureau chiefs and others from the Federal civil service system so that more doorbells can be pulled, more political assessments levied and collected.

Obviously this is putting machine politics above public administration. Something could be said about the surrender of State's rights to centralized government at the price of gold, but there ought to be better grounds for opposition or refusal to accept such terms than protection of the spoils system under which so many misfits get into jobs at the expense of the taxpayers.

Public opinion ought to insist that regardless of whether Federal funds for the Health Department are rejected or retained, the merit system shall be preserved in the Health, of all departments. There is a department the work of which is vital to the health of the State. Many of its employes must be technicians and professional folks. Unless these are chosen for their qualifications as specialists rather than as politicians or the favorites of politicians, they become a menace to rather than a guardian of the public health.

It is always costly to play politics with public administration. When it is played with public health, the cost is tragic.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1133, as follows:

An Act to promote elimination of blighted areas and supply sanitary housing in areas throughout the Commonwealth by declaring acquisition sound replanning and redevelopment of such areas to be for the promotion of health safety convenience and welfare creating public bodies corporate and politic to be known as Redevelopment Authorities authorizing them to engage in the elimination of blighted areas and to plan and contract with private corporate or governmental redevelopers for their redevelopment providing for the organization of such authorities defining and providing for the exercise of their powers and duties including the acquisition of property by purchase gift or eminent domain the leasing and selling of property including borrowing money issuing bonds and other obligations and giving security there for restricting the interest of members and employes of authorities providing for notice and hearing supplying certain mandatory provisions to be inserted in contracts with redevelopers prescribing the remedies of obligees of redevelopment authorities conferring certain duties upon local planning commissions the governing bodies of cities and counties and on certain State officers boards and departments

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Urban Redevelopment Law"

Section 2 Findings and Declaration of Policy It is hereby determined and declared as a matter of legislative finding

(a) That there exist in urban communities in this Commonwealth areas which have become blighted because of the unsafe unsanitary inadequate or overcrowded condition of the dwellings therein or because of inadequate planning of the area or excessive land coverage by the buildings thereon or the lack of proper light and air and open space or because of the defective design and arrangement of the buildings thereon or faulty street or lot layout or economically or socially undesirable land uses

(b) That such conditions or a combination of some or all of them have and will continue to result in making such areas economic or social liabilities harmful to the social and economic well-being of the entire communities in which they exist depreciating values therein reducing tax revenues and thereby depreciating further the general community-wide values

(c) That the foregoing conditions are beyond remedy or control by regulatory processes and cannot be effectively dealt with by private enterprise under existing law without the additional aids herein granted and that such conditions exist chiefly in areas which are so subdivided into small parcels and in divided ownerships that their assembly for purposes of clearance replanning and redevelopment is difficult and impossible without the effective public power of eminent domain

(d) That the acquisition and sound replanning and redevelopment of such areas in accordance with sound and approved plans for their redevelopment will promote the public health safety convenience and welfare

Therefore it is hereby declared to be the policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to promote the health safety and welfare of the inhabitants thereof by the creation of bodies corporate and politic to be known as Redevelopment Authorities which shall exist and operate for the public purposes of acquiring and replanning such areas and of holding or disposing of them in such manner that they shall become available for economically and socially sound redevelopment Such purposes are hereby declared to be public uses for which public money may be spent and private property may be acquired by the exercise of the power of eminent domain

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1139, as follows:

An Act to create a commission to act jointly with commissions appointed for like purpose by the States of West Virginia and Maryland the Commonwealth of Virginia and the District of Columbia which together with three members to be appointed by the President of the United States shall constitute the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin with power to cooperate in the abatement of the existing pollution and in the control of future pollution of the waters of the drainage basin of the Potomac River within the States of Maryland and West Virginia the Commonwealth of Virginia and the District of Columbia to authorize the Governor of the State to execute on behalf of this State a compact with representatives of other states for the purpose of forming the abovementioned commission and creating a Potomac Valley Conservancy District providing for the appointment of the Pennsylvania members of said commission for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and their terms of office and providing an appropriation

Section 1 There is hereby created a commission consisting of three members to act jointly with commissions appointed for like purposes by the States of West Virginia and Maryland the Commonwealth of Virginia and the District of Columbia and an additional three members to be appointed by the President of the United States and which together with the other commissions appointed as hereinbefore mentioned shall constitute and be known as the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin The said commission for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall consist of three members to be nemed by the Governor one of whom shall be from the membership of the Pennsylvania Commission on Interstate Cooperation and one of whom shall be a representative of the Sanitary Water Board The members shall be appointed immediately after this act becomes effective and shall serve for terms of two years or until their successors are appointed They shall serve without compensation but shall be paid their actual expenses incurred in and incident to the performance of their duties as hereinafter set forth The Commonwealth shall contribute to the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin its prorata share of the expenses of said commission which shall be such sums as may be appropriated for the purpose but not less than the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) per year for the biennium beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and forty-five

The Governor of the Commonwealth is hereby authorized and directed to execute a compact on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with the other states and the District hereinabove to who may by their legislative bodies so authorize a compact in form substantially as follows

"A Compact

Whereas It is recognized that abatement of existing pollution and the control of future pollution of interstate streams can best be promoted through a joint agency representing the several states located wholly or in part within the area drained by any such interstate stream and

Whereas The Congress of the United States has given its consent to the States of Maryland and West Virginia the Commonwealths of Pennsylvania and Virginia and the District of Columbia to enter into a compact providing for the creation of a conservancy district to consist of the drainage basin of the Potomac River and the main and tributary streams therein for 'the purpose of regulating controlling preventing or otherwise rendering unobjectionable and harmless the pollution of the waters of said Potomac drainage area by sewage and industrial and other wastes'

Now Therefore The States of Maryland and West Virginia the Commonwealths of Pennsylvania and Virginia and the District of Columbia hereinafter designated signatory bodies do hereby create the Potomac Valley Conservancy District hereinafter designated the Conservancy District comprising all of the area drained by the Potomac River and its tributaries and also do hereby create the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin hereinafter designated the Commission under the articles of organization as set forth below

Article I

The Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin shall consist of three members from each signatory body and three members appointed by the President of the United States Said Commissioners other than those appointed by the President shall be chosen in a manner and for the terms provided by law of the signatory body from which they are appointed and shall serve without compensation from the commission but shall be paid by the commission their actual expenses incurred and incident to the performance of their duties

(A) The commission shall meet and organize within thirty days after the effective date of this compact shall elect from its number a chairman and vice-chairman shall adopt suitable by-laws shall make adopt and promulgate such rules and regulations as are necessary for its management and control and shall adopt a seal

(B) The commission shall appoint and at its pleasure remove or discharge such officers and legal engineering clerical expert and other assistants as may be required to carry the provisions of this compact into effect and shall determine their qualifications and fix their duties and compensation Such personnel as may be employed shall be employed without regard to any civil service or other similar requirements for employes of any of the signatory bodies The commission may maintain one or more offices for the transaction of its business and may meet at any time or place within the area of the Conservatory District

(C) The commission shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements and shall make an annual report thereof and shall in such report set forth in detail the operations and transactions conducted by it pursuant to this compact The commission however shall not incur any obligations for administrative or other expenses prior to the making of appropriations adequate to meet the same nor shall it in any way pledge the credit of any of the signatory bodies Each of the signatory bodies reserves the right to make at any time an examination and audit of the accounts of the commission

(D) A quorum of the commission shall for the transaction of business the exercise of any powers or the performance of any duties consist of at least a majority of the members of the commission Provided however That no action of the commission relating to policy shall be binding on any one of the signatory bodies unless at least two of the commissioners from such signatory body shall vote in favor thereof

Article II

The Commission shall have the power and its duties shall be

(A) To coordinate tabulate and summarize technical and other data now available or as shall become available in the future from any source on the pollution of the streams of the Conservancy District and on the character and conditions of such stream and to prepare reports thereon annually and at such other times as may be deemed advisable by the commission

(B) To supplement existing information and data and to secure new data by such investigations analyses or other means as may be necessary to secure adequate information on the character and condition of the streams of the Conservancy District as they now exist or may be effected by the future discharge of sewage and industrial and other wastes into the said stream

(C) To cooperate with the legislative and administrative agencies of the signatory bodies or the equivalent thereof and with other interested commissions and similar organizations for the purpose of promoting uniform laws rules or regulations for the abatement and control of pollution of streams in the said Conservancy District

(D) To disseminate to the public information on the aims and purposes of the commission and on the harmful and uneconomical results of stream pollution through the issuance of bulletins circulars correspondence literature and reports

(E) To cooperate with other organizations engaged in fact-finding and research activities on the treatment of sewage and industrial waste or other wastes and if deemed advisable to institute and conduct such research and fact-finding activities

(F) To make and if needful from time to time revise and to recommend to the signatory bodies reasonable minimum standards for the treatment of sewage and industrial or other wastes now discharged or to be discharged in the future to the streams of the Conservancy District and also for cleanliness of the various streams in the Conservancy District

Article III

The moneys necessary to finance the commission in the administration of its business in the Conservancy District shall be provided through appropriations from the signatory bodies and the United States in the manner prescribed by the laws of the several signatory bodies and of the United States and in amounts as follows

The pro rata contribution shall be based on such factors as population the amount of industrial and domestic pollution and a flat service charge as shall be determined from time to time by the commission subject however to the approval ratification and appropriation of such contribution by the several signatory bodies And further provided that the total of such sums from all signatory bodies shall not exceed a total of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) per annum

Article IV

Pursuant to the aims and purposes of this compact the signatory bodies mutually agree

1 Faithful cooperation in the abatement of existing pollution and the prevention of future pollution in the streams of the Conservancy District

2 The enactment of adequate and in so far as is practicable uniform legislation for the abatement and control of such pollution

3 The appropriation of biennial sums of the proportionate basis as set forth in Article III

Article V

This compact shall become effective immediately after it shall have been ratified by the majority of the legislatures of the States of Maryland and West Virginia the Commonwealths of Pennsylvania and Virginia and by the commissioners of the District of Columbia and approved by the Congress of the United States Provided however That this compact shall not be effective as to any signatory body until ratified thereby

Article VI

Any signatory body may by Legislative action after one year's notice to the commission withdraw from this compact"

Section 2 If any section sentence subdivision or clause of this act is for any reason held invalid or unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act

Section 3 The sum of two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400) is hereby specifically appropriated to the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin as the contribution of the Commonwealth as its pro rata share of the expenses of said commission the chairman of said commission shall file an accounting of said expenses with the Auditor General to be paid on warrant of the Auditor General on requisition of the chairman of the commission

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 839, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" by further regulating the affairs of boroughs and revising amending and changing the law relating thereto

Section 1 Section one hundred nine of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 109 Wherever in any of the provisions of this act notice is required to be given in one newspaper in the county such notice shall be published in a general newspaper published within the limits of the borough or district affected or if none is published therein then in a general newspaper of the county or adjacent county circulating in such borough or district [and when so required by rules of court of such county also in the legal newspaper if any designated by the rules of court of such county for the publication of legal notices and advertisements Provided That borough ordinances shall be published only in general newspapers] and such notice shall also be published in the legal journal if any designated by the rules of court for the publication of legal notices and advertisements when such notice refers to any proceeding in any court or the holding of elections for the increase of indebtedness or sale of bonds unless such publication be dispensed with by special order of the court

Section 2 Article IX of said Act is hereby amended by adding Section 906 as follows

Section 906 If for any reason two or three vacancies exist in the office of borough auditors the council may temporarily appoint and reasonably compensate a qualified person who need not be an elector of the borough who shall have all the powers and duties of the two or three auditors whose offices are vacated

Section 3 Clause eighteen of section one thousand six of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 674) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1006 Duties and Powers of Council The borough council a majority of whom shall be a quorum shall have power and unless discretion is vested it shall be its duty

* * * * *

XVIII To adopt an annual budget During the month of January a proposed budget or annual estimate of revenues and expenditures shall be prepared in a manner designated by the council The budget shall be prepared on a uniform form prepared and furnished as hereinafter provided

[Upon the preparation of the proposed budget the council shall give public notice by one insertion in a newspaper of general circulation in the borough fifteen (15) days prior to the filing of the budget of the fact that the proposed budget will be available for public inspection in the office of the borough secretary or such other place as may be designated in the public notice After the expiration of fifteen (15) days following the giving of such public notice council shall make such revisions therein as appear advisable and thereupon adopt a budget which shall contain the estimated receipts and the appropriations estimated as necessary for the year and may include the necessary operating expenses for the subsequent year until the taxes of the subsequent year are received therefor The council shall then adopt a tax ordinance for submission to the burgess which ordinance may contain appropriation items and such other matters relating to the fiscal affairs of the borough as require the formalities of an ordinance

In all boroughs the council shall within fifteen (15) days after the adoption of the budget file a copy of the same with the Department of Internal Affairs

During any fiscal year the council may make supplementary appropriations or transfer appropriations from one classification to another for any lawful purpose from any funds on hand or estimated to be received including the proceeds of any borrowing theretofore or thereafter authorized by law and in cases of emergency or in palpable cases of error omission or other fortuitous circumstances council may make or ratify expenditures for lawful purposes and thereafter supply or augment the funds necessary therefor Except in the manner and in the cases aforesaid herein provided and except to pay expenditures that have accumulated and were not paid at the close of the previous fiscal year and also for the payment of ordinary operating expenses pending the final adoption of the budget and tax ordinance the council or other officers shall not hire any work to be done purchase any material make any contract or issue any order for the payment of moneys by any agent of the borough which will cause the sums appropriated for specific purposes to be exceeded]

For ten (10) days during the month of January a copy of the proposed budget shall be on file with the borough secretary and by him made available for public inspection Notice that the proposed budget is available for inspection shall be published either in a newspaper of general circulation in the borough or in the case of boroughs whose estimated budget receipts are less than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) conspicuously posted during the said ten (10) day period in a place readily viewable by the public at the secretary's office together with any further notice prescribed by council Failure to give the notice herein required shall not invalidate the budget adopted or the tax ordinance but shall render the secretary guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof may be sentenced to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100.00) as may seem meet and just to the court passing sentence

After the expiration of the said ten (10) days council shall make such revision in the budget as shall be deemed advisable In addition to expenditures proposed for the current fiscal year council may include as proposed expenditures a sum sufficient to pay any existing indebtedness and to pay the ordinary operating expenses for the subsequent year until the taxes of the subsequent year are received therefor and may also include a sum to provide in whole or in part for any deferred maintenance depreciation and replacements Within the tax levy and debt limitations council may also include in whole or in part expenditures for capital improvements and purchases Expenditures of a legislative character shall be made authorized or ratified by ordinance Other expenditures allowed by law may be made or ratified by motion in council Such expenditures whether by ordinance or motion shall then be considered as appropriations affecting the budget Any balance of revenues over expenditures may be expended in any subsequent year for any lawful purpose

Upon completion of the budget containing the estimated receipts and expenditures and its adoption by motion in council it shall then be the duty of council to adopt an ordinance levying the tax for the fiscal year for approval of the burgess or passage over his veto The fixing or changing of the compensation or bonds of officials may be made by vote of council or embodied in the tax ordinance An ordinance relating to the fiscal affairs of the borough may include the tax ordinance aforesaid instead of a separate ordinance and it may include therein any matters requiring the formalities of an ordinance or deemed informative by council

The budget both preliminary and final shall be as comprehensive and exact as the information available will admit but council in its reasonable discretion may by motion modify the budget after its final adoption New appropriations supplementary appropriations and transfers from one appropriation to another may be made during the fiscal year either before an expenditure is authorized or ratified after the expenditure is made provided it is within the current year's revenues or the money therefor promptly made available through borrowing as allowed by law

SENATE MESSAGES

HOUSE BILLS CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

HOUSE BILL No. 1095.

An Act to amend section one thousand one hundred one of the act approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals, and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto," requiring the Pennsylvania Game Commission to pay bounties to public employees.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

AMENDED SENATE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

SENATE BILL No. 18.

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act approved the eighteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 1303), entitled "An act to regulate the sale of certain hypnotic, analgesic, and body-weight reduction drugs, in the interest of public health," by redefining the meaning of "other hypnotic drug, or analgesic drug or body-weight reducing drug" and adding "inhalers" to the remedies permitted to be sold at retail

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 8, by striking out after the word "and" the words "adding 'inhalers' to the" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "naming certain"; also in last line of title by inserting after the word "retail" the words "under certain conditions".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 24, 1945.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern War Time.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EDWIN S. WALLACE, D. D. offered the following prayer:

Father of all men and God of the nations, we pray Thee to send forth Thy light on all who walk in darkness and in the shadow of death. If sin lies at our door for the bringing on of this war that has brought death to so many, and destruction to so much that was good and beautiful, forgive us. Inspire us with Thy wisdom and gird us with Thy power that our nation may never again have to walk the dangerous paths or cross the troubled waters that lead to war.

Now in the midst of war we greatly need Thee, and pray Thy presence with us until victory comes, and through the difficult days to follow. May we not forget the sufferings of those who carry our destiny into battle while we dwell in security. Many have given their lives for us. Many with shattered bodies and wrecked minds must be cared for. Keep us, O God, from the sin of ingratitude. Make us mindful to deal generously with them and theirs in the years to come. Write upon our national and individual consciences: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these ye have done it unto me."

We pray for Thy sustaining grace to be with all now in active service, the soldiers, the sailors, the airmen, the doctors and nurses, the men and women of the Red Cross. May they be given the strength and the will for their arduous and dangerous tasks. In the name of the suffering Servant, even Christ our Lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. At this time the Chair takes pleasure in calling on the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John M. Walker) in the Chair.

Senate of Pennsylvania.
Dear Mr. Watkins:

Will you please express to the Senate of Pennsylvania my deep appreciation for the Resolution adopted at its session on March 13, 1945, in tribute to my late Father Mr. George F. Holmes.

I will keep it always as a most cherished possession. I was proud of my Father and I loved him very much—it will be hard to go on without him—but I could not be my father's daughter without courage.

May I thank you for your kind thought and sympathy.

Very truly yours,
FRANCES HOLMES WELZEL,
1158 S. 52nd Street,
Philadelphia, Penna.

MERCER COUNTY VALEDICTORIANS INTRODUCED TO THE SENATE

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I am very happy this afternoon to introduce to the Senate of Pennsylvania the valedictorians of all the high schools in Mercer county, fourteen girls and two boys. This party is chaperoned by Mrs. Bright.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair welcomes to the Senate the valedictorians of the Mercer County high schools and trusts that they enjoy their visit.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. COX asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. COX. First, Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Homsher.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOMSHER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. Will the gentleman from Lancaster tell me if the Senate Committee on Education has considered House Bill No. 612, which deals with the subject of sick leave for school teachers?

Mr. HOMSHER. The Senate Committee on Education has not yet considered that bill.

Mr. COX. I would like to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that on page 6 of the Calendar appears Senate Bill No. 58, which provides for sick leave for state employes. This bill provides for a fifteen day sick leave, which is cumulative. That means that, possibly, if an employe wishes to stay on the job for five years, then the sixth year he or she can take five times fifteen or seventy-five days sick leave at the expense of the Commonwealth.

House Bill No. 612, concerning which I interrogated the Chairman of the Committee on Education, is a bill which would give sick leave to school teachers of Pennsylvania. They are very modest in their request; they ask five days sick leave each school term, which would be cumulative up until it has reached twenty days.

It is quite interesting to compare the history of these two bills in the Senate. House Bill No. 612, which is the sick leave bill for school teachers, came to the Senate on March 20 and was referred to the Senate Committee on Education. House Bill No. 58, which is on third reading in the Senate today, came to the Senate on March 29 and went to the Committee on State Government. It seems to me that it makes an awful lot of difference which committee these bills go to, as to whether there is going to be action or whether there is not.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RE-REFERRED

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, on April 11 there was introduced Senate Concurrent Resolution Serial Number 126, by the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Crowe, which resolution was referred to the Committee on Highways. I am taking it upon myself to report this from the Committee on Highways, with the request that it be re-referred to the Committee on Insurance, as it deals with a subject entirely foreign to the Highway Department.

Mr. SNOWDEN from the Committee on Highways, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. CROWE on April 11, 1945, reported the same without amendment as follows:

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER AND SECRETARY OF REVENUE TO FORMULATE PENNSYLVANIA ASSIGNED RISKS PLAN FOR PHYSICALLY DISABLED PERSONS

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, April 11, 1945.

There are many persons within the Commonwealth who, although skilled in the driving of automobiles, are denied the right so to do on account of physical disabilities which make the procurement of liability and property damage insurance impossible.

The return of fighting men from the battle fronts of the world will greatly increase this number, and the inability of many of those who desire every possible privilege and opportunity of enjoyment, to secure such insurance, will prevent their full use of automobiles.

It is not possible nor would it be advisable to compel insurance companies to accept such risks which in their experience are hazardous.

Many companies in Pennsylvania writing liability and property damage insurance have lately developed the "Pennsylvania Automobile Assigned Risks Plan" for the voluntary handling of liability and property damage insurance on persons who have come under the provisions of the Financial Responsibility Law.

The formation of a similar plan for the voluntary handling of liability and property damage insurance on persons physically handicapped, might be the means of affording such persons the coverage necessary to allow them to enjoy the privilege of driving an automobile, either for pleasure or in the carrying on of a business; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), By the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the Insurance Commissioner of the Commonwealth and the Secretary of Revenue of the Commonwealth are requested to meet and consult with representatives of the various casualty companies doing business within the Commonwealth, in an attempt to arrive at and formulate a plan for the organization of a Pennsylvania Assigned Risks Plan for the insuring of physically handicaped persons; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution shall be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Insurance Commissioner and to the Secretary of Revenue.

Which was recommitted to the Committee on Insurance.

L. 13), entitled "An act to carry into effect section five, of article fourteen, of the Constitution, relative to the salaries of county officers and the payment of fees received by them into the State or county treasurer, in counties containing over one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants," by eliminating the salary of county surveyors in counties having less than two hundred fifty thousand and more than one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. EDMONDS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, at the last meeting of the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, I was instructed to take certain resolutions which had been presented to us and forward them to Miss O'Hara, for the purpose of seeing whether or not there was any ground for investigation in those resolutions. One of them relates to the Eastern Penitentiary and another relates to a Pittsburgh institution.

Yesterday I received complete answers from Miss O'Hara. As my throat is rather poor, I would like to ask Senator Troutman, who I think is thoroughly familiar with the matters in this correspondence, if he will not read this correspondence to the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair inquires from the gentleman from Montgomery whether this is in the nature of a Committee report?

Mr. EDMONDS. This is a committee report.

Mr. TROUTMAN. Mr. President, the committee has received the following letters, one addressed to the Chairman of the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, dated April 23, 1945, reading as follows:

"Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Welfare, April 23, 1945.

"Honorable Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Chairman, Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, Senate of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

"Dear Senator Edmonds:

"Replying to your letter of April 18, 1945:

"All legislation required by this Department is in bill form, except one item.

"All have been introduced except three items which the Department of Justice approved. These three will be introduced today.

Faithfully yours,
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of Welfare."

Mr. TROUTMAN. There is also a letter dated April 23, 1945, from the Secretary of the Department of Welfare, addressed to Senator Edmonds, with reference to Senate Resolution reading as follows:

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE EASTERN STATE PENITENTIARY

In the Senate, April 17, 1945.

Three members of the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary have recently resigned from membership on the board because of existing conditions at the penitentiary which they did not approve.

What the actual conditions are at the Eastern State Penitentiary, the public up to this time have had to be content with small fragments of news.

However, before the matter of the resignation of the three members of the board had been forgotten, twelve hardened criminals had made their escape from that institution. An escape of this nature is so serious a matter of public concern that it behooves those responsible for its operation to give a full account of the prevailing circumstances that would make such an escape possible.

The Governor of Pennsylvania, realizing his responsibility in the matter, appointed a committee to investigate the institution, but as this committee is made up of persons under his direct control, such committee is working under a cloud of partiality.

In a Philadelphia newspaper of today, Warden Herbert Smith of the Eastern State Penitentiary, is quoted as stating in part that:

"The institution's facilities are antiquated, and it's up to the Department of Welfare, the parent organization, to do something about it. This is not a problem of local administration."

"A change in the administration at the prison will not change the situation . . ."

"It is a housing problem, not the prison administration, which fosters conditions such as permitted the recent break of 12 prisoners—two of whom are still at large," he said.

From another source of information, the statement has been made that some of the prisoners are amassing a fortune doing certain types of prison work. To what extent is this responsible for conflict among the prisoners?

The public is still confronted with the question—What are the true facts?

Only an impartial committee can ascertain the true facts; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, appoint a committee of five members of the Senate to make an impartial investigation into the conditions of the Eastern State Penitentiary, with the power of subpoena as to witnesses and documents and to report back to the Senate, at the earliest possible date, its recommendations and suggestions.

Mr. TROUTMAN. Miss O'Hara's letter of April 23, 1945, in connection with the above resolution, is as follows:

"Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Welfare, April 23, 1945.

"Honorable Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Chairman, Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, Senate of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

"Dear Senator Edmonds:

"Acknowledgment is made of your letter of April 18, 1945 transmitting a resolution offered in the Senate of the General Assembly by Honorable H. Jerome Jaspan and Honorable Israel Stiefel moving the appointment of a Committee of the Senate to make an impartial investigation into the conditions of the Eastern State Penitentiary.

"The Eastern State Penitentiary is under the supervision of the Department of Welfare and under the management of a Board of Trustees, (an administrative body within this Department), and of a Warden who, subject to the authority of the Board, administers the institution in all its departments.

"The Department of Welfare is now engaged in an investigation of the escape of certain prisoners and the circumstances facilitating such escape.

"Prior to the escape, the Department had under review certain practices in the administration of Eastern State Penitentiary. This review, together with the Department's recommendations and proposals to the Board of Trustees, will be presented to a quorum of the Board when it is convened. Failing such quorum, such review will be incorporated in our report to the Governor on the escape.

"The circumstances of the escape are being investigated and the review of the policies of management is being made by responsible officers and employees of the Commonwealth.

"If either is to be done thoroughly there must be time for survey, for observation, for interrogation of witnesses, and check upon items which are apparently inconsistent or require verification. This investigation is proceeding daily and as rapidly as the method outlined permits.

"I respectfully submit that until the orderly process here outlined is completed, the Executive investigation should not be impeded, confused or impugned by a Legislative investigation.

Sincerely yours,
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of Welfare."

Mr. TROUTMAN. There is another letter from Miss O'Hara, dated April 23, 1945, concerning the following Senate Resolution:

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE MENTAL HOSPITALS AT WOODVILLE AND MAYVIEW

In the Senate, March 7, 1945.

Whereas, The report of the Honorable S. M. O'Hara, Secretary of the Department of Welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, has disclosed that the mental institutions of the Commonwealth are so crowded that it is impossible to admit a great many persons awaiting admission, and

Whereas, The Board of Trustees of Woodville State Hospital located at Woodville, Penna.; because of serious overcrowded conditions, have passed a resolution refusing to accept any more women patients, and

Whereas, The newspapers of the City of Pittsburgh have disclosed that insane persons are being committed to the county jail because the State has furnished no facilities for their treatment, and

Whereas, All the facts disclose that an emergency exists in the problem of housing persons with mental illness, not only in the County of Allegheny, but in all parts of the Commonwealth, therefore be it

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint a committee of members of the Senate from Allegheny County to immediately investigate the conditions of the parts of the mental hospitals of Woodville and Mayview which are under the control of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and report their findings to the Senate of Pennsylvania on Monday, March 12, 1945, if possible, or as soon thereafter as can be done.

Mr. TROUTMAN. Mis O'Hara's letter of April 23, 1945, with reference to the above resolution, is as follows:

"Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Welfare, April 23, 1945.

"Honorable Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Chairman, Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, Senate of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

"Dear Senator Edmonds:

"Acknowledgment is made of your letter of April 18, 1945, transmitting a copy of a resolution offered in the Senate of the General Assembly by Honorable John Fremont Cox, moving the appointment of a committee to investigate conditions at Woodville State Hospital and Mayview State Hospital for mental patients.

"In 1941 these hospitals were acquired respectively from the Institution District of Allegheny County and the Institution District of the City of Pittsburgh.

"Under the conditions of the transfer, the Commonwealth acquired the lands and buildings devoted to mental patients and the utility facilities subject to providing certain utility and central services, and subject also to certain other conditions affecting abandonment, etc.

"At the time of transfer, the condition of repair and maintenance at each institution was poor, and the facilities themselves inadequate for the population load.

"The declaration of war on December 8, 1941, prevented the carrying out of any plans for proper repair or expansion. A state of war still persists.

"Nevertheless the present Administration requested, and the General Assembly appropriated (Appropriation Act 75-A of 1943), money for preparation of plans and specifications for constructing buildings, and for the purchase and installation of necessary equipment to overcome hazardous conditions and provide essential service at these and seventeen other Welfare Institutions.

"In the current session of the General Assembly the Department, with the approval of the Governor, has presented legislation to authorize the Commonwealth to acquire all lands and buildings and to eliminate the encumbrance of central service at these hospitals; also, to provide funds for post war expansion.

"As quickly as required approvals, permits and priorities are received the Department is proceeding under existing legislation to correct hazardous conditions. If and when requested legislation is passed, the Department will proceed to provide facilities for the mentally ill to the extent of funds appropriated.

"As reported by this Department in our Twelfth Biennial Report dated September 30, 1944, the Department under date of August 13, 1943 allocated from funds appropriated by Appropriation Act 75-A of 1943, the sum of $634,500, and by September 19, 1944, had added $450,000 for work at these hospitals. This made a total as of that date of $984,500. (See page 10 of Biennial Report, attached).

"In addition there was spent in 1941-43 biennium the sum of $74,019, and there has been spent or committed for capital replacement or additions, out of current 1943-45 appropriations the sum of $305,000. Commitments are, of course, subject to approvals, permits and priorities of cooperating agencies and the War Production Board. These items include:

"Mayview State Hospital—
Root Cellar
Replacement of plumbing in Buildings N2 and S2
Rewiring Buildings N1 and S1

"Woodville State Hospital—
Survey of Laundry facilties
Survey of Farm buildings
Survey of Sewage disposal

"All of these items must precede further expansion of population load. Expansion for increased patient load would then be facilitated in any post-war program.

Sincerely yours,

S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of Welfare."

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the letters from Miss O'Hara be set forth in full in the Legislative Journal of the Senate, immediately after the resolutions to which they refer, so that anybody examining the records of the Senate may see that these matters were covered at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The letters from the Secretary of the Department of Welfare, together with the resolutions to which they refer, will be spread upon the Legislative Record in compliance with the request of the Senator from Montgomery.

Mr. JASPAN. With respect to the report which just has been submitted to the Senate, I would like to know to whom these letters were addressed.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia defer his interrogation until the order of business of Reports of Committees has been completed?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, this is in line with the report just made.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair appreciates that.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, may I argue with you? You argue with others. If we are going to have committee reports, let us have them.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia is out of order.

Are there any further reports from committee?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I submit the point of order that the report just submitted by the gentleman from Montgomery is not a committee report and therefore should be ruled out; I take it that it should have been referred to the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair calls to the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia the fact that the report has been received, with instructions that it be spread upon the Legislative Journal, together with the communications relating thereto.

Mr. JASPAN. But, Mr. President, having come under the business of reports from committee, I took it that it was a report from committee—as a matter of fact the gentleman from Northumberland, Senator Troutman, said it was in the nature of a committee report—but the matter, never having been referred to committee, never having been acted upon, certainly is not a committee report.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair agrees with the gentleman from Philadelphia that it is not a committee report; it came in under the heading of a committee report and has been spread upon the Legislative Journal as communications.

Mr. JASPAN. May I ask this question: to whom were these letters addressed?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the gentleman from Northumberland consent to be interrogated at this time?

Mr. TROUTMAN. I do, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. May I inquire to whom these letters were addressed, the letters signed by our Secretary of Welfare?

Mr. TROUTMAN. Mr. President, the letters were addressed to Senator Franklin Spencer Edmonds.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, they were addressed to Senator Franklin Spencer Edmonds as Chairman of the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions; is that correct?

Mr. TROUTMAN. Yes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair suggests that the gentleman from Philadelphia defer his interrogation until the order of business of Reports from Committee is completed, in order that the work of the desk not be delayed.

Mr. JASPAN. The work of the desk is not being delayed; here are letters addressed to the gentleman from Montgomery—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia desire to be recognized or does he yield?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I put a question to the gentleman from Northumberland, Senator Troutman, and he said he would be glad to answer the question, and he went back to his desk to answer this question.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Northumberland will proceed.

Mr. TROUTMAN. Mr. President, the letters are addressed to Honorable Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Chairman, Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, Senate of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Northumberland

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Northumberland permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TROUTMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Was this matter taken up by Senator Edmonds with the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions?

Mr. TROUTMAN. It was, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. When?

Mr. TROUTMAN. About two weeks ago I believe, Mr. President; it was the last meeting of the committee, but I do not recall the date.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I was present at that meeting and the gentleman had no such letters and no such questions were put before us. The only thing I knew was that Senator Edmonds was to see or talk with our Secretary of Welfare and report back to the committee, but not to the Senate body first, so that we could act on any recommendations or any answers to resolutions or letters addressed to Miss O'Hara. Is that correct

Senator Troutman?

Mr. TROUTMAN. I do not think that is quite correct. As I recall the meeting of the committee, the resolutions were placed in the hands of the chairman, to write or communicate with the Secretary of Welfare, and to receive from her reports on the conditions as outlined in those resolutions.

Mr. JASPAN. Therefore, Mr. President, I think the whole thing is out of order and improper, because the question was presented to our committee and, as the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Edmonds, said only a minute ago, he was to take it up with the Secretary of Welfare, Miss O'Hara, and report back to the committee for further action.

This is the first time I ever heard of this, and Senator Troutman will bear me out on this proposition, not having seen it, not knowing much about it, we are not in a position to answer. However, if it had been presented to the proper committee, instead of being read on the floor, the committee would have been in a better position to act on these matters and answer accordingly.

Mr. COX. In deference to the desire of the Chair, I would like, after all committee reports are submitted, to have the opportunity to say what I have to say relative to the report of Miss O'Hara on the resolution which I introduced, asking for a Senatorial investigation of Woodville and Mayview state mental institutions of Allegheny county.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. At the proper time the request of the gentleman from Allegheny will be complied with.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. COX asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, on March 7, because of widespread publicity given by the Pittsburgh papers about the over-crowded condition of the institutions at Woodville and Mayview, Allegheny County, which caused the insane of our county to be shackled to the bars in the prison cells, I introduced a resolution requesting an immediate Senatorial investigation of these institutions. That was on March 7. On that day the Senate refused to do anything about the matter, and now, on April 24, we finally get an alleged report from the committee to which the resolution was sent.

The amazing part of the whole business to me is this, that the report comes from the very people we were trying to investigate. You can imagine the ridiculousness of sending to the Department of Welfare, which certainly needs investigation, a Senate resolution requesting an investigation. Just as you would expect under such circumstances, the statement which was read here today is a whitewash by the Department of Welfare of itself. It seems, as far as the Senate is concerned, it makes no difference whether the people of Allegheny county who are insane are still shackled to the prison bars.

I made myself a one-man investigation committee, and I made my report to the Senate of the conditions I found there at that time. I have done everything I knew how to do legislatively to have something done about these serious matters.

In committee today is a bill to set up an investigating committee to properly investigate all the mental institutions in Pennsylvania, but in the dying days of the session that bill, too, will die.

All I have heard from this administration from the very beginning, when we got down to serious business, was this question: "Don't you know there is a war on", and again the Department of Welfare uses the same excuse. It is interesting to note that it was impossible for the Department of Welfare, in the five years it has had those two institutions, to provide more than one bathtub for 150 women, but they were able to get around the law in some peculiar fashion, and I understand today out in our own military reservation there is a twenty thousand dollar summer home being built for the Governor of the Commonwealth.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND COMMITTED

Mr. THOMAS read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 758, entitled:

An Act to provide for the public sale of licenses permitting the removal of sand, coal, silt or other substances from certain streams under certain circumstances.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, about four or five months ago the Moore Institute of Art in Philadelphia celebrated the first century of its existence, and in honor of this occasion, nunc pro tunc, I offer the following resolution and ask for its immediate adoption, in behalf of Senator Rosenfeld and myself.

CONGRATULATIONS EXTENDED TO THE MOORE INSTITUTE OF ART

Messrs. STIEFEL and ROSENFELD offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, April 24, 1945.

Whereas, it has come to the attention of the members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the oldest school of applied art in America, the Moore Institute of Art, located in Philadelphia, has recently ended the hundredth year of its existence as a valuable constituent of the educational facilities offered by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, the said Moore Institute of Art has become the largest school of art exclusively for women, known to be in operation anywhere in the world, and the training offered young women in design has supplied to the manufacturers of America trained talent of inestimable value in many fields, be it therefore

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that the General Assembly of Pennsylvania extends its congratulations to the officers, directors and faculty of the Moore Institute of Art, located in Philadelphia, and its wishes for the Institute's continued success in the second century of its existence, and be it further

Resolved, that copies of this resolution, properly authenticated, be forwarded to the Moore Institute of Art, and to the Honorable Edwin O. Lewis, its President, as a token of the General Assembly's appreciation of the excellent work performed by the Institute.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE BILL No. 59 CALLED UP

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, on page 2 of the Calendar, I would like to call up at this time Senate Bill No. 59, Printer's No. 433, for consideration.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 59, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" by providing rest periods sick leave hospital and medical expenses and extra compensation in certain cases for police in counties of the second class

Section 1 Subdivision (q) of article three of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" as last amended by the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 159) is hereby further amended by adding after section three hundred thirty point twenty-two the following new sections to read as follows

Section 330.23 Every member of the police force of counties of the second class shall have at least twenty-four consecutive hours of rest in each calendar week except in emergency cases for the suppression of riots or tumults or the preservation of the public peace in times of war riot conflagration or public celebration No such member shall be required to work more than eight consecutive hours in any twenty-four hours except in the aforesaid cases of emergency Every such member shall be allowed one day's vacation for each month of service for the first twelve months of service and thereafter an annual vacation of not less than fourteen days and he shall be allowed an annual sick leave of not less than fourteen days all without any deduction or diminution of salary or compensation as fixed by the salary board of the county

Section 330.24 Every member of the police force for counties of the second class who may be injured or become sick through the performance of his duties and by reason thereof is temporarily incapacitated from performing his duties shall be paid by the county by which he is employed his full rate of salary as fixed by the salary board of such county until the disability arising therefrom has ceased All medical and hospital bills incurred in connection with any such injury or sickness shall be paid by such county All benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law which shall be received or collected by any such member during the period he has received salary for temporary disability shall be paid over to the county and paid into the treasury thereof If any such payment or payments shall not be so made by such member of such police force the amount so directed to be paid to the county shall be deducted from any salary which shall then or thereafter become due and owing to such member

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I think there is some question in the minds of some of the Senators as to what the amendment was when the bill was recalled from the Governor. The only amendment is to the title, on page 1, where "29" is put in, in place of "21". In other words, there was a typographical error in the way the bill passed and the wrong act would have been amended.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 95, as follows:

An Act conferring upon the Councils of cities of the first class the power and devolving upon them the duty of fixing and determining the salaries wages and other compensation payable but of the treasury of such cities from and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six of all public officers clerks and other public employes except the salaries of elected officers whose salaries are fixed by law and except the salaries wages or other compensation of officers clerks and employes of the courts which are fixed by law or by the courts

Section 1 That from and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six the salaries wages and other compensation of all public officers clerks and employes payable out of the treasury of any city of the first class shall be fixed and determined by the council of such city by ordinance except such salaries of elected officers which are or may be fixed by law and the salaries wages and other compensation of officers clerks and employes of the courts which are or may be fixed by law or by the courts

Section 2 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed to the extent of such inconsistency it being the intent and purpose of this act to establish a uniform and complete system except as aforesaid of the fixing and determination of all salaries wages or other compensation of public officers clerks and employes payable out of the treasury of such cities thereby unifying and co-ordinating as far as may be practicable that power and duty with the power to raise revenue by taxation and otherwise

And said bill having been read at length the third time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, may I urge my colleagues to defeat this measure? This bill aims in placing the control of salaries in the city of Philadelphia in the hands of city council.

We are confronted in this bill with the jungle growth of various measures, some emanating from the city council, some from the legislative halls in Harrisburg, and because of considerable and many incongruities I do not see how this measure can stand up.

For instance, Mr. President, the members of the Registration Commission of Philadelphia are appointed by the Governor; that gives them a certain degree of independence. Now the salaries of these commissioners will be controlled by the city council of Philadelphia. The city council of Philadelphia will obtain a strangle-hold on the members of this commission, not that I impute any machinations to city council, but it is possible that such a condition may exist. I can multiply many examples of this kind to show how punative power will be in the hands of the Governor, and the decision on salaries in the hands of city council of Philadelphia.

Second, may I point out, Mr. President, the old axiom that he who seeks equity shall do equity.

Back in the thirties—I believe in 1933 or 1934—the city council of Philadelphia, during the years of depression, decided for economic purposes to reduce salaries of many officials and employes in the city and county of Philadelphia. Those city and county employes gladly accepted the offer, hoping that when the fat years would come they would be compensated.

Now, Mr. President, the old practice of Joseph, to store during the years of prosperity in order to meet the crisis during lean years, has been applied in this case—just in reverse; during the lean years these salaries were cut and now that we are basking in prosperity the city council never felt it necessary to compensate its various employes and officials and restore to them the cuts made in the lean years.

For these reasons, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I urge you to vote in the negative on this measure.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, following up Dr. Stiefel's arguments and thoughts in the matter—I do not know when he became a doctor or how he acquired the title—it is possible I am disgressing a bit, but perhaps it is because of his contact with Dr. Chapman.

However, Mr. President and members of the Senate, in all seriousness, at the very outset of this session Governor Martin asked for a quick, businesslike session, in view of the fact we were engaged in a war, and that was most important. During the session, on a few occasions, I stated that apparently the war is not very important, because politics would be more or less injected into our affairs.

Such was the case back in 1943 and such is the case today. I have seen bills, many of them, pass—I did not agree with them. I could appreciate that they were motivated by certain interests, probably political. This very bill, in my mind, is politically minded. It is what I term a political grab-bag, an attempt by council to obtain jobs by holding on to the purse-strings, and we know very well when we hold on to the purse-strings we control the jobs.

We in our wisdom, have created certain jobs and have given at the same time to the Governor the power of appointment. We felt that the citizenry of various cities and counties required certain protection, consequently our body fixed the salaries for these various groups.

Very important offices are involved, Mr. President, with respect to this bill. If you know the nature of our city government—I do not find fault with any particular individual or group, but unfortunately the people of the city of Philadelphia have not awakened to a realization of what has happened there during the past fifty years; I blame the city administration for conditions as they exist.

Philadelphia, through its city council, has spent considerable money and, as a result of the expenditure of money, has fallen, if I may use the ordinary vernacular, into a hole. As a result they were forced many years ago to hock their gas works, their most important asset, the most valuable asset that we have, and our Senate helped them to do it, to help them raise forty some odd million dollars. You may ask "why was it necessary to hock the gas works in order to raise forty million dollars"? The purpose was to pay the indebtedness accumulated by the city. Why was the city indebted to that extent? Well, we have that Arch street subway, on which millions were spent; we have the Locust street subway on which millions were spent; and neither of them in operation today.

We have case after case where millions of dollars were spent by the city fathers, and nothing accomplished for the money. They probably know the reason, and so do I, but not being sure I do not want to accuse or condemn.

Let me go one step further. Many institutions have been put up, more or less legalized, I will say—you take the House of Detention—money appropriated, but we have no House of Detention, Mr. President. Back in 1939 the United States Government offered the city of Philadelphia $60,000,000, but it was refused by the city fathers. The reason for the proposal to advance this money was that the city's water works were in bad shape, the sewage system was in a deplorable condition, but our city fathers refused the money. With that money we could have rehabilitated our water works and today we would not be in a position where we have to drink water that is treated with chlorine, and we would not have to smell the river as we go over the Delaware River bridge, or across the Schuylkill, but nevertheless they refused that help because they were afraid the government might have a few jobs. I attribute it strictly to politics.

As we look over this particular bill and see what offices the city council is interested in—and I dare say that of the twenty-two members, eighteen of them are directly, maybe more, but I am sure eighteen are in politics. Let us take them office by office, and I studied them very closely. If today, before I go ahead or proceed, we had city-county consolidation, it would obviate the necessity of proposing a bill like this because we would have one government in the city of Philadelphia instead of two, one for the city and one for the county. I can appreciate city council providing for city offices, but certainly not for county offices. It originated with the Assembly, and when I say the Assembly I mean our body, as well as the House, and the Governor.

Here is one office here, to begin with, the district attorney's office. The district Attorney, we can appreciate, can not be affected by this bill, becaus he is an elected officer. However, the district attorney in any county prosecutes all criminal cases and certainly should not be subjected to the dictates, whims or caprices of politicians, because we require law enforcement, and when it gets into the hands of politicans it is very dangerous. I may be one—I am a ward leader—but I see to it that the proper thing is done, and others should act as I or others do, to see that there is proper enforcement.

We have one assistant in the district attorney's office at $7,500 a year. Do you think for a moment that he should be subjected to the dictates of a city council composed of twenty-two members, eighteen of whom are politicians? Mr. President, I say it is extremely dangerous.

There is another assistant at $6,500, and down the line, three assistants, eight assistants, at various salaries. Chief county detective, appointed by Mr. Maurer. Our district attorney's salary is fixed by the Legislature. Can you appreciate what would happen, Mr. President, if these salaries were fixed by council? If these gentlemen would not do their bidding, I am safe in saying that their salaries would be reduced to the point where they would resign. Today we have a very capable and able staff prosecuting criminal cases, and it is very dangerous, Mr. President and members of the Senate, to put the district attorney's office in the hands of politicians. The district attorney's office, incidently, is a county office and not a city office.

Recorder of Deeds. All the positions under the Recorder of Deeds are recommended by the Republican leaders. I see not why they want any change, excepting to threaten or blackmail or club the Recorder of Deeds into giving councilmen certain jobs. What else could there be? Let us be honest with one another. They have been in office since 1939. In 1937 there was a Democratic administration. In 1939 nothing was done, in 1941 there was nothing done, or in 1943, but in 1945, while we are prosecuting a war with full vigor, they see fit to introduce this political bill. I warned the Senate time and again that politics would be injected into our scheme of things, and this is a very striking or glaring example of it.

Let us go further. The Board of Revision of Taxes, an office referred to by my colleague, Dr. Stiefel—seven members appointed by the Board of Judges. Very few, if any, of our judges play politics. While it is true there are seven members today, two of whom are politicians, the chairman is Mr. William Mead, and he is opposed to me and he fought against me; in fact, he put his brother up against me for the Senate last year; but I will say this much for him, that he is doing a swell job as chairman of the Board of Revision of Taxes, notwithstanding the fact that he is a Republican.

There is Bill Hamilton, Republican leader of the twenty-first ward, who is doing a swell job. He is a politician. They are two, but the other five, Charles Geuerin, Cornelius Haggerty, Charles A. Hild, Austin Norris, and one other member, are not politically inclined. They were appointed by the judges because they knew something about real estate, they knew what assessments meant, they knew what valuations meant. Therefore, the entire job can be entrusted to these men, and there are only two politicians, but they are doing their best. As a matter of fact, five of the seven are opposed to this particular bill, but they dare not come out openly because their heads may be chopped off by the council, assuming that this bill will go into effect, by cutting their salaries, and it may reach the point where they can not possibly work at the low salary to which they may reduce these jobs.

That is not sufficient in itself, but they want to go beyond that. There is one chief personal property assessor at $7,500 a year. They would like to have that job, it would be a pleasure to them, the many division leaders, the ward chairman that want it today, notwithstanding their inability to perform the work required of that office.

Eight personal property assessors at $5,000. Howard Berry, who today is a colonel in the United States Marines, had one of those jobs, and the politicians, particularly our council, objected to it. Howard Berry is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, he played football there, he was the pentathlon champion; everybody was out to get him, and if it were left to city council to fix salaries, Howard Berry would be out. Fortunately, Howard Berry today, notwithstanding the fact he is close to fifty, is serving in the United States armed Forces and obtained a leave of absence. But he is no politician; and there are others in the same category as Howard Berry.

Now here comes the rub. Thirty-six real estate assessors at $5,000 per annum each. Of the thirty-six real estate assessors only eight are in politics. The other twenty-eight are not, having been recommended by real estate boards, those interested in real estate, and judges, who certainly would not recommend anybody unless he was well qualified by both ability and temperment to perform the duties of the office. Thirty-six assistant real estate assessors at $2,500 each per year.

Can you appreciate why council wants these big, lucrative jobs, paying big money? So as to perpetuate control, without any thought or regard for valuations of the properties in the city of Philadelphia. Politics plays its part. There are many of us here who play a part in it, but when we do play a part we do not do it without regard for the welfare of our people, but if you leave it to these men in city council you can expect anything. I have reason to believe it, and if I wanted to give you an extended argument I could show you where it has been done, and they have used politics at the sacrifice of the health, welfare and education of our citizenry of the city of Philadelphia.

Let us go one step further. Take the Registration Commission, as mentioned by Senator Stiefel. Here is a body that registers voters. Today we have permanent registration. Frankly, I feel that it amounts to very little. It has been negatived, more or less, by amendments to the act. However, I have high regard for the chairman and the four members of the board. Ken Shoyer is a Republican, and chairman, and a lawyer. He is trying to do an honest job. We have Vic Moore, Mr Kerwick, Mr. Sweeney, and one other member, all paid $6,000 a year. None of them are playing politics; they are trying to do what they believe to be right. But our city council, consisting of eighteen politicians and four who are not, although indirectly they are connected with political organizations, want to control these jobs. If Mr. Shoyer and company do not do their bidding, what happens? Their salaries will be reduced.

We have one chief clerk, not exceeding $4,000, assistant clerks, and down the line. Mr. President, it is very dangerous when you inject politics into the right of franchise, and that is what would happen in this particular case.

Let us go further. There is the Register of Wills—job after job, $4,000, $3,000, $2,000, $2,200 and what not down the line. The Register of Wills, while it may be a county office and not a city office, collects moneys for the state and consequently the state should have some control over those jobs, because considerable money comes into the state treasury as the result of these estates. Whether it be through administration, wills or not, we collect those moneys, and certainly should have some say and not have it controlled by politicians.

Here is the prothonotary's office. The Prothonotary himself is appointed by the judges and may be there for life. Senator Scott, who served in this body back in the eighteen nineties, did an excellent job, and he is doing an excellent job today. I dare say many of those working in his office are politicians, but, frankly, they are doing the job . But when you put it in the hands of our city council it is highly dangerous.

There is a principal deputy at $8,000 a year, a second deputy at $6,000 a year, and other assistants designated as court clerks at $5,000 a year.

I feel that any man serving in the capacity of court clerk should free himself from any tinge or vestige of politics. He can vote as he pleases, and he can express his thoughts and sentiments, but certainly he should not inject politics into his position. It is highly dangerout to put it in the hands of city council.

Clerk of Quarter Sessions court. The clerk is elected and he can not be affected because he is an elected officer. However, there is one deputy clerk at $6,000 per year and eleven court clerks at $5,000 per year.

Do you see what this amounts to and what it means to the Republican organization of the city of Philadelphia? This is a means of clubbing elected officers into doing their bidding, when under the law they are required to perform the duties of their offices, but they can not very well perform them when our city council holds on to the purse-strings and can control their salaries, and if they do not do their bidding they can reduce their salaries. Where are we then? Nowhere.

And so on down the line, Mr. President. But you notice in this particular bill they were very cute and clever. It says it applies to all positions where the money is paid out of the city treasury, excepting clerks of court or any position that comes under a court. They did not want to offend the courts. If your argument is home rule, why not affect everybody in the city and county of Philadelphia and not exempt employes of the court, because there are many employes of the court that are in politics. They are smart. They say "we dare not offend Judge Brown and his Municipal Court, we dare not offend the Judges in the Common Pleas Courts, and there are twenty-one, it is highly dangerous." Pretty smart, pretty clever. It is part of the game, my friends, but if we are to be honorable let us do the job whole-hog or nothing, and not say "you come under city council because you are paid out of the city treasury, but because you are an employe of the court, and even though you may be engaged in politics, you are exempt although the city treasury pays you." Very cute and very clever. They are playing one end and playing the other end. Pretty smart.

Friends, they may argue that Philadelphia is seeking home rule. I wonder whether we realized, when we passed the silt bill, Brunner's bill, and entrusted all the powers with respect to prosecution to the Attorney General, denying the city solicitors and district attorney of every county the right to prosecute, whether we were not destroying home rule. Yes, some people can blow hot and cold, they can rationalize, but facts are facts. Here we argue that our Attorney General is the only one who has the right to prosecute, although Philadelphia is affected, but that is not home rule, you see. It is a matter of expediency.

There is the authorities bill affecting every authority created by any municipality. They may argue home rule. If that is home rule, why give the Public Utilities Commission, a state administrative body, the right to rule as to purchase and other things, if that is the argument? Mr. President, I say it is very dangerous at the present time.

If Senator Woodward's bill went through, or Senator Kephart's, which I read since last night, I think it is a very fine bill and I can appreciate the need for it. As a matter of fact, there would not be any need, because we would only have one body, if the city and county were consolidated, but in the meanwhile I say it is highly dangerous to put these very important jobs affecting the interests and welfare of the city of Philadelphia, into the hands of twenty-two men, eighteen of whom are politicans, who may club these important officers, or at least their chiefs, into doing things contrary to their better judgment, at the risk of losing many jobs or having salaries decreased.

I say this bill is ill-advised. It comes at a very inopportune time, particularly when we are at war, and particularly in view of what Governor Martin said, that we are here for a quick, business-like session, we want prosecution of the war in the quickest possible way. I predicted, as I did in 1943, that politics would be injected. This is an example of what is being done. I say to my colleagues, forget city council. They have lots to account for. I like them individually, but they have ignored the city of Philadelphia, they spent millions of dollars foolishly, and today the city of Philadelphia is in a rut, requiring the hocking of their best assets in order that they can pay their indebtedness, which arose as a result of foolish expenditures on subway tunnels that we are not even using today.

My friends, either we are politicians or not; either we are interested in the war or not. I say if we are politically minded, honest with ourselves—and I will allow for politicians—I say it is very dangerous to put matters of this character into the hands of cheap petty politicians, and I will ask my colleagues to vote "no".

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I just want to say a word in reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Jaspan. He stated that he was against the bill because it would enable city council to control certain elected officials and certain other officials in the city of Philadelphia, by reducing their salaries. If he had read the bill he would have found that the bill exempts salaries of elected officers which are or may be fixed by law, and that they are not covered by the bill at all. If the gentleman from Philadelphia had read the Constitution he would have found a provision in it which says: "No law shall extend the term of any public officer, or increase or diminish his salary or emoluments after his election or appointment," and that would apply to the Board of Revision of Taxes.

This is purely a home rule bill and does not do all the things the gentleman is talking about.

Mr. JASPAN. I can appreciate the fact, Mr. President, that elected officers are not affected, but this goes beyond elected officers. Let us not kid ourselves. If they did not have in mind the clubbing or the stampeding of certain heads of departments into doing certain things, they would not ask for this bill, there would not be any need for it.

Yes, I agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia as to the constitutional provisions, but that does not affect those who are employed, but only those who are elected by our people, heads of departments, such as the Coroner, Register of Wills and the District Attorney; there are other officers, like the prothonotary and the registration commissioners, who may be affected by this particular bill, but it certainly does not affect all the employes that come under the heads of departments.

I am not being cajoled into the belief that the Constitution applies to stenographers or county detectives or the chief county detective. You can stretch it as you like, when it suits you best, in order to make the worst reason appear the best reason.

Mr. KEPHART. I have nothing more to say except what I said before.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representativves with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 231, as follows:

An Act to amend section seven of the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 720) entitled "An act providing for the taking over by the Commonwealth under certain terms conditions and limitations of certain streets in cities of the second class second class A and third class as State highways and for the improvement construction reconstruction resurfacing and maintenance by the Commonwealth of certain defined widths of said streets imposing duties on such cities and on public utility companies using such streets providing that no assessment shall be made upon the Commonwealth in the elimination of any grade crossing thereon authorizing cities person association or corporation to enter into agreements with the Commonwealth to bear a portion of the cost of construction or maintenance providing for the assessment of certain portions of the cost of street improvements on abutting property owners regulating the replacement of certain facilities of public utility companies prohibiting the opening of said streets after improvement without a permit and providing penalty therefor regulating the maintenance of detours authorizing the increase of city indebtedness in certain cases and appropriating money in the Motor License Fund for the purpose of this act" providing for and regulating the change of width grade lines or location of state highways in such cities the ascertainment and assessment of damages and benefits to abutting property in connection therewith and the payment of damages by cities and the Commonwealth including the cost of the removal of certain structures and making appropriations from the Motor License Fund

Section 1 Section seven of the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 720) entitled "An act providing for the taking over by the Commonwealth under certain terms conditions and limitations of certain streets in cities of the second class second class A and third class as State highways and for the improvement construction reconstruction resurfacing and maintenance by the Commonwealth of certain defined widths of said streets imposing duties on such cities and on public utility companies using such streets providing that no assessment shall be made upon the Commonwealth in the elimination of any grade crossing thereon authorizing cities persons associations or corporations to enter into agreements with the Commonwealth to bear a portion of the cost of construction or maintenance providing for the asssessment of certain portions of the cost of street improvements on abutting property owners regulating the replacement of certain facilities of public utility companies prohibiting the opening of said streets after improvement without a permit and providing penalty therefor regulating the maintenance of detours authorizing the increase of city indebtedness in certain cases and appropriating money in the Motor License Fund for the purposes of this act" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 7 [The Department of Highways shall not change the widths lines or grades of the streets taken over under the provisions of this act or any section thereof without the consent of the city evidenced by an ordinance duly passed in accordance with laws applicable thereto and in the event of any change of width lines or grades in accordance with the provisions of this section the city shall be responsible for the payment of any damages which may be occasioned thereby such damages to be ascertained and paid in accordance with the laws applicable thereto]

Before the Secretary of Highways shall undertake the construction reconstruction or improvement of any State Highway on the plan of the State highway in any such city wherein a change of width grade or of existing lines and location is necessary and damage is likely to result to abutting property he shall notify the proper city in writing of the contemplated change in such existing width grade lines and location

After the city has by ordinance agreed to such changes or refused to agree thereto as hereinafter provided the Secretary of Highways may proceed with the work of construction reconstruction and improvement After the receipt of the notice as above provided the city if it approves such change of width grade or of existing lines and location and agrees thereto by ordinance shall when possible enter into an agreement with the owner or owners of said property as to amount of damage to be paid to the said owner or owners Whenever the amount so agreed upon shall exceed the sum of three hundred dollars ($300.00) the same shall not be paid by the city until the proposed agreement shall have been filed by the city in the office of the prothonotary of the county in which the property damage is situated If no exceptions are filed thereto within ten days after notice given by publication as hereinafter provided the city may pay the amount so agreed upon If exceptions thereto are filed within ten days after such notice the proceedings shall be presented to the court of quarter sessions for its approval The court shall fix a time for hearing the matter at which time the parties to such agreement and any taxpayer interested therein and their witnesses shall be heard and the court shall either approve or disapprove the agreement as it deems proper If the court disapproves the agreement it shall indicate a sum which it would approve for such case if the city and the property owner could agree thereon In such cases if the property owner and the city should agree on the amount of damages indicated by the court as acceptable to it such agreement may be entered into and shall be final and binding on the said parties without any further approval by the court Notice of the filing of such agreement in the office of the prothonotary and of the time and place of hearing in all such cases shall be given by one publication in one or more newspapers of general circulation throughout the county which shall state that any taxpayer may file exceptions to the agreement or may appear at such hearing and be heard together with his witnesses as the case may be Only such payments as to which no exceptions have been filed or as have been approved by the court as above provided shall be paid by the city In case an agreement satisfactory to the city and said owner or owners cannot be made and the approval of the court thereto secured the owner or owners of said property damaged thereby or the city may present their petition to the court of common pleas for the appointment of viewers to ascertain and assess such damages as well as any benefits The proceedings upon said petition and by the viewers shall be governed by existing laws relating to the ascertainment and assessment of damages as well as any benefits in such city The city or any other party to such proceedings may appeal from the award of the viewers to the court of common pleas and shall be entitled to a trial by jury From the judgment of the court of common pleas an appeal may be had to the Supreme or Superior Court as in other cases Such damages when ascertained shall be paid by the city in which the State highway is located

Whenever the city does not consent to or approve any such change of width grade or of existing lines and location and the Secretary of Highways determines such change to be necessary he shall when possible enter into an agreement with the owner or owners of said property damaged thereby or the Commonwealth may present their or its petition to the court of quarter sessions for the appointment of viewers to ascertain and assess such damage as well as any benefits in the manner provided by law for the opening of public highways and with the same right of appeal to the owner or owners and to the Commonwealth as is hereinbefore provided in cases where the city agreed to such but the damages when ascertained shall be paid by the Commonwealth out of moneys in the Motor License Fund

The city shall also be liable for any damages sustained by abutting property owners for a change of the width grade or lines of roads interecting State highways where such damages are made necessary as a result of the changing with their consent and approval of the width grade lines or location for the construction of a State highway Such damages shall be ascertained in the same manner as herein provided for damages occasioned as a result of the change with their consent and approval of width grade or of existing lines and location of State highways In case the city shall not have consented to and approved such change of width grade or of existing lines or location then such damage shall be paid by the Commonwealth and shall be ascertained in the same manner as herein provided for damages for land taken as a result of the change of width or of existing lines and location of State highways without the consent and approval of the city and such damages shall also be paid from the Motor License Fund

The city shall also provide for the removal of all structures within the lines of the highway as thus established unless otherwise provided by agreement between said city and the Secretary of Highways and in case the same is to be done by the Commonwealth the cost thereof shall also be paid out of the Motor License Fund

Any moneys in the Motor License Fund necessary to make the payments required by this section are hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Highways

If the city refuses to assume all damages in connection with the relocation or widening of any highway as hereinbefore provided the city and the Secretary of Highways may thereafter agree that the city shall pay a portion thereof to either the owners or to the Department of Highways or shall perform specified work for the benefit of the owner in lieu thereof or shall participate in the total damage expense in such other manner as may be agreed upon

Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as placing on the Commonwealth the payment of any damages or costs incident to the change of width grades lines or location of any State highway where such highway was widened or graded or the lines or location changed prior to the date this act takes effect but all such damages and costs shall be paid by the city in the manner provided by this act as if the city had agreed thereto as herein provided

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 249, as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 323) entitled "An act abating certain tax penalties and interest on unpaid county city borough town township school district poor district and county institution district taxes with certain exceptions prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof" by reinstating and extending the benefits of said act to persons having defaulted in the payments due in one thousand nine hundred forty-four and changing the time when the current taxes must be paid during the remainder of the installment period

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 323) entitled "An act abating certain tax penalties and interest on unpaid county city borough town township school district poor district and county institution district taxes with certain exceptions prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 All penalties and interest imposed on unpaid delinquent county city borough town township school district poor district and county institution district taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and forty-two and all previous years assessed and levied against any parcel or parcels of real estate are hereby abated if the unpaid delinquent taxes are paid as hereinafter provided if the authority levying the tax shall have notified the county treasurer within thirty days after this act becomes effective that the taxing authority has accepted by a majority vote the provisions of this act

In order to receive the benefits of the installment system of payment provided by this act twenty per centum or more of the unpaid delinquent taxes due for the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-two and for all previous years shall be paid on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-three twenty per centum or more on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-four twenty per centum or more on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-five twenty per centum or more on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-six and the unpaid balance on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-seven Provided That the taxes on such parcel or parcels of real estate levied for the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-three together with any interest and penalties due thereon shall be paid on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-three And provided further That the respective current taxes on such parcel or parcels of real estate assessed and levied by such taxing authority for the years subsequent to the year one thousand nine hundred and forty three during such installment periods together with any interest and penalties due thereon shall be paid [before they become delinquent For the purposes of this act a tax shall be deemed to become delinquent on the date when a penalty attaches to the tax] before or at the same time the installment for such year is paid If and whenever any of the said current taxes or any of the said installments are not paid when due and payable as herein provided then and in that event the total amount of the abated penalties and interest shall be revived and added to the unpaid taxes with the same force and effect as if such abated penalties and interest or portion thereof had never been abated and the taxpayer shall not thereafter be entitled to any further benefits or privileges under this act Provided however That any person who having made the payments required by the said act in the year one thousand nine hundred forty-three defaulted or failed to make the payments as provided by said act within the time fixed during the year one thousand nine hundred forty-four is hereby given the privilege of paying the one thousand nine hundred forty-four installment and the current taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred forty-four with any penalties and interest due thereon on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred forty-five together with payments due in one thousand nine hundred forty-five and by so doing such person shall be entitled to the full benefits and privileges of said act to the same extent as if such default had not been made

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 645, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the ponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Mercer, Senator 'homas.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Mercer permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Will the gentleman from Mercer tell me ne need for this bill, when these housing authorities ave been established in practically every city in the 'ommonwealth.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, this is an administrative leasure for better efficiency.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I wonder if the gentleman :om Mercer, Senator Thomas, is familiar with a bill that ook quite a bit of the time of the Senate, House Bill lo. 395 introduced by Mr. Salus, where they wanted to give us home rule. Does the gentleman from Mercer think this bill will give home rule?

Mr. THOMAS. Well, as our leader said, this is a streamlining of the housing authority.

Mr. BARR. I am not asking about your leader; I am asking the gentleman from Mercer what he has to say about it.

Mr. THOMAS. About which?

Mr. BARR. Does the gentleman from Mercer think this bill gives home rule?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, third class cities have this same provision.

Mr. BARR. I still press for an answer to my question. Does the gentleman from Mercer think that this bill provides for home rule, such as the majority side passed in House Bill No. 395 some fifteen or twenty minutes ago?

Mr. THOMAS. Whether it is home rule or not, I think it ought to be passed because this is an administration measure and is a good measure.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, if it is an administration bill, the administration ought to be criticized for the way the bill is drawn. First of all, if any one tries to read the bill, the bill is not even in seventh grade English; it does not make sense. The bill takes away the thing that we hear about so often from the other side—home rule. In the city of Pittsburgh we have a housing authority. I think the people of Pittsburgh think they have done the greatest job that has been done in any city, not only in the Commonwealth but in the country. They were one of the first to organize a housing authority under the bill passed in 1937. They went right to work. They have done a great job, not only in the war effort, providing homes for war workers, but also in slum clearance.

Perhaps the reason for this bill is that they have done too good a job, and maybe the Republican administration at Harrisburg wants to ham-string the Pittsburgh Housing Authority. That is the only reason I can see for passing a bill such as this. The bill as it is written, as it appears before us today, if and when it is passed, will naturally have to be recalled from the Governor, but notwithstanding that I will ask my colleagues and those on the other side who believe in home rule to vote "no" on this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

SENATE BILL No. 410 CALLED UP

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I call up on page 10 of today's Calendar Senate Bill No. 410, which was passed over in its order temporarily.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 410, entitled:

An Act relating to and regulating the care and maintenance of children away from their parents providing for the certification and licensing of child welfare organizations and foster homes; imposing duties and conferring powers upon the Department of Welfare; imposing duties upon juvenile courts; prohibiting certain advertising and prescribing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 8, by inserting after the word "board": "Child Welfare Organization" shall not include any child caring agency which has been legally incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania before the effective date of this act; Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 12, by inserting after the word "blood": "adoption"; Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 19, by inserting after the word "Blood": "Adoption"; Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 25, by striking out the word "No", and inserting in lieu thereof: "Any"; Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 26, by striking out the word "except"; Amend Sec. 2, page 3, line 3, by inserting after the word "blood": "adoption"; Amend Sec. 2, page 3, lines 4 to 7, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting in lieu thereof: "(f) persons receiving and maintaining a child or children for the purpose of adoption, (g) a child caring agency which has been legally incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania before the effective date of this act. No child under sixteen (16) years of age may be received or cared for away from its parents by any other person, organization, agency, institution or home".

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Mallery.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MALLERY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I would like to ask the author of the bill how much appropriation this bill carries with it.

Mr. MALLERY. $18,000.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, we have school teachers here from all over the state and we have been told that there is no money to give them the increase that they are asking for. I can not see why we are so quick to appropriate money for social workers to do this kind of work, when it is not necessary, when there are no complaints, and when the foster homes in Philadelphia are getting along all right.

So, Mr. President, I am going to vote present on this bill, until I have a chance to look over the amendments and find out if they suit my party, and if not I am going to vote "no" on the bill.

The Clerk continued to read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 3, page 3, lines 9, 10 and 11, by striking out all of said lines; Amend Sec. 5, page 5, line 11, by striking out the words "in a summary proceeding"; Amend Sec. 6, page 5, line 16, by striking out the figure "16", and inserting in lieu thereof: "sixteen (16)"; Amend Sec. 6, page 5, line 26, by striking out the figure "30", and inserting in lieu thereof: "thirty (30)"; Amend Sec. 6, page 5, line 27, by striking out the word "care", and inserting in lieu thereof: "cares"; Amend Sec. 6, page 5, line 27, by striking out the figure "16", and inserting in lieu thereof: "sixteen (16)"; Amend Sec. 6, page 6, line 2, by striking out the figure "16", and inserting in lieu thereof: "sixteen (16)"; Amend Sec. 7, page 6, lines 10, 11 and 12, by striking out the words "and which meets the standards of child placing established by rules and regulations of the department"; Amend Sec. 8, page 7, line 12, by inserting after the word "license": "where a license is required by this act"; Amend Sec. 8, page 7, line 25, by inserting after the word "purpose": "From any decision of the secretary rendered thereon, the person or agency aggrieved may appeal to the court of common pleas of the County wherein the person or agency aggrieved is located, the decision of which shall be final"; Amend Sec. 10, page 8, lines 13 and 14, by striking out the words "and summary proceeding"; Amend Sec. 11, page 8, line 25, by inserting after the word "upon": "summary"; Amend the bill, page 9, by inserting between lines 3 and 4: "Section 13. The provisions of this act shall not apply to bona fide boarding schools receiving only children of compulsory school age and meeting the requirements of existing laws relating to such schools"; Amend Sec. 13, page 9, line 4, by striking out the figure "13", and inserting in lieu thereof: "14"; Amend Sec. 14, page 9, line 13, by striking out the figure "14", and inserting in lieu thereof: "15"; Amend Sec. 15, page 9, line 20, by striking out the figure "15", and inserting in lieu thereof: "16".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 410, on third reading, as amended, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Wherever after disability or death any employe or his dependents shall have entered into a compensation agreement with [the] an employer liable for compensation under this act who has not accepted or complied with the provisions of section three hundred five or shall file a claim petition with the board against such employer he may file a certified copy thereof with the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county The prothonotary shall enter the amount stipulated in any such agreement or claimed in any such petition as a judgment against the employer If the agreement be approved by the department or compensation awarded as claimed in the petition the amount of compensation stipulated in the agreement or claimed in the petition shall be a lien as of the date when the agreement or petition was filed with the prothonotary Pending the approval of the agreement or the award of compensation no other lien which may be attached to the employer's property during such time shall gain priority over the lien of such agreement or award but no execution shall issue on any compensation judgment before the approval of the agreement or the award of compensation on the said petition

If the agreement be disapproved or after hearing compensation shall be disallowed the employer may file with the prothonotary of any county in which the petition or agreement is on record as a judgment a certified copy of the disapproval of the agreement or disallowance of compensation and it shall be the duty of such prothonotary to strike off the judgment

If the amount of compensation claimed be disallowed but another amount awarded the compensation judgment shall be a lien to the extent of the award as of the date of filing the petition with the prothontary with the same effect as to other liens and the same disability to issue execution thereon as if the compensation claimed had been allowed In such cases the prothonotary shall make such modification of the record as shall be appropriate

If the compensation payable under any agreement or award upon which judgment has been entered under the provisions of this section shall be modified suspended reinstated or terminated by a supplemental agreement executed under the provisions of section four hundred and eight or by an award or order made under the provisions of section four hundred and thirteen any party to such judgment at any time after such agreement has been approved by the department or after the expiration of the time allowed for an appeal from the award or order may file with the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county in which the judgment is on record a certified copy of such supplemental agreement award or order and it shall thereupon be the duty of the prothonotary to modify suspend reinstate or satisfy such judgment in accordance with the terms of such supplemental agreement award or order

Execution may issue by first filing with the prothonotary an affidavit that there has been a default in payments of compensation due on any judgment for compensation entered prior to the approval of the compensation agreement or an award on petition as soon as such agreement shall have been approved by the department or such award made as evidenced by the approval of the board of the award or by a certified copy thereof

Execution shall in all cases be for the amount of compensation and interest thereon due and payable up to the date of the issuance of said execution with costs and further execution may issue from time to time as further compensation shall become due and payable until full amount of the judgment with costs shall have actually been paid

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective the first day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-five

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, the hour is late and there is not much that I can say to augment what was so vigorously said last night on the floor of the Senate by the Minority Leader in connection with this bill, and the two bills which follow, dealing with unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation.

In his presentation of the minority position on these bills, the gentleman from Westmoreland was logical, convincing, powerful. If you examine the budget message of the Governor and the legislative objectives of the minority party, you will find there are some seven or eight items on which both parties seem to be in complete agreement.

At the outset of this session, at the invitation of the Governor of the Commonwealth, we agreed, to borrow the apt phrase of a Democratic leader in the Commonwealth, Mr. Lawrence, to cooperate but not capitulate. We had a series of meetings and at the outset it looked very much as though the legislative millenium had been reached in the state of Pennsylvania, since both parties were committed to increasing unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation benefits in this great state.

The Governor indicated in press conferences on several occasions that he wanted to sit down with the men representing labor in the state and with the men representing industry in the state, who have an essential interest in this piece of legislation. Several meetings were arranged but they failed to be in accord on the matter of increasing workmen's compensation benefits and unemployment compensation benefits. It may or may not be an odd coincidence, Mr. President, but these bills represent industry's point of view on this type of legislation.

The Democratic Party over the years has consistently maintained the position that it was a sad reflection on the moral responsibility of industry in the state that they failed to take care of their victims. When a plant is shut down, the expensive machinery is properly housed and greased and put away, but John Smith, the human element, is tossed out into the streets. In closing, Mr. President, I want to advise the members of the Senate that, while we are voting for these bills, I want to reaffirm the position so vigorously presented last night by the Minority Leader, that we think they do not go far enough in their application to the working men in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I want to draw the attention of the Senate to the fact that in the first statement made by the Governor he said that if labor, the four groups, the American Federation of Labor, the C.I.O., the United Mine Workers and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen could agree among themselves on what they wanted in a bill, he would favor the bill. When the four great labor unions of Pennsylvania got together and, after much discussion, agreed on a bill and presented it to the Governor, the Governor hedged on his previous statement of saying he would agree to a bill that all of labor had agreed to first. He then called in industry and asked industry to sit down with labor. Industry would not accept labor's bill and labor would not accept industry's bill.

Now we find on our Calendar a bill which the Governor said was a compromise and was written by him or suggested by him. This is not true. The bill we are voting upon is the same identical bill that industry offered to the four great labor unions of Pennsylvania and they refused.

I do not want to get in the minds of the people of Pennsylvania that the second statement of Governor Martin was the same as the first statement of Governor Martin. The first statement was, and I want to again emphasize it, that if the four labor unions, the Brotherhood, the C.I.O., the American Federation of Labor and United Mine Workers, agreed on a bill, this bill would be acceptable. He did not live up to his first promises to labor in Pennsylvania.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. HOLLAND. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. TALLMAN. Senator Holland, I would like to inquire when, where and to whom the Governor made a statement that he would accept a bill agreeable to the four labor unions.

Mr. HOLLAND. It appeared in all the press of Pennsylvania, Mr. President, and as a member of a labor union, I can say it was discussed on the floor of our union.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HOLLAND. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. TALLMAN. Senator Holland, would you produce for the members of the Senate the statement to which you refer?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, it would be necessary to check with the labor leaders of Pennsylvania, and I am positive that the labor leaders of Pennsylvania will reiterate what I have said, that the first statement of the Governor was that if the four great labor unions of Pennsylvania would agree on a bill, he would then support that bill.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I think the refusal of the gentleman from Allegheny to produce the statement, and the statement which he makes again, reiterating his former one, indicates that it, like so many other statements that have been made with regard to these bills and the Governor's part in them, are very loosely made on the floor of this Senate.

I would like to suggest, whether we agree or whether we do not agree with what these bills contain, and whether we agree or whether we do not agree with the distances that they go, is one matter, but certainly it seems to me to be an unfair position to take on the floor of this Senate, to indicate that the Governor of this Commonwealth has not kept his faith with the people with whom he dealt in this situation, and with the people of this Commonwealth.

I should like to suggest that certainly it seems to me unfair to take the position on the floor of this Senate that the Governor has failed in keeping faith with the people. I think it is well known that during all this controversy the Governor's position has been one that has been honorable, that has been fair, and one that has attempted with sincerity and with seriousness to bring about an agreement in thinking on this subject, and it seems to me that there ought not to be hurled this kind of political charge at the Governor, in face of the fact that he has attempted to do something that has not been done for many years in this Commonwealth, that is, to try to at least approach legislation of this kind with fairness to the people who are most interested in its passage.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TALLMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Will the gentleman from Lehigh advise the Senate whether or not the Governor at first had his meetings wholly with labor.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I do not know.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Lehigh state before the Senate whether or not he knows that the bill we have was a bill presented by industry after the meetings between the Governor and labor.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I can not answer that specifically. I can say however, that I did sit with some of the labor leaders of Pennsylvania, with some of the other members of the Senate, at a conference which was held, and I believe that out of that conference there developed a series of meetings which were held between representatives of industry and representatives of labor. I remember distinctly, sir, that at that time there was brought to the attention of that group the question as to whether or not those people representing labor were in a position to sit down freely and discuss this question and whether or not they were in a position to recede from the positions they had taken prior to that time, and the answer was that they thought that such conferences would be helpful and that they might bring about a happier situation.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, to inform the gentleman from Lehigh, the first few meetings were held between labor only and the Governor. After they had agreed on the bill, the Governor then asked them to sit down with industry. This was not in the agreement in the beginning. After the bill was agreed upon with labor the Governor made this statement, which appeared in all the press of Pennsylvania, that other people who were interested in labor did not agree with the bill agreed upon by the four labor unions.

I do not know what he meant by other people interested in labor, because organized labor in Pennsylvania is represented by four strong unions, and these were the unions speaking for the members, the hundreds of thousands, millions of members, who belong to these unions in Pennsylvania, they were speaking for the members, and as a staff member of the C.I.O., I might tell the gentleman from Lehigh they had authority to speak for the members because it was given to them.

I regret that at this time I can not give the exact quotations from the Governor, but I will before the session is over. I will try and get it from the papers and show the gentleman from Lehigh the first arrangement which labor accepted. Labor was very glad to hear the Governor state he would agree with them on a bill after labor had agreed among themselves. There was some disagreement between the United Mine Workers, the C.I.O., the brotherhoods and the A. F. of L., because all of them had men belonging to their unions who were engaged in diversified industry, and they wanted to be certain what they asked for would not affect that particular industry, but the United Mine Workers, the A. F. of L., the C.I.O. and the brotherhoods sat down and agreed upon a bill, which, in their estimation, would not affect their industry in competition with other states and would be agreeable to all. When this bill was presented, the Governor then made the statement that other people interested in labor had to be heard from. The next step was to ask them to sit down with industry. The bill brought in by industry is the same bill we are voting upon, exactly. Nothing has been changed.

I might add that on this industrial board a national committeeman of the Republican Party sat in representing the manufacturers.

Mr. BARR Mr. President, I think some of you missed the whole crux of this story. To my mind I think this is what happened with Governor Martin. Governor Martin, as we know, has political ambitions—he would like to be a candidate for the United States Senate next year, notwithstanding—and he knows that there always had been a difference between labor, particularly between the miners and the C.I.O., in regard to workmen's compensation, so when he threw this platitude out "If you men get together I will throw my support behind your bill," he at that time never thought the four main bodies of labor would get together. Then they had a meeting in Harrisburg one evening, with certain political leaders in the state, and they agreed on a bill and that is when the story changed in the Governor's office.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I think it is time to make one more observation and that is, particularly with respect to the workmen's compensation bill, that many of the provisions of the bill on our Calendar today were in an Act of 1937, passed by both the Democratic House and the Senate, taken out in 1939, when the Republicans took control, and here we are back all the way up to 1945, and we find that the Republicans have finally caught up with the Democatic Party and the people.

I think, at the rate of progress indicated by my colleagues on the other side of this Senate, it will not be long before the people will be at least sixteen years ahead of the Republican Party.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President and members of the Senate, it is unfortunate that Senator Dent was called away on account of a death in his family. If anybody knows what actually took place at the conference at the Governor's office between capital and labor, and if I am to accept his statement, and I am inclined to think he is sincere and honest about it, the Governor, realizing that capital and labor could not get together, said he would present a program of his own. A program subsequently was submitted to the body. I stated not only in one instance but on many instances last night, on the three bills that came before us, that they definitely represented the capitalists' program. Understand what I say, and I will repeat it, there was no compromise as to his program; it definitely represented the capitalists' program and nothing else.

However, if we were men and I feel that we are, in view of what has taken place in the family of Senator Dent, I feel we ought to hold this over until Monday night, when we expect him here.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this silly argument as to what the Governor said.

Everybody knows he advocated meetings between employer and employe representatives. To settle the whole thing I want to read from his message, as it appears on page 66 of the Legislative Journal, session of January 2, 1945, as follows:

"I recommend that the Legislature give consideration to a program of liberalization of the workmen's compensation, the unemployment compensation and the occupational disease laws. Such a program should give consideration to existing and prospective conditions confronting the state in competition with similar conditions in other states. I do hope that labor and industry will be able to agree upon fair and equitable amendments to the present laws. If they can not do so I will not shirk the obligation of making specific recommendations to the Legislature."

There is the whole story, Mr. President. This whole argument is simply a matter of taking schedules agreed upon and upping them in order that some political capital may be made. If this bill had a $22 maximum, the argument would be for $24; if it was $24, the argument would be for $26. That is the whole story, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

[Any employer required to file with the department any report necessary to enable the department to determine the amount of any contribution owning by such employer who shall neglect or refuse to do so within five days after the time such report should have been filed shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars which shall be in addition to all other penalties provided for in this act]

Any employer who has been determined by the department to be subject to the contributing provisions of this act and has been so notified and who neglects or refuses to file either the periodic report required by the department to establish the amount of such contributions or the periodic report required by the department showing the amount of wages paid to each employe or both on or before the date such reports are required to be filed shall pay a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) Such penalty shall apply to the reports for each period with respect to which such reports are required to be filed Provided That such penalty shall not apply to reports for any period with respect to which the last day for filing such reports is prior to a date on which the department has notified the employer that he has been determined an employer subject to the contributing provisions of this act unless the reports for such prior periods are not filed within thirty days after the employer has been so notified The penalties provided by this section shall be in addition to all other penalties provided for in this act

Section 5 Section three hundred and one of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-three (P. L. 639) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 301 Contributions by Employers Experience Rating

(a) Each employer shall pay contributions equal to the following percentages of wages paid or payable by him or it with respect to employment

(1) Nine-tenths per centum with respect to employment occurring during the calendar year 1936

(2) One and eight-tenths per centum with respect to employment occurring during the calendar year 1937

(3) Two and seven-tenths per centum with respect to employment occurring during the calendar years 1938 1939 1940 and 1941 [1942 and 1943]

[(4) A basic rate of two and seven-tenths per centum with respect to employment occurring during the calendar year 1944 and for each calendar year thereafter but the rate of contribution of each employer who has paid contributions under this act for at least four full calendar years whether prior or subsequent to the adoption of this amendment shall be subject to adjustment for each such calendar year beginning with employment occurring during the calendar year 1944 between a minimum rate of one per centum and a maximum rate of two and seven-tenths per centum in accordance with clause (c) hereof and for each calendar quarter in accordance with clause (f) hereof]

(b) [For the purposes of this section

(1) "Compensated Employe" means an employe to whom compensation was paid in a benefit year

(2) "Wages of a compensated employe" means wages which were paid to a compensated employe in the base year immediately preceding the employe's benefit year which wages shall be treated as though they had been paid in the calendar year in which the first compensation of the employe's benefit year was paid

(3) "Credit for reemployment" means for each employer the total of the amounts allowed as herein set forth for any former employes reemployed by him or employes resuming work commencing with the benefit years which begin in the calendar year nineteen hundred forty-one An employer who desires such a "credit for reemployment" shall notify the department in writing within thirty days after the end of the employe's benefit year that he reemployed within such benefit year a compensated employe For benefit years which began in one thousand nine hundred and forty-one or one thousand nine hundred and forty-two such notice may be given within thirty days after the end of the employe's benefit year or within sixty days after the effective date of this act whichever date is later If the department finds that any such employe did not receive benefits within such benefit year in excess of seventy-five per centum of the maximum benefits payable to him in the benefit year then for the determination of the "employer's experience" the total wages paid to such compensated employes shall be reduced by an amount equal to the percentage indicated in the following table

Maximum benefits received by an employe during a benefit year	Credit against wages paid to a compensated employe
Not more than 25%	75%
More than 25% and not more than 50%	50%
More than 50% and not more than 75%	25%

Such credits for benefit years which began in the calendar year nineteen hundred forty-one shall be applicable to nineteen hundred forty-two and credits for benefit years which began in nineteen hundred forty-two or thereafter shall be made for the calendar year in which the finding is made by the department and no attempt shall be made to relate such credits to the period in which the reemployment occurred

(4) "Employer's Experience" means a percentage obtained by dividing the total wages paid by an employer to his compensated employes less any credit for reemployment during the last three completed calendar years by the total wages paid by said employer to all his employes during such three calendar years

(5) "State Experience" means a percentage obtained by dividing the total amount of compensation paid from the Unemployment Compensation Fund during the last three completed calendar years by the total wages of all compensated employes for such three years such percentage to be adjusted to the nearest multiple of one per centum]

Each employer shall pay contributions equal to two and seven-tenths per centum of wages paid by him or it with respect to employment occurring subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one Provided That notwithstanding the provisions of this section prior to the effective date of this amendment with respect to wages paid during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and forty-four for employment occurring subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and with respect to wages paid during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and forty-five for employment occurring subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one such percentage may be adjusted according to the provisions of this act prior to the effective date of this amendment and provided further that with respect to wages paid during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and forty-six for employment occurring subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and with respect to wages paid during each calendar year thereafter for employment occurring subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one such percentage may be adjusted between a minimum rate of one per centum and a maximum rate of two and seven-tenths per centum in accordance with the following provisions of this section if the employer has paid contributions under this act for one or more quarters in each of the five calendar years immediately preceding the year for which the rate is applicable Notwithstanding the provisions of section three hundred eleven any employer who prior to the enactment of this amendment may have paid contributions on wages paid during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-four or one thousand nine hundred forty-five for employment occurring prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred forty-four at a rate of two and seven-tenths per centum such employer shall not be entitled to a refund of any portion of such contributions paid on the basis that this amendment reduces the amount of contributions required to be paid with respect to such wages but such employer may make application for adjustment in connection with subsequent contribution payments as provided in section three hundred eleven of any amount which he has paid with respect to such wages which is in excess of the amount of contributions required to be paid with respect to such wages under the provisions of this act as amended

(c) The rate of contribution payable by an employer entitled to an adjustment between the minimum rate of one per centum and the maximum rate of two and seven-tenths per centum for each calendar year commencing with the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-four shall be determined prior to the due date of his first contribution for the year in accordance with the following table

(g) Successor-in-interest (1) Pursuant to rules adopted by the department an employer who prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six acquires an organization trade or business in whole or in part from another employer shall immediately notify the department and for the purpose of ascertaining the rate of contribution of the succeeding employer his "Employer's Experience" shall include that of the prior employer as related to the whole or part of the organization trade or business acquired Such a succeeding employer shall receive full credit for the years during which the former employer made contributions as to the organization trade or business acquired

(2) An employer who subsequent to the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-five transfers all or substantially all of his or its entire organization trade or business to a successor-in-interest may jointly make application with such successor-in-interest for transfer of the "Employer Experience" of the preceding employer to the succeeding employer including credit for the years during which contributions were paid by the preceding employer The department may allow such transfer of "Employer Experience" only if pursuant to rules and regulation adopted by the department it finds that the "Employer Experience" of the preceding employer may be considered indicative of the future "Employer Experience" of the succeeding employer A transfer of "Employer Experience" having been applied for and approved by the department the entitre "Employer Experience" of the predecessor shall be transferred to the successor as of the date of such transfer and thereafter the predecessor shall not be entitled to consideration for an adjusted rate based upon his experience prior to the date of such transfer

(h) The department shall promptly notify each employer of his rate of contributions for the calendar year determined as provided in this section and for each calendar quarter when modifications in rates are made in accordance with paragraph (f) The department shall [promptly upon written request from him] furnish each employer with a statement showing the base year wages from such employer of each of his compensated employes [the amount of benefits paid each of such employes and the period of unemployment for which they were paid] and the benefit year to which such wages relate The determination of the department shall become conclusive and binding upon the employer unless within thirty days after the mailing of notice thereof to the employer's last known post office address the employer files an application for review and redetermination setting forth his reasons therefor The department may if it deems the reasons set forth by the employer insufficient to change the rate of contribution deny the application otherwise it shall grant the employer a fair hearing The employer shall be promptly notified of the denial of his application or of the department's redetermination both of which shall become final and conclusive within thirty days after the mailing of notice thereof to the employer's last known post office address unless the employer shall appeal by petition from the action of the department to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County within such time

(i) The petition filed in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County shall set forth the reasons why the employer deems the rate of contribution determined by the department is incorrect No question shall be raised in any such petition except such as were set forth in the application for review and redetermination by the department A copy of the petition shall be served on the secretary or his deputy The court shall fix a time for hearing the petition and after hearing shall enter such order affirming or changing the rate of contribution determined by the department as to it appears just and proper From the decision of the court an appeal may be taken by the department or the employer to the Supreme or Superior Court as in other cases

(j) Pending the determination of the correct rate of contribution payable by an employer where an appeal to court has been taken the employer shall be liable to the payment of contributions at the rate as determined by the department But if the rate of contribution is changed by order of court then the department shall without application by the employer make an adjustment thereof in connection with subsequent contribution payments as provided in section three hundred eleven of this act or the employer may apply for a refund in accordance with said section

(k) [The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment and shall remain in effect for the duration of the present war and thereafter until the end of the calendar year in which occurs the beginning of the first regular session of the legislature which meets after the President of the United States declares that the present state of war no longer exists]

Each employer shall be given notice of the filing of applications for benefits by his former employes as provided in section five hundred one Notice having been properly given as provided in such section no employer shall have standing in any proceeding involving his rate of contributions to contest the chargeability to his account of any wages of a compensated employe on the grounds that he was not given sufficient or adequate notice or opportunity to be heard

(1) The provisions of this section shall be effective only for the duration of the present war and thereafter until the end of the calendar year in which occurs the beginning of the first regular session of the Legislature which meets after the President of the United States declares that the present state of war no longer exists

Section 6 Section three hundred and three of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred and forty-two (P. L. 60) is hereby repealed

Section 7 Sections three hundred and eight point one three hundred and eleven and subsection (d) of section three hundred and twelve of said act as amended or added by the act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred and forty-two (P. L. 60) are hereby amended or further amended as the case may be to read as follows

(e) Has been [totally] unemployed for a waiting period of [at least two weeks prior to the week for which the first compensable claim is filed The two weeks of total unemployment need not be consecutive] one week

No week shall be counted as a week of [total] unemployment for the purposes of this subsection (1) unless it occurs within the benefit year which includes the week with respect to which such employe claims compensation Provided That [the two weeks immediately preceding a benefit year shall be deemed (for the purpose of this subsection only) to be within such benefit year] this requirement shall not interrupt the payment of compensation for consecutive weeks of unemployment or (2) if compensation has been paid or is payable with respect thereto or (3) unless the [individual] employe was eligible for compensation with respect thereto under all other provisions of this section and was not disqualified with respect thereto under section four hundred and two (a) (b) [and] (d) and (e)

Section 9 Section [402] four hundred and two of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-three (P. L. 337) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 402 Ineligibility for Compensation An employe shall be ineligible for compensation [or waiting period credit] for any week

(a) In which his unemployment is due to failure without good cause either to apply for suitable work at such time and in such manner as the department may prescribe or to accept suitable work when offered to him by the employment office or by [his previous employer In determining whether or not any work is suitable for an individual the department shall consider the degree of risk involved to his health safety and morals his physical fitness and prior training and experience and the distance of the avalaible work from his residence] any employer Provided That such employer simultaneously notifies the employment office of such offer

(b) In which his unemployment is due to voluntarily

leaving work without good cause Provided That no employe shall be deemed to be ineligible under this section where as a condition of continuing in employment such employe would be required to join or remain a member of a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization or to accept wages hours or conditions of employment not desired by a majority of the employes in the establishment or the occupation or would be denied the right of collective bargaining under generally prevailing conditions In determining whether or not an employe has left his work voluntarily without good cause the department shall give consideration to the same factors insofar as they are applicable provided with respect to the determination of suitable work under section four (t)

(c) With respect to which or a part of which he has received or is seeking unemployment benefits under an unemployment compensation law of any other state or of the United States Provided That if the appropriate agency of such other state or of the United States finally determines that he is not entitled to such unemployment benefits the disqualification shall not apply

(d) In which [the employe's total] his unemployment is due to a voluntary suspension of work resulting from an industrial dispute at the factory establishment or other premises at which he is or was last employed [but this disqualification shall apply only to the week in which the suspension occurred and for the three consecutive weeks of total unemployment which immediately follow such week] Provided That this disqualification shall apply only to any week of unemployment which in whole or in part includes any part of a period beginning with the day on which such suspension occurs and ending with (i) the last day of the fourth calendar week immediately following the calendar week in which such suspension occurs or (ii) the day on which such suspension was terminated whichever is the earlier Provided further That this subsection shall not apply if it is shown that (i) he is not participating in or directly interested in the industrial dispute which caused the suspension of work and (ii) he does not belong to a grade or class of workers of which immediately before the commencement of the suspension there were members employed at the premises at which the suspension occurs any of whom are participating in or directly interested in the dispute except That if in any case separate branches of work which are commonly conducted as separate businesses in separate premises are conducted in separate departments of the same premises each such department shall for the purpose of this subsection be deemed to be a separate factory establishment or other premises

(e) In which his unemployment is to his discharge or temporary suspension from work for willful misconduct connected with his work

Section 10 Sections four hundred and four and four hundred and seven of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-three (Pamphlet Laws 717) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 404 Rate and Amount of Compensation Compensation shall be paid with respect to each eligible employe whose benefit year [began] begin prior to June first one thousand nine hundred [and forty-three] forty-five in accordance with the provisions of this act prior to that date and with respect to each eligible employe whose benefit year begins subsequent to May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and [forty-three] forty-five [and who is totally unemployed and is not disqualified under any provisions of this act at a weekly rate and for a number of weeks to be determined in accordance with the following provisions by reference to Table I if the balance in the Unemployment Compensation Fund is in excess of one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation during any twelve consecutive months or to Table II if the balance in said fund is equal to or less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation during any twelve consecutive months as set forth in the tables in this section] in accordance with the following provisions of this section

(a) The employe's weekly benefit rate shall be that rate which appears in "Part B" and which is on the same horizontal line in "Part A" as the interval which includes his "highest quarterly wage"

[(d)] (b) The "highest quarterly wages" of an employe shall be the total wages (computed to the nearest dollar) which were paid to such employe in that calender quarter in which such total wages were highest during the base year

(c) Each eligible employe who is totally unemployed with respect to any week ending subsequent to the sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-five and prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six shall be paid with respect to such week compensation in an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate No payment shall be made for any week ending during such period unless the employe has been totally unemployed with respect to such week and has served one waiting week as required under section four hundred one (e) Provided That with respect to such week the employe has been totally unemployed For purposes of this subsection an employe shall be deemed totally unemployed with respect to any week during which he performs no services and with respect to which no remuneration is paid or payable to him or to any week of less than fulltime work if the remuneration paid or payable to him with respect to such week does not exceed three dollars ($3.00)

(d) Each eligible employe who is unemployed with respect to any week ending the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-six or thereafter shall be paid with respect to such week compensation in an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate less that part of the remuneration if any paid or payable to him with respect to such week which is in excess of three dollars ($3.00) such compensation if not a multiple of one dollar ($1.00) shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1.00) Provided That if at the end of any calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months the maximum amount of compensation payable to any employe for a week of unemployment ending during the next calendar quarter shall not be in excess of eighteen dollars ($18)

(e) [The maximum number of weeks for which an employe may receive compensation for total unemployment during a benefit year shall be the number of weeks which appears at the top of a column under "Part C" to be ascertained by locating on the same horizontal line on which his weekly benefit rate appears the interval which includes the total wages paid to him during his base year]

Any otherwise eligible employe shall be entitled during his benefit year to an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate multiplied by the number which appears at the top of a column under "Part C" to be ascertained by locating on the same horizontal line on which his weekly benefit rate appears the interval which includes the total wages paid to him during his base year Provided That if at the end of any calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months no employe shall be paid compensation with respect to weeks of unemployment ending during the next calendar quarter in an amount which together with any amounts previously paid with respect to the same benefit year would be in excess of sixteen times the employe's weekly benefit rate or two hundred and eighty-eight dollars ($288) whichever is the lesser

(i) was employed in employment as defined in section 4 (1) at some time during the one-year period immediately preceding the date on which he last entered active military or naval service and (ii) makes application for benefits under the provisions of this section in the proper manner and on the form prescribed by the department (iii) makes claim for compensation in the proper manner and on the form prescribed by the department with respect to employes making claim for compensation under the provisions of other sections of this act (iv) is qualified under the provisions of section four hundred and one (b) (d) and (e) (v) is not ineligible under the provisions of section four hundred and two and (vi) has exhausted all rights to which he may be entitled under Title V of the Act of Congress known as the "Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944"

(b) All claims for compensation filed pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be with respect to weeks ending within the two year period immediately following the date of such individual's discharge or release from active military or naval service

(c) The maximum amount of compensation payable to an individual under the provisions of this section as amended shall be reduced by the amount of compensation if any which has been paid or is payable to such individual under the provisions of this section prior to the effective date of this amendment

(d) No individual who is entitled to compensation under the provisions of this section shall be entitled to compensation under any other provisions of this act with respect to wages paid prior to the date he entered active military or naval service and

(e) No compensation shall be paid under the provisions of this section with respect to weeks ending on a day more than five years subsequent to the termination of the present war

Section 11 Section five hundred and one of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred and forty-two (P. L. 60) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 501 [Initial Determination of Compensation Appeals The department shall promptly examine any application for benefits or claim filed and on the basis of the facts found by it shall determine whether or not the application for benefits or claim is valid The determination of any application for benefits shall include the determination of the first day of the benefit year the weekly benefit rate and the number of benefit weeks payable The claimant and other affected parties shall be promptly notified of the decision and the reason therefor in writing except that no notification shall be necessary when the department shall approve a claim for a week of total unemployment Unless the claimant or other affected parties files an appeal from such decision with the board within ten calendar days after such notification was delivered to him personally or was mailed to his last known post office address and applies for a hearing such decision of the department shall be final and compensation shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith In the event that an appeal is filed with the board the payment of any contested amount of compensation shall be withheld pending determination of the claim but any uncontested amount of compensation allowed in any decision shall be paid notwithstanding any appeal which may thereafter be taken Provided That when a referee or the board affirms a decision of the department allowing compensation such compensation shall be paid notwithstanding any further appeal]

Determination of Compensation Appeals

(a) The department shall promptly examine each application for benefits and on the basis of the facts found by it shall determine whether or not the application is valid Notice shall be given by the department in writing to (i) the last employer of the claimant stating that an application has been filed by the designated employe (ii) the claimant and each base year employer of the claimant stating whether or not the claimant is eligible under section four hundred and one (a) and if declared eligible thereunder the weekly benefit rate and the maximum amount of compensation payable Provided That where the "Employer Experience" of a base year employer has been transferred to a successor-in-interest such notice shall be given to the successor-in-interest and not to the original base year employer and Provided further That no notice need be given to a base year employer who has been released by the department from filing contribution reports If any base year employer or last employer of the claimant notifies the department within ten (10) days after notice has been given as required by this subsection of any fact which might raise a question as to the validity of the application for benefits and the department on the basis of all the facts found by it determines the application for benefits valid such base year employer or last employer shall be further notified by the department in writing of the reason for such determination

(b) The department shall promptly examine each claim for waiting-week credit and each claim for compensation for a week of unemployment and on the basis of the facts found by it shall determine whether or not the claim is valid Notice need not be given if the claim is determined valid but if the claim is determined invalid notice shall be given by the department in writing to the claimant stating that the claim is invalid and the reason therefore

(c) The department shall notify any employer or claimant who has been notified as required under subsections (a) and (b) of this section of any revision made in the determination as contained in the original notice given to such employer or claimant

(d) Unless the claimant or last or base year employer of the claimant files an appeal with the board from the determination contained in any notice as required to be furnished by the department under section five hundred and one (a) (b) and (c) within ten (10) calendar days after such notice was delivered to him personally or was mailed to his last known post office address and applies for a hearing such determination of the department with respect to the particular facts set forth in such notice shall be final and compensation shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith In the event that an appeal is filed with the board the payment of any contested amount of compensation shall be withheld pending determination of the claim but any uncontested amount of compensation allowed in any decision shall be paid notwithstanding any appeal which may thereafter be taken Provided That when a referee or the board affirms a decision of the department allowing compensation such compensation shall be paid notwithstanding any further appeal

Section 12 Section six hundred and one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, the Senate has my definite assurance that I shall not talk longer than two minutes on this bill. I simply want to make a general observation. It is axiomatic that you get better treatment in the house of your friends; that is as self-evident as night following day.

Last night I heard the Majority Floor Leader, in answering the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, say that this bill resulted from a two year study, which might have created the erroneous impression in the minds of some of the members of the Senate that this bill was born and conceived and nurtured in the Republican Party, and I simply want to remind the members of the Senate that in the May Special Session of 1936 one of the subjects to be considered was the question of an unemployment compensation act. The then Republican controlled Senate killed the bill, notwithstanding the fact that the tax on unemployment compensation, in the event that no bill had been enacted, would have gone to other states which had passed enabling legislation.

Mr. President, when the Democratic Party, for the first time in ninety years, controlled the executive and legislative branches of government, on December 1, 1936, they enacted an unemployment compensation law. That is why I feel, Mr. President, that the recommendations, which were rejected by the Majority Party, if properly put into the bill, would have represented at least the sentiments of friends of the bill, rather than the sentiments of those who, had they had their will in 1936, there would be no unemployment compensation law in this state.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 687, as follows:

An Act to amend sections eleven hundred and five and eleven hundred and fifteen of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by creating a conclusive presumption that roads not used for public travel or maintained and kept in repair by the expenditure of township funds for a period of at least twenty-one years have been vacated and by providing a procedure for the vacation of roads not used for public travel and not maintained or kept in repair for a period of ten years

Section 1 Section eleven hundred and five of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1105 Every road not of record which has been used for public travel and maintained and kept in repair by the expenditure of township funds for a period of at least twenty-one years and upwards shall be deemed to be a public road of the width of at least thirty-three feet notwithstanding the fact that there is no public record of the laying out of such road or a dedication thereof for public use In all such cases the lawful laying out and opening or dedication of such roads of the width hereinbefore specified shall be conclusively presumed Every road whether of record or not which has not been used for public travel or has not been maintained or kept in repair by the expenditure of township funds for a period of at least twenty-one years and upwards shall be deemed not to be a public road and in all such cases the lawful vacation of such roads shall be conclusively presumed

Section 2 Section eleven hundred and fifteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1115 Whenever the supervisors of any township deem it advisable to construct change or alter any part of any public road under their supervision within this Commonwealth or to vacate any abandoned portion of a State highway not vacated by the Department of Highways and can agree with the property owners affected by such change alteration or vacation they may change alter or vacate such part of such public road as contemplated in such agreement without the formality of a view

No such change or alteration of any part of any public road shall be made the costs and expenses of which including damages to such township shall exceed five hundred dollars A petition setting forth the facts regarding such change alteration or vacation accompanied by a map or draft of the same shall be presented to the court of quarter sessions for approval before such actual change alteration or vacation is made whereupon the new location approved by the court shall be taken to be the public road and the old location shall be vacated or the abandoned State highway shall be vacated as the case may be

Whenever the supervisors of any township determine by resolution duly adopted at a regular meeting that any public road or portion thereof has not been used for public travel and has not been maintained or kept in repair by the expenditure of township funds for a period of at laest ten years they may present their petition to the court of quarter sessions praying for a decree declaring such road or portion thereof to be vacated The petition shall set forth the fact of adoption and the text of such resolution and shall fully describe the location of the road or portion thereof in question and if no answer is filed within sixty days after the petition is filed the court shall upon proof of publication as hereinafter provided enter a decree as prayed If an answer is filed within such time the court shall hear evidence upon the single issue of whether or not the road or portion thereof in question has been used for public travel or maintained and kept in repair by the expenditure of township funds during the period of ten years last past and upon this issue the respondent shall have the burden of proof If the court determines the issue in favor of the petitioners it shall enter a decree as prayed Notice of filing such petition shall be given by publishing once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the township where the road or portion thereof in question is located and by posting at each end of such road or portion thereof a statement setting forth the date of filing the petition a summary of its contents and the final date for filing an answer thereto written notice served personally or by registered mail shall be given to the owner or owners of a residence abutting the road

Section 3 This act shall be effective immediately upon its enactment

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 717, on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the playing of certain sports on Sunday after certain hours where the electors of a municipality or township vote in favor of the same; providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors; prescribing penalties; and repealing inconsistent laws go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 727, as follows:

An Act to provide for the sentencing of male persons convicted of certain crimes the commitment of defective delinquents and repealing certain laws

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 For the more convenient punishment of criminals and the treatment of defective delinquents this Commonwealth shall constitute one district and every male person who shall be convicted in any court of this Commonwealth of any crime or crimes and who would be sentenced by the court to an indefinite sentence in a penitentiary or to a general sentence in an industrial school shall hereafter be sentenced by the proper court to "a State institution" either on an indefiuite sentence with a maximum and a minimum indicated or on a general sentence as the case may be And every person who has been determined by law to be a defective delinquent shall be committed to "a State institution" by the court ruling such determination

Section 2 Nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply to death sentences

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts in so far as they are inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 4 This act shall become effective on the date fixed by the Governor in a proclamation declaring the establishment of a classification center for the diagnosis and classification of convicted persons and defective delinquents

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of Senate Bill No. 727, Mr. Troutman.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Northumberland consent to be interrogated?

Mr. TROUTMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. Will the gentleman from Northumberland, Senator Troutman, tell me whether he introduced this bill by request?

Mr. TROUTMAN. I did.

Mr. COX. At the request of whom?

Mr. TROUTMAN. The Department of Justice.

Mr. COX. Can the gentleman tell me where the idea was conceived?

Mr. TROUTMAN. The idea was conceived by the Governor, who had received a report from a committee, which he had appointed in 1944, to study the penal and correctional system of the Commonwealth.

Mr. COX. Will the Presiding Officer permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair desires to advise the gentleman that the Chair can not be interrogated.

Mr. COX. Will the Chair relinquish the gavel at this time and take the floor and be interrogated.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is unable at this time to take the floor. The gentleman represents a party which has been trying to unseat the Chair for quite some time.

Mr. COX. I know the rest of the members of the Senate admire the persuasiveness of the now Presiding Officer, and we Senators hope you continue to occupy the same position that you now occupy.

The remarks I have to make will be very brief; they are applicable to this entire series of bills that have been introduced by Senator Troutman. It is very gratifying to me to see on this Calendar this series of bills. Ever since I have been in the Senate I have been fighting for reform in the penal system of Pennsylvania, and I think these bills go a long way toward making that reform.

In 1943 a resolution, which I proposed, passed this Senate. As a result of that resolution the Joint State Government Commission set up a subcommittee to investigate penal institutions in Pennsylvania. The now Acting Lieutenant-Governor, or President Pro Tempore of the Senate, or whatever the title might be, is the general chairman of that committee which is making the investigation. When we came here in January, at the beginning of the session, our committee agreed, since our investigation had not been completed, we would present no legislation, as we felt that it was advisable that the investigation continue, and then in 1947, after a careful study had been made and we knew where we were going, legislation could be introduced.

I am glad to see at this time that the specific bills on this Calendar would fit in with any plan which would be introduced in 1947 by this subcommittee. I only have one objection, and that is to the manner in which the bills were introduced. It is true that the Governor set up his own special advisory committee to make an investigation of penal institutions—that, of course, was his prerogative and his right—but at the same time the Legislature had a committee which was making this investigation, and had I been permitted to interrogate the Presiding Officer, I know, in response to my questions, he would have divulged the fact that at no time was he, as chairman of this legislative investigating commission, considered or questioned as to what plans the commission or committee might have.

There is one thing about these bills I do not like, and that is that they do give additional power to the vacillating and impudent Department of Welfare, but I hope by 1947 the Legislature of Pennsylvania will see fit to establish a Department of Corrections, and that the head of that department will have the status of an officer in the cabinet of the Governor. This whole question of penal affairs and parole has become so important and so involved in Pennsylvania that there should be a separate department to handle affairs of that nature.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 728, as follows:

An Act relating to the more effective treatment of persons convicted of crime or committed as defective delinquents creating in the Department of Welfare the Pennsylvania Correctional Diagnostic and Classification Center providing for the diagnosis and classification of persons sentenced or committed by the courts to "a State institution" fixing the responsibility for costs of transportation and maintenance of such persons prescribing duties of the courts and the powers and duties of the Department of Welfare relative thereto making civil and criminal laws applicable to penitentiaries and persons therein or responsible therefor applicable in the case of the said institution

Section 1 For the more effective treatment of persons convicted of crime in this Commonwealth and sentenced to "a State institution" and to make possible the more intelligent treatment of persons determined under the law to be defective delinquents a classification center for the diagnosis and classification for assignment to the proper State institution is hereby established It shall be known as the Pennsylvania Correctional Diagnostic and Classification Center hereinafter referred to as the Diagnostic and Classification Center

Section 2 The Secretary of Welfare with the approval of the Governor is hereby authorized and directed to designate set apart and equip so much of the land and buildings of the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Camp Hill as may be requisite for use by the Department of Welfare for the Diagnostic and Classification Center

Section 3 The Diagnostic and Classification Center shall be under the management and control of the Department of Welfare

Section 4 Every person hereafter sentenced by any court in this Commonwealth to "a State institution" except those condemned to death and every person hereafter committed as a defective delinquent shall be sent to and received by the Diagnostic and Classification Center

Section 5 Every person delivered to and received by the Diagnostic and Classification Center in accordance with this act shall be therein confined diagnosed and classified by the Department of Welfare for incarceration or care in the State institution deemed appropriate and transferred to such institution either for service of sentence or for custody as a defective delinquent as the case may be

Section 6 Upon transfer of each person from the Diagnostic and Classification Center the Department of Welfare shall make a written report of its examination and findings which shall include a designation of the institution of transfer and the date of transfer Within forty-eight hours after the transfer this report shall be filed with the clerk of the court from which the person was sentenced or committed A copy of such report shall be sent to the institution to which the person was transferred to the Pennsylvania Board of Parole and to the Bureau of Correction in the Department of Welfare The report in the office of the clerk of court shall be impounded and shall be accessible only upon authorization in writing by a judge of the court from which the person was sentenced or committed

Section 7 The Department of Welfare shall have the power to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this act

Section 8 The cost of transporting persons to and from the diagnositc and classification center and the cost of their maintenance therein shall be borne by the Commonwealth and the several counties to the extent and in the manner now provided by law

Section 9 Nothing herein contained shall be construed to limit the authority which the Department of Welfare now has by law to transfer persons from one institution to another

Section 10 All laws civil and criminal not inconsistent herewith which are applicable to penitentiaries and to persons in charge thereof responsible therefor or working or incarcerated therein shall be applicable in the case of the diagnostic and classification center

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1082, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 115) entitled "An act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in cities of the first class as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries prescribing certain procedure for the conduct of elections and primaries and the challenge and proof of qualifications of electors and prescribing the powers and duties of citizens parties bodies of electors registration commissions commissioners registrars inspectors of registration and other appointees of registration commission election officers municipal officers departments and bureaus police officers courts judges prothonotaries sheriffs county commissioners peace officers county treasurers county controllers registrars of vital statistics real estate brokers rental agents certain public service companies persons firms and corporations operating vehicles for moving furniture and household goods and boards of school directors and imposing penalties" by changing the provisions of said act as to the registration of electors before and after certain elections the preparation of street lists the cancellation of registrations for failure to vote and the destruction of records

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I understand that the author of this bill, Mr. Smith, has made some agreement with the members of the Registration Commission, both Republican and Democrat. Apparently some error was made in making some amendments to the bill. This is a House Bill, and I do not think any time would be lost if we held it up until tomorrow. I would like to talk to Mr. Smith. Frankly, I am not opposed to the bill, but I want to be fair about this proposition. It is a House bill. It will be only holding it over twenty-four more hours, until I get an opportunity to talk to the registration commissioners in Philadelphia, both Republican and Democrat, and also the sponsor of the bill. With that in mind I ask that it be held over until tomorrow. After that I will make no further mention of it.

Mr. FARRELL. Once again I am going to say I do not object to this bill going over. Nobody knows any better than Senator Jaspan what this bill does. Senator Jaspan told me that he waited on the Registration Commission of Philadelphia. He said it made a few minor changes to conform with a similar bill. I might say that this bill conforms with some other bills and it only makes a few minor changes, and I am taking that word from the Senator himself.

Mr. JASPAN. That is correct.

Mr. FARRELL. And if the gentleman wants it to go over until tomorrow I have no objection to it going over.

Mr. JASPAN. That is correct.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1082, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 115) entitled "An act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in cities of the first class as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries prescribing certain procedure for the conduct of elections and primaries and the challenge and proof of qualifications of electors and prescribing the powers and duties of citizens parties bodies of electors registration commissions commissioners registrars inspectors of registration and other appointees of registration commission election officers municipal officers departments and bureaus police officers courts judges prothonotaries sheriffs county commissioners peace officers county treasurers county controllers registrars of vital statistics real estate brokers rental agents certain public service companies persons firms and corporations operating vehicles for moving furniture and household goods and boards of school directors and imposing penalties" by changing the provisions of said act as to the registration of electors before and after certain elections the preparation of street lists the cancellation of registrations for failure to vote and the destruction of records

THANKS AND APPRECIATION EXTENDED TO THE UNCOMPENSATED PERSONNEL OF THE SELECTIVE SERVICE SYSTEM OF PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. BOWERS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? Th Chair hears none.

Mr. BOWERS offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Whereas, the Chairmen and members of Local Selective Service Boards, Government Appeal Agents and Associate Government Appeal Agents, Local Board Examining Physicians and Examining Dentists, Legal Advisors and Associate Legal Advisors to registrants, Medical Field Agents, Reemployment Committeemen and Associate Reemployment Committeemen, the Chairmen and members of Boards of Appeal and members and associate mem bers of Medical Advisory Boards approved by Governor Edward Martin, have given unselfishly of their time, energies and abilities in the performance of the difficult but patriotic duties of inducting residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania into the armed forces of the United States; and

Whereas, upon the discharge of Pennsylvania men and women from the armed services the Local Boards, the Reemployment Committeemen and Associate Reemployment Committeemen render such aid to veterans as is necessary to protect their right of reemployment and other rights and benefits available to veterans and their dependents; and

Whereas, all of these services have been and are being rendered without compensation, with personal sacrifice and often in the face of unwarranted criticism; and

Whereas, it is recognized by all thoughtful people that the Selective Service personnel have rendered outstanding service and performed their duties in a most commendable manner; Therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That on behalf of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, thanks and appreciation are hereby extended to the aforementioned uncompensated personnel of the Selective Service System of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for their outstanding, unselfish and patriotic services.

Be it further resolved that the State Director of Selective Service for Pennsylvania, be requested to make a copy of this Resolution available to the uncompensated personnel of the Selective Service System, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 660, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. KEPHART. I object. This bill has gone over in order two or three times and I think it ought to be put on third reading at this time.

Mr. JASPAN. I agree with the gentleman and I think it ought to go over on that account. I am heartily in accord with the gentleman's proposition.

I will keep my agreement with Senator Kephart. However, in view of the fact that Senator Wade of Cumberland asked that the bill go over in its order, I will go along with him, but having made an agreement I will stick to my agreement.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, what right do the Senators from Philadelphia have to have agreements on bills and leave us at their mercy?

Mr. KEPHART. In answer to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSilvestro, yesterday when Senator Jaspan asked that this bill go over in order, I agreed and I said would not object, if he would agree not to ask today that it go over in order.

Mr. JASPAN. That is correct.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair calls attention to the fact that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, has not yet made such a request.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 24, 1945.

The House met at 1:30 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ira T. Fiss) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Lester C. Updegrove, offered the following prayer:

Dear Lord we thank Thee for daily generous provisions for our needs. May the strength derived thereof be used by the Members of the House of Representatives and all other public servants in a life of service to our fellowmen. Help us ever to remember Jesus' words, "And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant, even as the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto but to minister."

Guide all of the statesmen in their deliberations and decisions at the San Francisco Peace Parley. May they find for us and posterity a peace that is not counterfeit. We ask this in the name of the Prince of Peace, Jesus Christ. Amen.

DAVIDSON AND CHERRY TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOLS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to announce to the House the presence this afternoon of the Senior classes of Dividson Township and Cherry Township High Schools, Sullivan County, who are the guests of the gentleman from Sullivan Mr. Baumunk.

The Chair welcomes these classes as guests of the House, and hopes you will return again.

BELLEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair also welcomes to the House this afternoon the Senior Class of the Belleville High School, Mifflin County, accompanied by their principal Mr. Kester, who are the guests of the gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. Kennedy.

We are pleased to have you as visitors and hope you may be able to come back again.

REQUEST TO READ BILLS FIRST TIME

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I request consent that all bills reported from Committee as committed be read for the first time.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent? Is there objection?

Mr. CULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, is it not true under the rules of the House in order to read a bill for the first time when it is reported out of committee you must waive a House Rule or must have unanimous consent of the House?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Chudoff, that suspension of the rules is required. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cullen, objected to the bills being read for the first time.

RULE 41 SUSPENDED

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that

Rule 41 be suspended for the specific purpose of reading all bills for the first time reported from Committees as committed.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Cullen and Mr. Leonard and were as follows:

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, is the House in recess?

The SPEAKER. The House is on the first reading calendar, reading bills at length.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask that the House recess for a period of ten minutes?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will accept such a motion.

MOTION TO RECESS

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House recess for a period of ten minutes.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the making of a motion to recess? Is there objection? The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, there is no reason for a caucus then.

Mr. DILLON. Mr. Speaker, are we going to recess for ten minutes?

The SPEAKER. A motion was made to recess to which objection was made. Unanimous consent is required to make a motion to recess under the order of business now before the House. It is for the House to determine whether a recess shall be declared.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. TURNER. Will the Chair state the question again to the House?

The SPEAKER. We are under the order of business of reading bills at length for the first time. That is the only business that is before the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, could not the Chair on his own initiative ask the House to be in recess for a brief period?

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will declare a recess until 3 p. m. Is there objection? The Chair hears none and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 3 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ira T. Fiss) in the Chair.

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 642, FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. CORRIGAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 24, 1945.

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), that House Bill No. 642, Printer's No. 221, entitled "An act authorizing in certain cases the issuance of motor vehicle operators' licenses to persons honorably discharged from the armed forces of the United States or from any women's organization officially connected therewith without a learner's permit and the temporary suspension of existing laws requiring the same" be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of further consideration.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LICHTENWALTER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we have lost considerable time this afternoon trying to get a little matter straightened out, and I would like to amend my former motion that all bills be read for the first time by excepting Senate Bill 502.

The SPEAKER. If there be no objection the Chair will withdraw its decision as to Senate Bill 502 having been read for the first time and agreed to. The Chair hears no objection. The bill will be accepted as having been reported from Committee as committed and not read.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, perhaps I can conserve the time of the House by making a simple inquiry, the proper answer to which would render it unnecessary to offer a resolution to discharge a committee at this time.

I would therefore like to ask the Majority Leader whether it is the intention of the majority party to give this House a very early opportunity—and I mean very early, to vote on House Bill 354, the Fair Employment Practice Bill, the Brown Bill.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the comment of the gentleman that he is trying to conserve the time of the House, but in reply to him I would state that I cannot give him any assurance as to any time that this House might consider and vote on House Bill 354.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, one further inquiry. If House Bill 354 were definitely on the party program, the majority party program for an early vote the Majority Leader would know of it, would he not?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would say that he might and he might not.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Lehigh.

I might add that I sympathize with him, because this afternoon I found myself in the same situation, I might know and I might not. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, regretfully—and when I say regretfully I mean regretfully, I offer the following resolution.

RESOLUTION

DISCHARGE OF COMMITTEE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 24, 1945.

Resolved, That the Committee on Labor be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 354, entitled:

An Act relating to and prohibiting discriminatory and unfair employment practices; making the equal opportunity to seek employment a civil right; establishing a Commission of Fair Employment Practice; prescribing its functions, powers and duties; formulating an educational program to prevent such employment practices and imposing penalties.

said bill having been recommitted to the Committee on Labor on March 19, 1945.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the lateness of the hour I myself will try to be brief, and I hope that all others who speak on the resolution to discharge the Committee will be equally brief.

Mr. Speaker, we owe it to the constituencies which are most concerned in this bill that there should be early and definite action. You have seen many, many earnest people who could ill afford to do so come to this capitol in support of this bill. From the first, Mr. Speaker, there has been a disposition in some quarters to extend at least some reason why they should hope that this bill be reported out for action.

Our resources as to time are being diminished; we don't have many, many more days to function, and these earnest people, these devoted people who have been interested in this bill cannot afford the protracted campaign that they must necessarily wage in the support of this bill. It is such an issue as should be faced and determined; faced and determined in a manner that only this House can accomplish. So our major reason for urging the discharge of this Committee is, first, that we are convinced of the justice of the measure and we further realize that the supporters of this bill, both in this House and out, should be given an answer as to whether or not this House favors the enactment of this bill.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, briefly replying to the gentleman from Cambria, I would ask that the Members vote down the resolution to discharge. However I would like the record to reveal that in voting down the resolution to discharge we are voting on question of legislative procedure, and that this vote does not reflect in any way whatsoever the feeling, or the personal opinion of the Members of the House.

I believe that many of the Members in this House have given serious consideration to this problem; that they are deeply concerned with the intent of this legislation, and I would again like the record to reveal that on a roll call to discharge this Committee, it will not reflect the opinion of any of the Members of the House on this particular legislation, but we are voting entirely upon a matter of legislative procedure.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I listened attentively to the remarks of my good friend, the Majority Floor Leader, who states that the record show that the vote against this resolution will not reflect the opinions of the Members who would vote "no".

May I answer the gentleman by saying that the people, and the people alone, will record the reflections of the Members. Men are not dying today, black men, white men, Catholics, Jews, Protestants and Gentiles that we can hide behind a legislative record to justify our actions.

I am certain that the people will record your vote today as to how you feel and how you vote on a measure so important as House Bill 354. House Bill 354 has been in this House since January 3rd, and all during the winter months we labored, we cajoled, we pled, we exercised our constitutional right of petition, and in that army, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, were men and women from all over Pennsylvania, high men of the church, high men in the circle of labor, men in the field of education, industrialists and business managers, poor people, rich people, black people, white people, Jews, Gentiles, Catholics and Protestants. They came here on March 27th and asked the Members of this House to give us a hearing. You gave us a hearing, full well knowing that regardless of the case we made out you would not retire and render a verdict. You have stifled the ordinary processes of our constitutional form of government and you have stifled them for your own personal reasons and none other.

No one appeared at the hearing in opposition to this bill and no one has appeared on the floor of this House in opposition to it. I cannot understand—and this is the first time in the long period of time I have had the honor of serving here that I have had to make these statements—I cannot understand why the Committee cannot meet to at least decide the issue. I challenge any Member of this House to sustain the reprehensible denial of the right of people to be heard and their voices to be acted upon by the Members of this House and particularly the Members of the Committee on Labor.

Now, Mr. Speaker, for fear that I may be too close to this measure, for fear that my feelings might overpower my reason, I want to read into the record in support of this discharge resolution an editorial which appeared this morning in the Pittsburgh Post Gazette, and I want to be brief, but let us not be so brief that we cannot tell the people of Pennsylvania what is going on at the seat of their government.

I quote from the Post Gazette of Pittsburgh this morning:

DENIAL OF DEMOCRACY

The House Labor Committee held a hearing on fair employment legislation several weeks ago but has since shown no disposition to report a bill for action. Representative Homer S. Brown of Pittsburgh is convinced that unless strong pressure is applied, the measure which he introduced will be kept in a pigeon-hole and never see the light of day.

The Post-Gazette believes that a fair employment practice bill should be passed. It recognizes that there may be sincere differences of opinion as to just how this problem can best be approached and met, but if any legislators have misgivings as to a particular feature of the Brown bill, they should present their alternative on its merits rather than try to smother the bill in committee.

That practice, or procedure, is a denial of representative government and cannot be condemned too strongly. It means that a small group, controlling a committee, is afraid to face a fair test on the floor of the Legislature where members have to stand up and be counted. Even some of those who vote "no" in committee recognize that their personal stand is contrary to the wishes of their constituents and if they had to be recorded publicly would probably take the other side.

The public hearing showed clearly the demand for a bill with some teeth in it rather than a weak bill with a strong label. But if the committee favors some half-way measure, let it say so and take its chances on amendments from the floor. We can respect opposition which has the courage of its convictions and fights fairly but not that which is hypocritical and yellow.

May I repeat that last paragraph,

We can respect opposition which has the courage of its convictions and fights fairly but not that which is hypocritical and yellow.

A grave responsibility rests upon us. Under our constitution a bill must be referred to a Committee and returned therefrom. That section of the Constitution was placed there because the people who framed the constitution, believing and feeling that when people have had a right to be heard and their actions acted upon there would be no attempt to stifle legislation for the best interests of the people.

We stand here today at the crossroads. We have in this country the last citadel in all western civilization of a constitutional form of government. While I recognize the parliamentary procedure in the moves that may go on, I say without any fear of contradiction that the people of Pennsylvania are going to render a verdict. If this bill dies in committee, that verdict will be rendered in the language of this editorial which I have just read, that we are hypocritical and we are yellow. Mr. Speaker, when that verdict is rendered by the people I am certain our stand here today will be justified and entirely vindicated.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I hesitate somewhat to arise and take up the time of the House on this resolution to discharge this Committee. I realize as Mr. Brown has told you the present system in which our committees work in this House of Representatives, and have worked over many years. This piece of legislation is very important to the people of Pennsylvania, as they have demonstrated by coming here.

I say to you that year in and year out your committee system has stifled legislation as important as this, and that is the reason why I have continuously tried to amend the Rules of this House that we may bring legislation to the floor and have men stand up and be counted either for or against, because that is democracy. I ask you to support this resolution.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, being a Member of the Labor Committee, I am in full accord with the resolution.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am a Member of the Committee on Labor of the House of Representatives, and am in full accord with the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Weiss and Mr. Levy.

Messrs. Moran, Heatherington and Rose asked for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. TAHL filed the following reasons for his vote:

Ordinarily I would be opposed to discharge a committee from the consideration of any bill because it would disrupt the legislative processes that have been in force for a long time. But this bill is so important and the urgency of this legislation is so imperative that we must resort to that in order to carry out the wishes of our people. I pledged myself to support this legislation during my campaign and I am, therefore, carrying out my pledge to the citizens of my district. For that reason I am voting to discharge this committee.

RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. NAGEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 24, 1945.

Whereas, House Bill No. 694, entitled "An act to further amend section two of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred one (Pamphlet Laws, 327), entitled 'An act to prohibit the manufacture and sale of eleomargarine, butterine, and other similar products when colored in imitation of yellow butter; to provide for license fees to be paid by manufacturers, wholesale and retail dealers, and by proprietors of hotels, restaurants, dining-rooms and boarding houses; for the manufacture or sale of oleomargarine, butterine or other similar products not colored in imitation of yellow butter; and to regulate the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine, butterine or other similar products not colored in imitation of yellow butter; and prevent and punish, fraud and deception in such manufacture and sale as an imitation butter; and to prescribe penalties and punishment for violations of this act, and the means and method of procedure for its enforcement, and regulate certain matters of evidence in such procedure,' by reducing the fee for a license to sell oleomargine, butterine or similar substances at wholesale and retail," was referred to the Committee on Dairy Industries in the House of Representatives on February 20, 1945, and has not been acted upon by said committee; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Dairy Industries is hereby discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 694, entitled "An act to further amend section two of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred one (P. L. 327), entitled 'An act to prohibit the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine, butterine and other similar products, when colored in imitation of yellow butter; to provide for license fees to be paid by manufacturers, wholesale and retail dealers, and by proprietors of hotels, restaurants, dining-rooms and boarding houses; for the manufacture or sale of oleomargarine, butterine, or other similar products, not colored in imitation of yellow butter; and to regulate the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine, butterine, or other similar products, not colored in imitation of yellow butter, and prevent and punish fraud and deception in such manufacture and sale as an imitation butter; and to prescribe penalties and punishment for violations of this act, and the means and the method of procedure for its enforcement, and regulate certain matters of evidence in such procedure,' by reducing the fee for a license to sell oleomargarine, butterine, or similar substances at wholesale and retail."

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I will be brief. You will recall that only a few weeks ago a resolution was offered to discharge this same Committee from further consideration of two bills which were of a similar nature. Then an excuse was offered that a public hearing was pending, and also that these bills had been submitted to a sub-committee for study. This sub-committee delayed and delayed to a provoking degree. No such excuse exists today, but it seems to me there is a certain reverence paid to Rule 40—it seems to be holy. It seems that we should not speak of it or it's number except in bated breath, but after thinking over the matter and going back to the time when this Rule was made I find it was conceived in the minds of men and transcribed by men who perhaps had in their minds some thought that sometime they might be able through this Rule to prostitute justice in our state.

This Rule was not written by the finger of the Almighty on a slab on Mt. Sinai; it is a man made Rule, and we can invoke it and should invoke it when good legislation is pending. We are asking that the Committee be discharged from further consideration of the bill. As a member of the Committee that defeated this bill, it is rumored that this bill was defeated in committee by a vote of 11 to 10. Now, that is the rumor, and when the vote is so close, if this rumor is true, surely it will cast no reflection on this Committee or this House to consider affirmatively a bill that is so much demanded that it be enacted into law in this state of Pennsylvania, that will provide a food for those who are hungry and needy, that they may consider the man in the lower brackets.

Members, I fear you have committed a political sin in your last vote. I am not particularly interested—I have many Republican friends whom I do not want to get in bad, but I urge you to give this bill your favorable consideration. What have we to give to our constituents from this legislature that we can throw back to the little man and say "We have done this for you." Well, let us give them something, let us put this bill on the floor of the House where it can be given consideration, and if it does not have merit there is the place to decide it.

Mr. GYGER. Mr. Speaker, I think we had better have the true story on this oleo problem. The gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Nagel, has said he heard rumors from the Committee. He was in the Committee and I guess he does not understand what transpired.

There were five oleo bills presented to the Committee on Dairy Industries. About the time the first one got there they wanted a meeting and I told them that when all the bills got in we would have a meeting of the Dairies Industries Committee, which we had. It was suggested that they be referred to a sub-committee, and Mr. Nagel himself suggested that that committee be five, which is wise.

After these bills were referred to the sub-committee, a representative of the independent grocers asked for a public hearing. He said he did not want this public hearing until after March 27. On March 28 we had the public hearing for those who were in favor of these bills. The agricultural people also wanted a hearing, and we had that at the first opportunity on April 4. The next day we followed with a meeting of the Dairies Industries Committee in order to refer these bills back to the sub-committee, and I said in the meeting at that time, as soon as the sub-committee was ready to report I would call a meeting of the Dairy Industries Committee.

On last Wednesday the committee in the evening told me they were ready to report. I called a meeting last Thursday of the Dairies Industries Committee to discuss these five bills. These five bills were discussed by the Committee, and none of them were reported to the House. They were all defeated by a majority vote in the Committee.

I would like further the record to show that there are but four members who own and milk cows for a living on the Committee, so certainly it was not necessarily the action of the dairy Members on the Committee.

I might also further state that the vote was on a non-partisan basis because Members on both sides voted on both sides of the probelm.

Mr. YESTER. Mr. Speaker, this oleo bill has been quite a problem it seems to the Members of the House—well, I will say to the Committee, because I do not think it is a problem for the Members of the House here. I believe that the majority of the Members of the House feel that there should be some kind of bill come out of Committee so that they might vote on it.

There was an editorial in the Pittsburgh Press on Sunday which I think explains this very thoroughly. It is headed.

The Public Takes a Boot

What virtually everybody in Harrisburg was sure would happen has happened.

The House Dairy Industries Committee has pickled all bills to reduce or repeal the exorbitant and unfair Pennsylvania license fees on margarine.

Once again, the Legislature, through a committee, has given the boot to what the Butter Bloc contemptuously calls "olie." And it has given the boot to the public.

These excessively high license fees were not imposed in the first place to raise revenue, or to pay for policing the margarine industry. They were imposed to drive margarine out of competition with butter. They were imposed because the Butter Bloc for years, as now, has had a firm grip on the Legislature.

In general, this is the same group which repeatedly has tried to put over the "dirty milk" bill at Harrisburg—a bill to strip municipalities of their power to require milk delivered to their citizens to be pure and sanitary.

It is, in general, the same influence which several sessions ago passed a law compelling people on relief to buy milk, whether or not they wanted it. That as the notorious "sour milk" bill, so-called because thousands of the reliefers, not wanting the milk, let it spoil.

It isn't cricket to hamstring your competitor in any business by inducing lawmakers to tax him. It has been done, time and again, but that doesn't make it right. Laws, under our system of government, should treat everybody alike. Many of them don't, but they should. The margarine license law is one of the worst examples of a law which doesn't.

In these days when butter is high in price and high in ration points—and even then, often not available, the stilted license fees on margarine are even more obnoxious. But the Butter Bloc is so selfish, and so lacking in competitive sportsmanship, that it insists on these inordinate fees.

This was in the Press on Sunday, April 22. It is not the only editorial—there have been editorials all over the State. In my efforts to find out how the people feel I can say for Allegheny County I have not run across one person who was not for these bills.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Not to delay, Mr. Speaker, but in order to keep the record clear, I think we have gone far afield in discussing the meits and demerits of the legislation contained in the bills that we are asking to discharge the Committee from further consideration, but as I stated on the previous discharge resolution we are voting on legislative procedure and not on the merits or demerits of the bill.

There are Members on this side of the House who have introduced legislation similar to the legislation introduced by some of the minority Members to reduce the fees as far as the oleo license was concerned, and it certainly is not a partisan bill at all; we are not voting on the merits of the bill, but purely on a legislative and procedural matter.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, might I remind the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Lichtenwalter, that we are simply doing our Boy Scout good turn today in trying to get a good Republican bill, sponsored by a very eminent Member of the majority party, a bill in which he was very much interested; at least he was very much interested in his bill up to yesterday—we are trying to get that bill out of Committee.

On the question recurring.

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Weiss and Mr. Lane.

Messrs. Moran, Yester and Lane asked for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the resolution was not adopted.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Messrs. BONEY and WHITE asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 24, 1945.

Resolved, That the Committee on Mines and Mining be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 409, entitled "An act regulating the mining of anthracite coal; prescribing duties for certain municipal officers; and imposing penalties," said bill having been in the hands of said Committee for a period of ten days and more, having been referred February 5th.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. BONEY. Mr. Speaker, at the beginning I was frankly reluctant to submit a resolution of this type. In my long experience in the House this is the first opportunity I have ever taken advantage of to present a resolution of this type, but I feel inasmuch as the time is becoming shorter unless I acted to do something concrete or something that would alleviate a condition that is very general and dangerous in a number of communities in this State, I certainly would be remiss.

For years the residents of the anthracite coal mining regions of Pennsylvania have been in constant fear of an evil which has been permitted to continue with no redress for the sufferers.

I know that you ladies and gentlemen have been very patient this afternoon. I have a voluminous amount of material that I could dwell on, but inasmuch as you have displayed so much patience I shall just go on and cite some of the excerpts in order to expedite the voting on this resolution.

Here is one that I must call your attention to

This one I must read because it is in my own immediate neighborhood.

Mine Cave Examples May Be Exhibited Here

If the Mine Cave Commission or the Legislative Committee wants an example of why mine caving and stripping should be curbed, they should make a quick trip through Larksville. The site of twisted buildings, caved streets, mountainous dirt banks and deep excavations undoubtedly would speed their journey. There is not a ward in the entire borough that has not been affected by stripping and subsidence.

It is no longer possible to walk from the residential section over the mountains towards the west without climbing the banks and excavations. In the early days when DeWees and some of the other contractors stripped for coal, people thought it was bad, but when those two Bucyrus Monighans started to turn over the mountains it made former stripping appear small. During the short time those two draglines, each with eight yard scoops, have operated they cleared the land from Welsh Hill to Larksville Corners from highway to highway. Dirt banks parallel State street and in some places are within 100 yards of the state highway.

On the opposite side of the mountain will be found the banks and excavations left by DeWees, while still others are seen in the field opposite St. John's Church, along Washington avenue opposite Russell's, and near Cemetery street. Culm banks will be found at each of the five collieries to further "beautify" the scenery.

Caving has twisted the Athletic Park fence and bleachers, sagged doors and windows in the high school, shook State Street school building and caused cracks to appear in the school yard, and threatens the area around Broadway school. Through the years it has damaged Howard, Carver, State, Broadway and numerous other streets. Currently it is claiming Luzerne avenue, State, Washington, Murray, Wilson and Nesbitt streets. No place in the borough seems safe from subsidence which has reached into every ward. What is to become of Larksville—or the valley—if laws are not passed to protect the surface against unrestricted mining?

Here is another editorial on

Mine Cave Legislation

Here is another

Subsidence Investigated

Here's another. The Presbyterian Conference, and they have no selfish or political motive in mind, the only aim they have in mind is the good of the people, the welfare of the people and the welfare of property, they in their conference went on record as being in accord on this.

The Methodist Conference in Wyoming Valley also went on record as being in accord on this.

Mr. Speaker, I do not want to delay you too long, because I am quite positive the Members of this House know much about this mine cave situation as I do. During the last two years or in the session of 1941 we voted for an appropriation to provide for a Mine Subsidence Commission. This Mine Subsidence Commission made an investigation. They travelled from Shenandoah almost up into Susquehanna County, up beyond the Carbondale section, and they made a report. They made a very concise investigation, they made a report, and the report now is tucked away in the Appendix of the Journal. For your in formation, ladies and gentlemen of this House, you can peruse that report and you will find that the very things that that Commission recommended we endeavored and attempted to put into law, we put them in the form of bills, and one of the bills they recommended was this House Bill 409 that we sponsored, submitted in February, this bill that we are most interested in and concerning which we do not want to delay too long.

Here is another one that appeared in our newspapers. Here is a cartoon of a boy in No Man's Land. Let us see what he has to say.

Think We Oughta Get Back 'n Protect Our Own Homes?

He doesn't know what he is going to find.

The time and date is not too distant when many of our soldiers will return home to find not homes as they left there. But destruction, etc. by the company and this company has charge of a part of the committee. Surely Gentlemen in face of what these men suffered in foreign lands and what they have accomplished for America this house will not deny them the protection which rightfully belongs to them and their families in the damage of their homes.

Their is no need for me to unnecessary use the time of this house in discussing a question of such vital importance and because I know the great majority of the members are so indowed with that traditional American spirit of justice that they will unhesitatingly support the resolution now before us.

The state is obliged and it is its duty to regulate the use of private property that common good may not suffer.

To permit an owner of property to use it to the detriment of the public tends to establish a most fertile breeding ground for discontent.

An individual or a corporation should be required to use and administer his or its property that the public interest shall not suffer. Only the state has the power to so regulate the use of property.

It should never be forgotten that the purpose of any regulation imposed by the state must be for the common good.

It is not to the credit of the State, yet it is a hard fact that property owned by the state itself has been damaged or destroyed by the reckless use of property owned by others (numerous highways, etc.)

Every man and every corporation has the right to liberty, not any kind of liberty, but liberty under the law and it is the function of the state to define and enact such laws.

In fact, law is a safeguard of liberty.

Liberty without law is purely and simply a state of anarchy.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Speaker, the Committee on Mines and Mining referred this bill, introduced by Mr. Boney, Mr. Flack as well as other similar bills to a sub-committee of which I was the Chairman. Since that job was referred to our committee we have worked hard in relation to these bills.

This is not as simple a matter as Mr. Boney would like to have you believe. We have worked with Mr. Boney in relation to these bills. The Legislature in 1921 passed an Act which is now known as the Kohler Act. That act was taken through the courts of Pennsylvania up to the Supreme Court of the United States, in the case of Pennsylvania Coal Company versus Mayham. In that case Justice Holmes told us that this very Act was unconstitutional. This bill that Mr. Boney and Mr. Flack have presented is word for word the same as the Act which is now on the statute books and is entitled the Kohler Act. There is no difference whatsoever, it is verbatim the same Act passed in 1921 by this Legislature and is now on the statute books.

I stated about two weeks ago to Mr. Boney that I would certainly be glad to take into consideration any comment or advice from any attorney whom he had on that side of the House, or this side of the House, in his own district or in the State of Pennsylvania that could show me how this would accomplish anything, how this bill could possibly be declared constitutional under the decision rendered by the Supreme Court in the Mayham Case, and today he has not brought any attorney around to show me how this bill is constitutional.

In relation to the schools, Mr. Justice Holmes stated that any school director or school district would be foolish to buy or purchase property on which a school was to be erected if they did not obtain the whole fee to the land right down from the surface to the center of the earth, and if they built a school upon such land without some surface support they were just foolish. They have a right to have schools up there and they have a right to have their public highways built upon land that has proper surface support because they have the right of eminent domain to do it. I believe this Committee has worked hard and assiduously in relation to this bill. I think this is one bill, at least one—I won't say about the rest of them, but this bill has been studied very hard by the sub-committee and to date the proponents of the bill have not shown us any reason whatsoever why it should be passed. Therefore, I ask the Members to vote down this resolution.

Mr. BONEY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Crawford mentioned the fact that I endeavored to make this thing sound as simple as I could. First of all I desire to pay my respects to the gentleman because he was very, very cooperative; he certainly endeavored to do as much as he possibly could.

When the question arises as to the unconstitutionality of a law, if my memory serves me correctly, the bill was referred to a sub-committee. I believe that must have happened about three or four weeks ago. When that information was brought to me I immediately contacted the gentleman from Crawford and we worked very diligently and industriously with him. We went over to the Justice Department and got a number of decisions of Justice Holmes and Justice Brandeis. We perused them and studied them and endeavored to find some means whereby we could amend this bill and whereby the bill could be passed and subsequently be declared constitutional. We did offer the sub-committee an amendment that would invoke the police powers of this State. We felt after discussing this problem with a number of our attorneys that this amendment, if it went before the Supreme Court, that they would just automatically declare it constitutional.

In my opinion there is not anything further to be said, and, Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Boney and Mr. White.

Messrs. Moran, Russell E. Reese and Hennihan asked for a verification of the roll.

The roll as verified and was as follows:

Bentley,	Brothers,	Chervenak,	Myhan,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 79, as follows:

An Act to facilitate vehicular traffic between the eastern section of the Commonwealth and the ports on Lake Erie by providing for the construction operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a point at or near Irwin in Westmoreland County to a point at or near the City of Erie and conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue bonds of the Commonwealth payable solely from tolls to pay the cost of such turnpike providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act providing for the collection of tolls for the payment of such bonds and for the cost of maintenance operation and repair of the turnpike making such turnpike bonds exempt from taxation constituting such bonds legal investments in certain instances requiring suits against the commission to be brought in Dauphin County prescribing conditions upon which such turnpike shall become free providing for grade separations grade changes and relocation and restoration of public roads and State highways affected by the turnpike providing for condemnation granting certain powers and authority to municipal subdivisions and agencies of the Commonwealth to cooperate with the commission and authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue refunding bonds

Section 1 This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Pennsylvania Turnpike Lake Erie Extension Act"

Section 2 In order to facilitate vehicular traffic between the eastern section of the Commonwealth and the ports on Lake Erie the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission heretofore created by virtue of the provisions of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 774) is hereby authorized and empowered to construct operate and maintain a turnpike at such location as shall be approved by the Governor and the Department of Highways from a point at or near Irwin in Westmoreland County at a point on U S Highway Route No 20 at or near the City of Erie together with connecting roads tunnels and bridges and to issue turnpike revenue bonds of the Commonwealth payable solely from tolls to pay the cost of such construction

Section 3 The turnpike revenue bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall not be deemed to be a debt of the Commonwealth or a pledge of the faith and credit of the Commonwealth but such bonds shall be payable exclusively from the fund herein provided therefor from tolls All such bonds shall contain a statement on their face that the Commonwealth is not obligated to pay the same or the interest thereon except from tolls and that the faith and credit of the Commonwealth is not pledged to the payment of the principal or interest of such bonds The issuance of turnpike revenue bonds under the provisions of this act shall not directly or indirectly or contingently obligate the Commonwealth to levy or to pledge any form of taxation whatever therefor or to make any appropriation for their payment

Section 4 The following words and terms shall have the following meanings

(a) The word "commission" shall mean the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission heretofore created by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 774) or if said commission shall be abolished any board commission or officer succeeding to the principal functions thereof or upon whom the powers and functions given by this act to said commission shall be given by law

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 870, Printer's No. 599,

was passed over at the request of Mr. RAY L. RILEY.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 890, as follows:

An Act to further amend section two thousand six hundred three of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" authorizing school districts of the second third and fourth class to employ certified public accountants to audit the school finances in lieu of the controller or auditors of the city borough town or township

Section 1 Section two thousand six hundred three of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 320) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2603 In all school districts of the second and third class by the controller or auditors of the city borough incorporated town or township in which the whole or the greater or greatest portion of the area of each such district shall be located When in any school district of the second class the annual expenditures exclusive of moneys received from the sale of bonds shall exceed the sum of five hundred thousand dollars such district may employ a certified public accountant within sixty days from the close of the fiscal year

[When in] Any school district of the second third or fourth class [the annual expenditures exclusive of moneys received from the sale of bonds shall exceed the sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) such district] may employ a certified public accountant prior to the end of the fiscal year and when so employed such certified public accountant shall audit the finances of such school district for such fiscal year instead of the [elected] controller or auditors hereinbefore referred to and shall have all the powers and duties of such auditors

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1121, as follows:

An Act to further amend section fifteen of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 207) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" permitting assignees of municipal claims to revive the same by suggestion of non-payment and averment of default

Section 1 Section fifteen of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 207) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 522) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 15 Such tax municipal or other claim if filed within the period aforesaid shall remain a lien upon said properties until fully paid and satisfied Provided however That either a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default in the form hereinafter provided be filed either before or after judgment on the scire facias or else a writ of scire facias in the form herein provided be issued to revive the same within each period of five years following (a) the date on which said claim was filed (b) the date on which a writ of scire facias was issued thereon (c) the date on which any judgment was entered thereon (d) the date on which a previous suggestion of nonpayment and default was filed thereon or (e) the date on which a judgment of revival was obtained thereon

The suggestion and averment shall be in the following form under the caption of the claim

And now ..... the claimant by ..... its solicitor or controller (or assignee his agent or attorney) suggests of record that the above claim is still due and owing to the claimant and avers that the owner is still in default for nonpayment thereof The prothonotary is hereby directed to enter this suggestion and averment on the municipal lien or the proper docket of the claim and also to index it upon the judgment index and on the locality index of the court for the purpose of continuing the lien of the claim

Such suggestion and averment shall be signed by or have stamped thereon a facsimile signature of the solicitor or chief executive officer of the claimant except in counties having a controller in which case as to county taxes it shall be signed by or have stamped thereon a facsimile signature of the controller or in cases where such claim has been assigned it shall be signed by the assignee his agent or attorney The prothonotary shall docket and index the suggestion and averments directed therein and for such services shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar to be taxed and collected as other costs in the claim The filing and indexing of such suggestion and averment within five years of filing the claim or the issuing of any writ of scire facias thereon or of any judgment thereon or of the filing of any prior suggestion and avernment of default shall have the same force and effect for the purposes of continuing and preserving the lien of claim as though a writ of scire facias had been issued or a judgment or judgment of revival had been obtained within such period Provided That no writ of levari facias shall be issued upon a claim for the purpose of exposing the property liened to sheriff's sale except after a judgment shall have been duly obtained upon the claim as provided in this section and such judgment must have been obtained within five years of the issuance of the levari facias Whenever the lien of a claim has been revived and continued by the filing and indexing of a suggestion and averment of default the claimant may at any time within five years therefrom issue a writ of scire facias thereon reciting all suggestion and averment of default filed since the filing of the claim and shall proceed thereon in the manner herein provided subject to the right of the owner to raise any defense arising since the last judgment

If a claim be not filed within the time aforesaid or if it be not prosecuted in the manner and at the time aforesaid its lien on real estate shall be wholly lost

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1213, as follows:

An Act to amend section two hundred six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" providing for the election of school directors for independent school districts and terminating the terms of office of the present school directors in such districts

Section 1 Section two hundred six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 206 Every independent school district established as herein provided shall have its affairs [except as to the election of school directors who shall be appointed as hereinafter provided] administered by a board of school directors subject to all the provisions of this act relating to the class of school districts to which such independent district belongs And the court establishing such independent school district shall at the time of so doing appoint a board of properly qualified residents of the district of like number [and for the same terms] as is herein provided for such class of districts [and in November of every odd year such court shall appoint the proper number of directors for the full term of six years whose terms shall begin on the first Monday of December following their appointment and any vacancy in such board shall be filled by the court for the unexpired term] which shall serve until the first Monday of December next following the first municipal election occurring more than thirty (30) days after the establishment of such independent school district

At the municipal election to be held in November one thousand nine hundred forty-five a board of school directors for each independent school district heretofore established and at the first municipal election occurring more than thirty (30) days subsequent to the establishment of any independent school district hereafter a board of school directors for such district shall be elected in the same manner as the school directors of districts of the same class were first elected after the act to which this is an amendment went into effect Provided however That such school directors shall be elected for such terms that the number and terms of those whose places are to be filled at each succeeding municipal election shall be the same as the number and terms of those whose places are filled at the corresponding election in other school districts of the same class

The terms of office of the present members of the board of school directors in each independent school district established as herein provided shall be terminated on the first Monday of December one thousand nine hundred forty-five

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Messrs. MODELL and CULLEN offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 24, 1945.

John Francis Myers, father of United States Senator Francis J. Myers, died at his home in Philadelphia on Sunday.

Mr. Myers was born in West Chester and was employed at the Post Office in Philadelphia for forty years prior to his retirement eight years ago. At the time of his retirement, he was chief bookkeeper and auditor.

He was a past financial secretary of the Philadelphia Council, Knights of Columbus and a member of the Holy Name Society and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Besides his illustrious son, Mr. Myers, Sr. is also survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary D. Myers, and two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Knight and Mrs. Anna Armstrong, of Newark, Delaware; therefore be it Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its sympathy to United States Senator Francis J. Myers, and to the widow and sisters of the deceased, and in token thereof, direct the Chief Clerk to transmit certified copies of this resolution to Mrs. John Francis Myers, Senator Francis J. Myers, Mrs. Catherine Knight and Mrs. Anna Armstrong.

SENATE MESSAGES

AMENDED HOUSE BILLS RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 98.

An Act to amend an act approved the sixth day of June one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one (P. L. 1353) entitled "An act relative to plans of survey and regulations in the City of Philadelphia" by restricting the operation of the act to original plans and revisions changing the time and number and character of the newspapers in which notice of the proposed plans and revisions shall be published and of the hearing thereon eliminating the requirement that streets which are the subjects of such plans or revisions must extend from street to street as thoroughfares and must be called public streets and abrogating the provisions for widening the streets upon the petition of the owners or majority of feet frontage thereon or on one side thereof

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, in last line by inserting after the word "thereof" the following: "and by providing that all plans and revisions of plans of land subdivision shall after approval by the Board of Surveyors be recorded in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds and that owners and purchasers shall be conclusively presumed to have notice thereof".

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 18, by inserting after the word "revision" the following: "All plans and revisions of plans of land laid out in plots or building lots and the streets highways alleys or other portions of the same intended to be dedicated to public use or the use of purchasers or owners of lots fronting thereon or adjacent thereto located within the city limits shall be recorded in the office of the Recorder of Deeds after submission to and approval by the board of surveyors And it shall not be lawful to receive or record any such plan in any public office unless the same shall bear thereon by endorsement or otherwise the approval of the board of surveyors The approval of any such plan by said board shall not impose any duty upon the city concerning the improvement or maintenance of any such dedicated streets or highways until the proper authorities of the city shall have made actual appropriation for such improvements and maintenance and the disapproval of any such plan by the board of surveyors shall be deemed a refusal of any proposed dedication The owners and purchasers of such lots shall be conclusively presumed to have notice of public plans maps and reports of the said board affecting such property within its jurisdiction".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 40

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 19, 1945.

Since the organization of this General Assembly, the Game Commission and the Fish Commission have been the objects of adverse criticism and various resolutions have been introduced requesting investigations of the conduct of their work.

In his address to the General Assembly at the time of the convening of this session, his Excellency the Governor stated that the idea of "combining the two commissions had been suggested" which leads to the conclusion that others think that the game and fish situation in Pennsylvania could be improved.

The criticism of, and the abuse directed at these two commissions must have some basis, and even though the facts upon which that basis is constructed may be erroneous, it is still sufficient to raise a doubt as to the efficiency of these two very important parts of the State Government.

If the criticisms are justifiable, a change should be made. If they are not, then both commissions are entitled to the support of the General Assembly and to its stamp of approval.

For their protection and for a renewal of the faith of the people in the efficiency of the administration of these important commissions, a full investigation should be made; therefore be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby requests the Joint State Government Commission to make a thorough investigation of the Game Commission and the Fish Commission of the Commonwealth, and of their manner of administering the laws of the Commonwealth relating to game and fish, of the manner of re-stocking the game and fish life, and of the establishing of closed seasons, and to study and make a comparison of the work and conduct of similar commissions or departments in other states, and to make a full and complete report of their study and investigation to the General Assembly not later than March 1, 1947, accompanied by such recommendations concerning any change in the administration of the matters now under the supervision and control of the Game Commission and the Fish Commission that they decide should be made.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 25, 1945.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern War Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John C. Bell, Jr.) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EDWIN S. WALLACE, D.D. offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, in whose perfect kingdom no sword is drawn but the sword of righteousness, may all the war implements of our nation be righteously employed for the ends of justice, and the securing of world peace. May the brotherhood of man become the desire of all nations.

We are thinking to-day of the San Francisco conference of the United Nations. Many prayers in many tongues from many peoples are beseeching the throne of grace that the Holy Spirit will give to the delegates the will and the wisdom to effect an organization that will bind the nations together for mutual protection and benefit.

We join our prayers with all these: that this conference seek divine guidance; that out of the conference may come plans so just and so equitable that all nations can accept them for the curing of all the social and political ills that have so long cursed the world with war; that our nation's delegates may resolutely, skillfully and successfully contend for such high objectives. May our nation be big enough and generous enough and wise enough to throw all its great influence on the side of fair dealing among the nations of the word, for that is the preliminary essential to world peace.

We ask Thy guidance for the President through all the difficult conditions of the times, and for all the men in high position, civil, military and religious, as well as for all who are fighting for the right.

In the name of our Great leader, even Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Mr. CROWE, from the Committee on Insurance, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. CROWE on April 11, 1945, reported the same without amendment as follows:

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER AND SECRETARY OF REVENUE TO FORMULATE PENNSYLVANIA ASSIGNED RISKS PLAN FOR PHYSICALLY DISABLED PERSONS

In the Senate, April 11, 1945.

There are many persons within the Commonwealth who, although skilled in the driving of automobiles, are denied the right so to do on account of physical disabilities which make the procurement of liability and property damage insurance impossible.

The return of fighting men from the battle fronts of the world will greatly increase this number, and the inability of many of those who deserve every possible privilege and opportunity of enjoyment, to secure such insurance, will prevent their full use of automobiles.

It is not possible nor would it be advisable to compel insurance companies to accept such risks which in their experience are hazardous.

Many companies in Pennsylvania writing liability and property damage insurance have lately developed the "Pennsylvania Automobile Assigned Risks Plan" for the voluntary handling of liability and property damage insurance on persons who have come under the provisions of the Financial Responsibility Law.

The formation of a similar plan for the voluntary handling of liability and property damage insurance on persons physically handicapped, might be the means of affording such persons the coverage necessary to allow them to enjoy the privilege of driving an automobile, either for pleasure or in the carrying on of a business; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), By the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the Insurance Commissioner of the Commonwealth and the Secretary of Revenue of the Commonwealth are requested to meet and consult with representatives of the various casualty companies doing business within the Commonwealth, in an attempt to arrive at and formulate a plan for the organization of a Pennsylvania Assigned Risks Plan for the insuring of physically handicapped persons; and be it further

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 135, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries of State Mine Inspectors, under the jurisidiction of the Department of Mines in this Commonwealth and the expenses incident to this office

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, the gentleman from Cambria has shown his proposed amendments to Senator Bowers and myself and inasmuch as they are amendments to which we can not agree, I object, Mr. President, with the understanding that the gentleman from Cambria can make a speech—a short one.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 135 deals directly with an increase in wages to mine inspectors in Pennsylvania. Personally I do not know one of them by name, I have no direct interest, but I am interested in the welfare of the men whom they govern. This bill now reads that a mine insector who was receiving $4,800 per year could be increased up to $5,400 a year, after working for four years at that position, providing, however, that the Secretary of Mines makes that recommendation to the Governor.

I am appealing my case directly to those of you that come from the coal fields. You should be interested. It does not make sense to me, Mr. President, that some man might receive $5,400, after working for ten, twelve or twenty years as a mine inspector, and that another man, just as well qualified, might be left in the position where the Secretary of Mines, for some unknown reason, will not make the recommendation. We here are governed by a salary. Each and every one of us receives the same salary. Would it be fair if the gentleman from Delaware would receive $3.600 per biennium and I should receive $5.000?—I might be worth it, of course—but the fact remains that we are governed by statute.

A mine inspector, gentlemen, governs the lives of thousands upon thousands of men who must go down in the bowels of the earth to make their livelihood. I have worked in the coal mines, in both the anthracite and the bituminous fields, and I know whereof I speak. A mine inspector must be qualified, and I may say in our Commonwealth they are all qualified. A mine inspector must, after having final approval of the Secretary of Mines, work for a period of four years, and at the expiration of that period he once again must qualify a second time, and then, if he is approved a second time, he has a permanent position. I know of no other department, be it civil service or anythig else that is so strict and I might say on the up and up.

Thereafter, after a mine inspector puts in four years in the coal mines, he must submit his application again for an examination, and then, if he should be approved, I think we all will admit he is well qualified to govern the lives of the men who work in the coal mines.

Under this bill one of those men will continue to work for $4,800, while the man next to him, with the same qualifications, can, at the request of the Secretary of Mines, be increased to $5,400. It just does not make sense and I am surprised at the action of this Senate, because I believe, gentlemen, you are trying to do a good job—I am trying to give you credit for that—but how in the name of anything that is right can you go out now and put your own Governor on the spot, if you please. It is unfair to the Governor, unfair to the Secretary of Mines, and unfair to the men who work in the coal mines to place upon the statues such a bill. It is unfair to everybody.

I tried to offer amendments to provide that, once a man is qualified, his salary is adjusted by law. If he is not qualified he has no right whatsoever to govern the lives of the coal miners. You are placing politics right back into the coal mines, where some coal operator can threaten a mine inspector—if he finds that certain conditions must be cared for, he can threaten him—and so therefore the mine inspector must withdraw his recommendations, and I am sure that no man in this Senate would want to see that happen.

I am only asking, if we find that these men are qualified as mine inspectors, let us put them all at the same rate of pay; if they are not qualified you will agree with me, I am sure, that they have no right to govern the lives of these men who work in the mines.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn, to meet with me, together with the Secretary of Mines, and discuss this question once again, because of the importance of this bill.

I therefore ask that the bill go over in its order at this time.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, this is a House Bill and I do not particularly object to it going over in order. However, this matter has been talked over with the Secretary of Mines on several occasions and the story, as I get it, is simply this, Mr. President, that there are some mine inspectors who do a much harder job—let me put it that way—than others, because of the fact they have larger mines to inspect, and they cover more territory.

The intention of this bill, Mr. President, is to give the department, upon approval of the Governor, some latitude in salary in order that a very valuable man can be paid a little additional money. In other words, Mr. President, unless this sort of thing is done, they would all have their salaries raised and some of them, I understand, do not get as much work done as others do.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I do not doubt in the least that the gentleman from Delaware is telling the truth, about having discussed the problem with the Secretary of Mines. I am only asking for the opportunity, because of the importance of this bill, that the gentleman from Delaware go with me or I go with him, or anybody else, and speak with the Secretary—it will not take over five minutes—and I believe it is possible we might arrive at a conclusion.

This is an important bill and I am sure we all want to vote on it in the proper manner.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, the Secretary of Mines is in the rear of the Senate and I suggest that the bill go over in its order and that the gentleman from Cambria discuss the matter with the Secretary of Mines. The gentleman from Fayette, Senator Bowers, is presently discussing this matter with the Secretary of Mintes.

Mr. HALUSKA. That is all right with me, that the bill go over in its order temporarily, until I come back.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 135, on third reading, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries of State Mine Inspectors, under the jurisdiction of the Department of Mines in this Commonwealth and the expenses incident to this office

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 296 on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing that taxes levied by political subdivisions of the Commonwealth on real estate of service persons shall not bear interest or be subject to penalties and providing for abatement of certain accrued interest and penalties

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, this bill has been on the Calendar now for a number of months. We either ought to pass the bill, or, if the majority side wants to defeat it, all right. They told me last week that if I put certain amendments in the bill to take out the retroactive feature, they felt sure the bill could pass. I did that. If they have any further amendments, let them put them in.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, this bill, Senate Bill 296, has been objected to for the following reasons: under this bill it appears that a smart real estate operator could put his real estate in the name of someone who would be exempt under this bill and pay no real estate tax, penalty, or interest or anything else, until the redemption feature operates. The objection comes from the city of Philadelphia. I suppose the chief amender from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, has been too busy to prepare the necessary amendments.

Mr. President, the suggestion has been made that the bill be amended so that it would only apply to residences of veterans or members of the armed forces at the time of his or her induction.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would be very willing to accept an amendment such as that.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to the request that Senate Bill No. 296 go over in its order? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 312, as follows:

An Act to amend clause (c) of section nine of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" increasing the pension of a blind person

Section 1 Clause (c) of section nine of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. An Act relating to and regulating the care and maintenance of children away from their parents providing for the certification and licensing of child welfare organizations and foster homes imposing duties and conferring powers upon the Department of Welfare imposing duties upon juvenile courts prohibiting certain advertising and prescribing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I would like to have Senate Bill No. 410 go over in its order until tomorrow. I see some proposed amendments on my desk and they are not just what they were supposed to be.

Mr. HEYBURN. No objection.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, with the consent of the Majority Floor Leader, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 410, on third reading, go over in its order.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 517, as follows:

An Act increasing the fees of Justices of the Peace and Aldermen in cases of summary conviction relating to motor vehicles

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In all cases of summary conviction relating to the use and operation of motor vehicles and suits for penalties relating to the use and operation of motor vehicles whether under statute or ordinance the total fee shall be three dollars and fifty cents ($3.50) plus postage of registered mail which shall include the giving of a transcript to either the defendant or prosecutor or both if same be requested

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. Preisdent, it seems that there is a perennial practice on the part of justices of the peace or squires to come to the Legislature and ask for some advantages. Back in 1941 they asked from us an extension of their jurisdiction and I am proud to say that I single-handedly fought against that measure, in 1941; I was defeated on the floor of the Senate but had the satisfaction that Governor James vetoed the measure. Now again squires and justices of the peace appear here. This time they want more money for costs in cases of summary convictions.

We are told that after the Civil War Abraham Lincoln, speaking about directions of commerce movements in the United States, said all the railroads in the United States were leading from east to west but not from the north to the south, and that was the reason why there was a cleavage between various parts of the nation.

Apparently in Pennsylvania there is now a cleavage between cities and the rural sections. We in Philadelphia are confronted each day with the nefarious practice of some of the justices of the peace, all over Pennsylvania, of setting speed traps, and when they gather in a city fellow he can not expect any justice, he can not expect any compassion, he is made to pay, and he has no appeal whatsoever.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, such practices on the part of justices of the peace and squires must cease, because our city dwellers, when they come to the outskirts of Philadelphia, and go into the rural sections, never get any breaks from the magistrates or the justices of the peace. To give them additional fees will mean to encourage the practice of trapping the people from Philadelphia or other urban sections in Pennsylvania.

I plead with you to defeat this measure.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I would like to point out that this bill raises the fees of these justices of the peace and squires from $2.25 to $3.50 per case, which is an increase of over fifty per cent. The result will be more speed traps, making the public feel very antagonistic, not only toward the Legislature but also the machinery of law and order.

And the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 543, on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to, establishing and regulating the Port of Chester; creating the commission for the Port of Chester as a departmental administrative commission in the Department of Forests and Waters, and prescribing its powers and duties; regulating the acquisition, transfer, construction and use of navigation facilities; providing for regulating services and fixing minimum rates for wharfage, cranage and dockage; authorizing acquisition and construction of facilities by the Commonwealth, and the exercise of the right of eminent domain; providing for the use and leasing of such facilities; authorizing the abatement of nuisances and the correcting of improper conditions, and collecting the cost thereof from the owner or occupant of harbor structures; prescribing penalties; and making an appropriation go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 561, as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 796) entitled "An act establishing as state highways certain highways and requiring their construction repair and maintenance as such" by limiting the highways and structures which may become the responsibility of the Commonwealth thereunder

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 796) entitled "An act establishing as state highways certain county highways and requiring their construction repair and maintenance as such" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 That where any county is responsible for the construction or maintenance of any highway such highway shall if and when the county commissioners consent thereto by resolution a copy of which shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the courts of the proper county and with the Department of Highways be adopted by the Commonwealth as a state highway and shall thereafter be constructed repaired and maintained at the expense of the Commonwealth as State highways are now constructed repaired and maintained under the provisions of existing laws Provided That no highway shall be taken over by the Commonwealth under the provisions of this act unless such highway were a county highway on the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three nor if a contract for the improvement thereof has been entered into between a contractor and the Commonwealth or local authorities or both until such contract shall have been completed Provided further that the Commonwealth shall not become responsible under the terms of this act for any bridge viaduct or other structure except drainage structures having a total spanned length of ten feet or less measured along the center line of the highway

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 561, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I object to Senate Bill No. 561 going over in its order. This bill has been on the Calendar now for several days, I think pretty nearly a week. We hope to adjourn sine die at the end of next week, and therefore it will be necessary to pass this bill today.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I am going to vote "aye" on this bill, but I am dissatisfied that my amendment was not acceptable.

The bill is in its general provisions so worthy, I feel compelled to vote "aye." What it does is to set up a means of cooperation between the Department of Agriculture and the Commonwealth and the O.P.A. with reference to meat regulations and inspections, and I certainly must vote for it.

There is a portion of the bill with which my colleague from Delaware, Senator Heyburn, is more familar than I, which has been deleted from the original terms of the bill, and I feel that the public is not protected by that deletion.

However since the bill generally is good I am going to vote for it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, at the direction of the Republican Caucus, I move that Senate Bill No. 634, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing that war orphans shall not be charged tuition or matriculation fees for attending secondary schools within this Commonwealth be recommitted to the Committee on Education, for the purpose of further study.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STIEFEL. I object, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the affirmative.)

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 660, as follows:

An Act to add section thirty-one point one to repeal in part section thirty-two and to amend section thirty-three of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 207) entitled "An Act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" further regulating the sale of real property for the nonpayment of tax and municipal claims where a city of the first class is the claimant providing for the discharge of all liens mortgages ground rents estates and claims against such property by such sale and eliminating the right of redemption after such sales

Section 1 The act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 207) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" is hereby amended by adding thereto after section thirty-one a new section to read as follows

Section 31.1 In addition to the remedy prescribed in sections twenty-eight and thirty-one of this act where a city of the first class is the claimant and has obtained a judgment upon its claim it may file its petition in the court in which the proceeding is pending setting forth the facts necessary to show the right to sell together with searches or a title insurance policy showing the state of the record and the ownership of the property and of all tax and municipal claims mortgages ground rents or other charges on or estates in the land as shown by the official records of the county in which the real estate is situate and thereupon the court shall grant a rule upon all parties thus shown to be interested to appear and show cause why a decree should not be made that said property be sold freed and cleared of their respective claims mortgages ground rents charges and estates and without any right of redemption after such sale If upon a hearing thereafter the court is satisfied that service has been made of said rule upon the parties respondent in the manner provided in this act for the service of writs of scire facias to obtain judgments upon tax and municipal claims and that contemporaneously with the service of the rule on the parties respondent notice of the rule has been published by the city in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the city of Philadelphia and in the Legal Intelligencer and that the facts stated in the petition be true it shall order and decree that said property be sold at a subsequent sheriff's sale day to be fixed thereafter by the city at least one year after the date of the decree clar of all claims liens mortgages ground rents charges and estates to the highest bidder at usch sale and the proceeds realized therefrom shall be distributed in accordance with the priority of such claims and the purchaser at such sale shall take and forever thereafter have an absolute title to the property sold free and discharged of all tax and municipal claims liens mortgages ground rents charges and estates of whatever kind and not thereafter subject to any right of redemption Advertisement of such sale shall be made and the deed to the purchaser shall be executed acknowledged and delivered as in other real estate sales by the sheriff With each service of the said rule as above provided there shall be included a notice to the effect that any person interested may at any time prior to the proposed sale pay all the costs of the proceedings including a reasonable fee for the necessary title search or title insurance policy to be fixed by the court and all tax and municipal claims penalties and interest thereon charged against the property whereupon the proceedings on petition shall at once determine.

For the purpose of enabling the petitioner in any such proceedings to give the notice required it may take the testimony of the defendant in the claim or of any other person whom it may have reason to believe has knowledge of the whereabouts of any of the parties respondent either by deposition commission or letters rogatory

Any county municipality township school district or other taxing authority being a claimant shall have the right and is hereby empowered to bid and become the purchaser of the property at such sale and while the said property so purchased is held and owned by either a county or a municipality township school district or other taxing authority it shall not be subject to tax claims

Upon the delivery by the sheriff of a deed for any property sold under the provisions of this section the judgment upon which such sale was had shall thereupon and forever thereafter be final and conclusive and the validity thereof shall not be questioned for any cause whatsoever

Section 2 Section thirty-two of said act is hereby repealed insofar as it relates to tax or municipal claims of cities of the first class

Section 3 Section thirty-three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 33 Any claim filed or to be filed under the provisions of this act and any judgment recovered thereon may be assigned or transferred to a third party either absolutely or as collateral security and such assignee shall have all the rights of the original holder thereof except that the type of sale described in section thirty-one-point-one of this act shall be available only to a city of the first class

Where the claim has been paid in full by one of several defendants therein whether originally named as such or allowed to intervene and defend it shall be satisfied of record as to him and marked to his use as against the other defendants pro rata according to their respective interests in the property bound by the claim

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FARRELL. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to know how much is owed to the city of Philadelphia with respect to delinquent taxes.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I really do not know, but I would say more than $15,000,000. However, the city treasurer of Philadelphia is here in the Senate Chamber and he may be able to answer that question better than I can.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I feel that the Senate should be at ease so that I can get the information from the city treasurer of Philadelphia, Mr. Baird, who possibly will be a candidate for mayor two or three years from now.

Senator Farrell, will you get this information for me if you possibly can? I have a reason for that, I am not being facetious; I do not think this bill should be given to levity.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, the city treasurer of Philadelphia does not have his books with him, but he says the amount of delinquent taxes is somewhere around $16,000,000.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, in view of the fact that the city treasurer does not have his books with him, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell, agree that House Bill 660 go over in its order until such time as we can get the information from the city treasurer? I am asking for that information now.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I object to this bill going over in its order. This bill has been on the Calendar for quite some time and the session is drawing to a close, and this is a bill—

Mr. JASPAN. I object to any further explanation. I put a question to the gentleman from Philadelphia, which can be answered. Now let me go on further. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell, has a right to amplify his statement. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia desire to amplify his statement?

Mr. FARRELL. No, Mr. President, but I want to say something about the bill when Senator Jaspan has finished.

Mr. JASPAN. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to know how much is owing by those owning and occupying their homes, with respect to delinquent taxes. That is a very important feature of this bill. If the gentleman from Philadelphia does not understand my question, I will repeat it. By those owning and occupying their homes, how much is owing in delinquent taxes?

Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell, understands my question, does he not?

Mr. FARRELL. No, I do not.

Mr. JASPAN. How much is owing, in delinquent taxes, by those who own and occupy their homes?

Mr. FARRELL. I could not tell you, Mr. President. I do not know.

Mr. JASPAN. May I further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell, consent to be further interrogated?

Mr. FARRELL. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Can the gentleman tell me how much is owing by those who own their homes but do not occupy them? Does he know that?

Mr. FARRELL. I do not know that either.

Mr. JASPAN. May I further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell, consent to be further interrogated?

Mr. FARRELL. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Can the gentleman tell me how much is owing from apartment houses in the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. FARRELL. I could not answer that question. I do not know.

Mr. JASPAN. The gentleman could not answer that either?

Mr. FARRELL. No.

Mr. JASPAN. Can Senator Farrell tell me how much is owing by the hotels in the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. FARRELL. My answer is the same; I do not know.

Mr. JASPAN. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Farrell, know how much money has been collected by the city of Philadelphia through sequestration? Let me explain that further. The city of Philadelphia has the right—I realize the gentleman is not a lawyer, but he has been a member of the Board of Revision of Taxes for years; he was a real estate assessor—and he appreciates that under our laws the city has a right to sequester rents, especially in cases where people own and occupy the homes, and also as to the hotels.

Of the amount owing, that he put at approximately $16,000,000, or rather the city treasurer did, how much is collected through sequestration, if the gentleman knows.

Mr. FARRELL. I do not know.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, realizing that the gentleman from Philadelphia does not know the answer to these questions, and realizing the millions of dollars owed to the city of Philadelphia in the form of delinquent taxes, certainly we should have some figures before us, especially from our Senators from Philadelphia; otherwise I see no need for this bill at the present time.

I have often wondered why our present regime in the city of Philadelphia sees fit to do away with the equity of redemption. Equity of redemption has been the law of the land since time immortal. We go back to old English history; owners of properties, upon losing them as the result of a sheriff sale or any sale, had the right to redeem their properties. Now, for the first time in the history of Pennsylvania—and this bill applies specifically to the city of Philadelphia—an attempt is made to do away with the equity of redemption. In all forms of business, particularly with respect to installment leases, conditional sales and the like, and even mortgages, we have the right to redeem upon the performance of certain conditions. Why this bill is aimed specifically and directly at Philadelphia I am at a loss to say, excepting to strike at the poor home owner who, through no fault of his own, is unable to meet his obligations.

Why have our fathers and forefathers, judges, going back for centuries, seen fit to protect the home owner? It was his home, he lived there with his wife and children, and if by chance he was poverty stricken, he lost his job, lost his wealth, the law said to him, "In the event your property is sold, you certainly have a right to redeem it within a period of years." It may be contended under this bill that notice is given to the home owner, whether it be of homes, apartment houses or hotels, "we give you a year's notice in advance." That is camouflage. That is what I call subtle subterfuge. The fact of the matter is that they are given many years' notice. As it is today, when a tax lien is filed of record it is advertised, notice is served, whenever possible, on the owner of the property, and if he is not there it is left with the tenant of the property. Having filed a lien as a matter of record, through advertisement and also personal service by the delinquent tax collector, later on a sci fa sur mortgage is filed and served on the owner of the property, or the occupant thereof, and also further advertised. Finally it reaches the dangerous point where, unfortunately—and I am only interested in the poor man who owns his home and who wants to live in his home, and who wants an opportunity to pay his taxes if at all possible, and, if that is not possible, not to punish him—A sheriff sale is ordered. I am familiar with this situation, Mr. President. I worked in the City Solicitor's office from the years 1920 to 1926, assigned to the tax liens department. Our duties were to file those liens, upon request of the Receiver of Taxes, enter and file the sci fa sur mortgages, enter judgments and, wherever possible, we tried to help the poor home owner. We served him, we let him pay his taxes in installments in order to help him.

However, there were instances where men had the funds to pay, but refused, and then in those cases—and only those cases—we put their properties up for sheriff sale; in short, if I may use the vernacular of the law—exposed them to sheriff sale, and then it was advertising for at least three weeks, so there is notice for at least a year in advance, but it does not affect our equity of redemption in the least.

If the city of Philadelphia were alert today, they could collect many millions of dollars of taxes owed to them through sequestration on many property owners and hotel owners, who owe millions of dollars to the city of Philadelphia, but they have not paid; but the city of Philadelphia has not resorted to the law that they can invoke, and invoke properly, and that is to collect rents from the occupants of the properties, particularly where there are tenants, both as to private homes, apartment houses and hotels. They have done it in a few instances, but they have not enforced the law properly.

Why, at this stage of the game are they willing to strike at that poor little man who owns his property, and who has an opportunity to redeem it; they say, "no, we are going to deny you that right."

This only applies to the city of Philadelphia. It does not apply to any other county; it does not apply to any other state in the United States. Why does Philadelphia want this? I know the reason for this—it is very simple, very obvious. The real estate men—they are eager today to make a fortune, as they thought they would back in 1928 and 1929, but they were caught like everybody else—buy everything for investment, no matter whom it hurts, no matter whom it affects. They want this law so they can go before the sheriff and buy in a property and say, "this is my property, I can do as I please."

Frankly, assuming that they buy subject to the equity of redemption, they are still protected—they may not be able to sell immediately—but the fact remains, under our present law, when a property is sold at sheriff sale, they are entitled to their principal and all costs, plus ten per cent profit per annum. For that one year, Mr. President, who could expect more than ten per cent profit? But those Shylocks are not satisfied with that, and they are moving heaven and earth to put this bill through. For what purpose? Money, greed, avarice and everything that goes with it.

I may be in the position of owning a property and if by chance ill-fortune strikes me, shall that property be taken away from me and I be denied the right to live in my own home and be unable to redeem what was rightfully mine, what I worked for, what I invested for?

My friends, we can appreciate what is taking place today. The city of Philadelphia has neglected the people for many years. They find themselves in a very bad position from a financial standpoint. They have resorted to every means possible to salvage whatever they possible can, and then somebody held this out as a hope of bringing in considerable funds, but they are mistaken. They are not interested in the particular money that may come in; they are interested in the real estate dealers; they are interested in the hotel owners and apartment house owners.

Mr. President, I do not know whether we are all familiar with this law, but I say the right to redeem is inherent in everybody, and everybody is given that right under the old law, the Blackstone Law, and every law that follows it up to the present time. Why single out Philadelphia? So that it can collect some money? So that some real estate investor can come in and say, "I am going to buy that property." If he is really interested in that property he will buy it, because when it is redeemed he realizes he can get that ten per cent profit for the one year. What else does he want? No, he wants twenty-five, fifty per cent and probably seventy-five per cent.

Further, Mr. President, can you visualize cases where there are undeveloped lands people have inherited, not realizing they have inherited it, and these undeveloped lands are to be sold, probably not knowing they have inherited those particular lands? Yet, notice is given for a year, notice is given for many years, but sometimes they learn that the land has been sold at sheriff sale, and then they come in to redeem.

The city has many methods of collecting these taxes, but they do not want to do it. There is a method in their madness—if I may quote our friend Shakespeare—and I will say it is money, avarice and selfishness that is behind it. But what do they expect to collect, assuming that they do away with the equity of redemption?

If anyone is interested in a sheriff sale and wants to buy a property that is advertised for sale by the city, they will buy it subject to the equity of redemption, because the principal is protected, the costs are protected, and the ten per cent profit that the law entitles them to is protected.

Frankly, I think it is a very unfair bill and I think we should vote against it. It is striking at the very roots of our civilization; it is striking at a law that has been the protection of the home owner for many years.

Mr. President, when somebody buys at a tax sale it does not discharge any liens that are filed previous to the tax lien. With respect to hotels—they have mortgages amounting to millions of dollars—the tax lien on which they sell is dated after the mortgage—you buy subject to the mortgage—and that is the very reason they can not sell the hotels today, but they can go on doing a tremendous business, and they have done a tremendous business during the past few years, yet the city has not seen fit to sequester the rents collected, the money owing to them. If it were directed at those who were best able to pay, I would not mind in the least, but when equity of redemption was originally made the law of the land, when it was made the law of England, our common law, the purpose was to protect the home owner—I am repeating—and I say this is going to strike those who are unable to pay, those who through no fault of their own can not pay, and they are given that additional year to pay the tax.

This strikes at a very good law, and I say we should hesitate before we vote "aye" for this bill, and I ask my colleagues, in the name of good common sense and equity, to vote against changing a law that has been the law of the land for hundreds of years, by voting "no" instead of "aye".

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, on this bill may I say that it is a very simple bill. It does not have all the evils in it that Senator Jaspan has been talking about. The city of Philadelphia has several millions of dollars of taxes that are due. These taxes are liens on real estate. As the law now stands, if it is sold at a tax sale, the former owner has a year in which to come in and redeem his property. As a result of that, nobody is going to buy this real estate, because they can not spend money on improving it and repairing it and putting it into any kind of shape. If they spend money on it for repairs, the old owner may come in and take it away from them. Therefore nodody will buy this real estate.

This gives the present owner some period of time to keep his property, by giving him notice, a year before the sale, that it will be sold if he does not pay taxes within that time, instead of a year after the sale. Notice is given by newspaper publication so that he can fully protect himself. That is the purpose of the bill.

The remedy of sequestration, whereby the city goes in and operates these pieces of real estate, is not a satisfactory one. The city is not in the business of operating real estate and can not take this method of collecting taxes. It must do so by sales, and it can only sell if it can do so free and clear, so that future owners can buy the property in such shape so that they can make a fair return on their investment.

Mr. JASPAN. I agree with my friend from Philadelphia; this is a very simple bill, literally and figuratively—very simple for the real estate man. I heard him discuss the matter with respect to improvements. Why should not a purchaser wait one year? Assuming that he has got to make improvements, and the owner comes in to redeem, he still gets his principal, all costs expended, plus ten per cent profit on his investment. Is there any loss to him? There is a profit. The average man in real estate earning ten per cent for the first year is perfectly satisfied with his investment.

With respect to giving him notice one year in advance, Mr. President, that does not do away with the equity of redemption whatsoever. He has quite a few years' notice today. As I said before, when the tax lien is filed, it is advertised; when the sci fa sur mortgage is filed and served it is advertised and when the property is exposed to sheriff sale it is again advertised, so that they are not giving him any more now than they gave him before.

There is a reason for this, and it is a selfish reason—to help these real estate men who are interested in making money at the expense of the poor.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 877, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections sixteen and seventeen of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 280), entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands, and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof; requiring the receivers and collectors of county, city, borough, town, township, school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes, and providing for the lien thereof; authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes, and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid; and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances," clarifying the provisions relating to the resale of such property purchased by the county commissioners at county treasurer's sales, eliminating the right of redemption after such sales, and further providing for the reimbursement to the county for moneys spent on such property in certain cases go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 884, as follows:

An Act relating to the Tuberculosis Hospital of the City of Pittsburgh Pittsburgh Pennsylvania providing for the transfer of such institution to the Commonwealth providing for the management and operation of closing and abandonment thereof and maintenance of tuberculosis patients therein including the collection of maintenance in certain cases providing for the retransfer under certain circumstances conferring powers and imposing duties on the Governor and Department of Health

Section 1 All buildings acquired or erected by the City of Pittsburgh Pennsylvania for the care maintenance and treatment of tuberculosis patients by the Tuberculosis Hospital of the City of Pittsburgh the personal property within such buildings or incidental thereto and any and all other grounds and lands connected therewith or annexed thereto are hereby transferred to and vested in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 2 Any property so transferred to and vested in the Commonwealth shall if found suitable in accordance with this act be thereafter used as a State tuberculosis hospital but if such property shall within one year thereafter be found unsuitable for such purpose or shall within one year after transfer to and use by the Commonwealth as a State tuberculosis hospital be thereafter abandoned by the Commonwealth as such a hospital before substantial improvements thereto have been made then in either event such building lands and personal property so transferred to the Commonwealth shall absolutely revert to and vest in the City of Pittsburgh and the Commonwealth shall have no further claim or title thereto

Before the management and operation of any institution is taken over by the Department of Health the Governor shall issue his proclamation setting forth the date on which the Department of He lth will take over the management and operation of the institution In the event it shall be determined that the institution is to be closed the Governor shall issue a proclamation setting forth the date on which such institution will be closed The original of any such proclamation shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and a copy thereof shall be furnished the City of Pittsburgh authorities having charge of such institution

Section 3 The institution subject to this act which the Governor shall direct the Department of Health to operate and manage shall be operated and managed by such department as a State tuberculosis hospital in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth relating to such hospitals The Department of Health in managing and operating any such institution shall have all the powers and perform all the duties vested in and imposed upon boards of trustees of State hospitals by the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) and its amendments designated as The Administrative Code of one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine All tuberculosis patients in such institution at the time the management and operation thereof is assumed by the Department of Health shall have the same status as if originally admitted to a State tuberculosis hospital The Department of Health shall have power to designate the counties of the Commonwealth from which admissions may be made to such institution

The institution acquired and operated by the Commonwealth under this act as a State tuberculosis hospital shall be known as the Pittsburgh Tuberculosis State Hospital

Section 4 When the Commonwealth through the Department of Health assumes the control and management of the institution subject to this act the terms of all officers and employes and the local management of such institution shall cease and terminate The officers and employes of such institution shall thereupon become employes of the Commonwealth subject to removal by the Secretary of Health

Section 5 In the event it shall be determined that the institution subject to this act shall be closed the Department of Health shall take charge of such institution and the terms of all officers and employees and the local management of such institution shall cease and terminate The officers and employes of such institution shall thereupon become the employes of the Commonwealth subject to removal by the Secretary of Health when their services are no longer required No new patients shall be admitted to such institution after the date specified for its closing The Department of Health shall as soon as practicable transfer the patients in the institution to any other State tuberculosis hospital including any institution transferred to and being operated by the Commonwealth under any act as a State tuberculosis institution As far as practicable the department shall transfer such patients to such State tuberculosis hospital nearest to the City of Pittsburgh After the patients in such institution are transferred therefrom the Department of Health shall with the approval of the Governor turn the institution and its grounds over to the Department of Property and Supplies for use for any other State purpose as may be deemed necessary and advisable by the Governor unless such institution under the provisions of section two of this act would revert to the City of Pittsburgh in which event such institution shall be turned over to the proper authorities thereof and shall thereafter be used for such purposes as the City of Pittsburgh may determine

Section 6 After the effective date of this act and until the management and operation of the institution is formally assumed by the Department of Health or until the institution is closed under the provisions of this act but not later than the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-six the City of Pittsburgh shall continue to bear the expense of administering and operating the institution and the Commonwealth shall contribute towards the expense of indigent patients therein to the same extent and in the same manner as pertained under existing laws on the effective date of this act

transferred to the Commonwealth by this act that have accrued and remain unpaid on the date that the Commonwealth shall take over the operation and management of such instiuttion or the date such institution is closed may be collected by the city in the same manner as if the control and management of the institution were still vested in such city Provided however That where there is a claim against the estate of any such tuberculosis patient both on behalf of the Commonwealth and on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh and there is not sufficient in the estate to pay the claim in full the same shall be paid pro rata to the Commonwealth and the city in the proportion of the amount of maintenance legally recoverable by each

Section 8 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Section 2 Section forty-one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 41 Cancellation Removal and Preservation of Registration Affidavits (a) Whenever the registration of an elector is cancelled for any cause the commission shall cause to be marked on the registration affidavits of the elector the word "Cancelled" and the date and cause of cancellation and shall remove them from the general and district registers but each such affidavit shall be kept for five years after which it may be destroyed upon the approval thereof in writing by the district attorney

(b) All records except registration affidavits and original strike off petitions which are not essential for maintaining the current status of any qualified elector may be destroyed by the commission after two years

Section 3 The amendments herein made to section thirty-four of the said act shall remain in effect until the termination of hostilities in the present war and for six months thereafter The termination of hostilities in the present war shall be the time proclaimed as such by the President of the United States or the date specified as such in a concurrent resolution of the two houses of Congress

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, there seems to be some misunderstanding as to an agreement made between the Democrats and the Republicans about this bill, since it passed the House, and I think it was passed unanimously. Amendments have been inserted. I was given to understand the sponsor of the bill objected to them but felt that probably it would be best if we passed the bill and let it go to a conference committee to finally determine the position of the bill.

He felt further, notwithstanding his agreement, in view of the fact that Senator Mallery's bill had already covered the subject, there was no further need for amendments.

Therefore at this time I ask my colleagues to vote "aye" on this bill and leave it to a conference committee for determination, along with the Mallery bill dealing with the same subject.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1172, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend the first six paragraphs of section four hundred seven of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," increasing the membership of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SENATE BILL No. 410 CALLED UP

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I call up for consideration at this time Senate Bill No. 410, Printer's No. 438, on page 6 of today's Calendar.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 410, entitled:

An Act relating to and regulating the care and maintenance of children away from their parents; providing for the certification and licensing of child welfare organizations and foster homes; imposing duties and conferring powers upon the Department of Welfare; imposing duties upon juvenile courts; prohibiting certain advertising and prescribing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there ojection?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I thought we agreed that we were going to leave this bill go over for a few days, until I had a chance to find out something regarding the amendments. Now, in a few minutes, we find it being amended. When you consider you have appropriated $19,000 to put through this bill, I am not sure whether we have a right to vote away the taxpayers' money for something that is not needed.

Therefore, Mr. President, I do not see why we should rush the bill through. There must be somebody back of this bill—it is not Senator Mallery, because he is a very fine Senator, and I have the greatest respect for him—but there is somebody in the background, and if it is the crowd that I know and meet around through the town at different hours of the night, I would be fearful of letting them handle children. I think we should give this matter consideration and let the bill either go back to Committee on Appropriations or wait until we check the amendments.

I am checking the amendments that were put in yesterday, not just a few minutes ago.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to the gentleman from Blair offering amendments? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend sec. 2, page 3, line 1, by striking out the word "except"; Amend sec. 2, page 3, line 14, by inserting after the word "act" the following: "(h) persons receiving and maintaining a child or children placed by the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, the Juvenile Court of Allegheny County, or any other court of this Commonwealth;" Amend sec. 7, page 6, lines 20 and 21, by striking out the words "court or county or city institution district."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended, lie over for printing on final passage.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 165, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Medical School of the University of Pittsburgh Pittsburgh Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 166, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Nursing School of the University of Pittsburgh Pittsburgh Pennsylvania

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I call up Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 126, now on the table of the Senate.

The resolution was twice read as follows:

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER AND SECRETARY OF REVENUE TO FORMULATE PENNSYLVANIA ASSIGNED RISKS PLAN FOR PHYSICALLY DISABLED PERSONS

In the Senate, April 11, 1945.

There are many persons within the Commonwealth who, although skilled in the driving of automobiles, are denied the right so to do on account of physical disabilities which make the procurement of liability and property damage insurance impossible.

The return of fighting men from the battle fronts of the world will greatly increase this number, and the inability of many of those who deserve every possible privilege and opportunity of enjoyment, to secure such insurance, will prevent their full use of automobiles.

It is not possible nor would it be advisable to compel insurance companies to accept such risks which in their experience are hazardous.

Many companies in Pennsylvania writing liability and property damage insurance have lately developed the "Pennsylvania Automobile Assigned Risks Plan" for the voluntary handling of liability and property damage insurance on persons who have come under the provisions of the Financial Responsibility Law.

The formation of a similar plan for the voluntary handling of liability and property damage insurance on persons physically handicapped, might be the means of affording such persons the coverage necessary to allow them to enjoy the privilege of driving an automobile, either for pleasure or in the carrying on of a business; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), By the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the Insurance Commissioner of the Commonwealth and the Secretary of Revenue of the Commonwealth are requested to meet and consult with representatives of the various casualty companies doing business within the Commonwealth, in an attempt to arrive at and formulate a plan for the organization of a Pennsylvania Assigned Risks Plan for the insuring of physically handicapped persons; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution shall be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Insurance Commissioner and to the Secretary of Revenue.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

A motion was made by Mr. CROWE and Mr. TROUTMAN,

That Rule 39, which required resolutions reported from committee to lie over for one day be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO DEVELOP SOUND AND SCIENTIFIC FINANCIAL HIGHWAY PROGRAM

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. TAYLOR and McGINNIS, offered the following resolution which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate, April 25, 1945.

Resolved (if the House concur), That it shall be the duty of the Joint State Government Commission (hereinafter called the Commission), in consultation with organizations of recognized national standing, to cause to be made a thorough and impartial study in order to determine the relative responsibilities and burdens which should, in equity, be placed on the Commonwealth and on political subdivisions in respect to financing the cost of the construction, reconstruction and maintenance of the highways of the Commonwealth, including all state and local highways, the amount of state-aid for highway purposes which should be granted by the Commonwealth to political subdivisions for highway purposes, and generally to develop a sound and scientific financial highway program for the Commonwealth and her political subdivisions; and for such purposes the Commission shall have power and its duty shall be to engage the services of not less than three individuals of recognized standing in the fields of highway economics and highway engineering, together with such assistants and clerks as may be deemed necessary by the Commission.

All departments of the State government and all political subdivisions shall assist the Commission in every possible way by making available and furnishing such data, records, information and advice relative to the study provided for by this resolution as may be deemed necessary by the Commission. For these purposes the Commission shall have the power to compel the appearances of witnesses and the production of books, papers and records, and to issue proper subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses on the production of books, papers, records and any and all other writings deemed necessary for the fulfillment of the duties prescribed in this resolution.

The Commission shall constitute and provide for the appointment of advisory committees, consisting of administrative officials of the State and local governments and of the representatives of organized groups having direct interest in and affected by the development of streets and highways, to aid in the study of the problems presented by this resolution.

The Commission shall make a full and complete report of its findings and recommendations to The General Assembly not later than March 1, 1947, together with such drafts of legislation as may be necessary to carry such recommendation into effect.

The costs and expenses of said study and report thereon shall be paid for out of special allocation of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) to the Commission from the Motor License Fund.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, how much money is this investigation going to cost, have you estimated?

Mr. McGINNIS. $50,000.

Mr. HOLLAND. Would the gentleman from Allegheny kindly repeat the figure?

Mr. McGINNIS. $50,000.

Mr. HOLLAND. Is an appropriation bill in to cover it?

Mr. McGINNIS. The resolution calls for it.

Mr. HOLLAND. You can not appropriate by resolution.

Mr. McGINNIS. We have a couple of weeks to do that. Mr. President, the Joint State Government Committee has some money left and I am sure they will get more if necessary.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am satisfied my advisors on my right have given me the answer. Senators Taylor, Heyburn, Geltz and Barr have advised me that there will be an extra appropriation of $50,000, because the amount of money necessary for this investigation would absolutely wipe out all the money in the Joint State Government Commission.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE BILL No. 410 CALLED UP

The House met at 1:30 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ira T. Fiss) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Rev. T. Victor Scott, Assistant Pastor of Pine Street Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, a guest of the Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, who art from everlasting to everlasting, from whom proceed all power and dominion in heaven and earth, to whom we are indebted for all things, we now seek the transcendent blessings of Thy realized presence.

We pray Thee that thou wilt look with favor upon these Thy servants, the members of this House.

We pray that Thou wilt guide them in all their deliberations.

We pray that their trust may ever be in Thee, and in Thee alone.

We pray that they and all of us may live lives of integrity, doing nothing that would stain the flag of these United States, that would bring discredit on this Commonwealth, that would dishonor the name of God. This we ask through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By consent of the House leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. HOFFMAN for himself for the remainder of the week after 4 p. m. today.

Mr. NAGEL for himself for tomorrow's session because of illness in the family.

INTERROGATION

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Lichtenwalter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader whether it is his intention to have a constitutional majority on his side of the House tomorrow and deal with the entire calendar, or whether he will only present a consent calendar?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, at the moment I could not answer the gentleman from Cambria's question. I certainly hope that we will have a constitutional majority on this side of the House. I have not checked the list of leaves of absence that may be requested this afternoon.

There was one case that was called to my attention in the last half hour where there was a death in the family, and the gentleman of course requests that he be excused.

I can not answer the gentleman's question at the moment, but it is certainly my intention and my hope that there will be a constitutional majority present.

Mr. ANDREWS. One further question, Mr. Speaker. If the Majority Leader has a constitutional majority present will he deal with the Calendar as a whole?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I will be very happy to confer with the gentleman regarding his inquiry with regard to the calendar tomorrow.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By consent of the House leave of absence was granted as follows:

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. L. H. WOOD asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Ways and Means to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to call to your attention the fact that House Bill 258, amending the unemployment insurance act, was introduced into this House by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, and myself on January 23rd. On January 24th this bill was referred to the Committee on Workman's Compensation, and there it lies gathering dust, and I believe, marked for pickling by the officials of that committee.

I understand that His Excellency, the Governor, is favorable toward liberalizing the Workman's Compensation Act, and the Unemployment Insurance Act of this state, and I had hoped that the chairman would cooperate.

In these days, we need no definition of unemployment; we need no reminder of the lean and hard days, when millions were unable to obtain employment, and it is well to keep in mind, that in the days following the cession of hostilities, we may again be confronted, with the same problem, for which, we must, be prepared.

It is because we believe, that the unemployment question, is one of the most serious of all the factors of our economy, that we have given deep study to it, and it is, for this reason, that we have introduced this legislation, which I hope and trust, will aid in meeting any future unemployment problems which may eventuate in this Commonwealth.

Soup kitchens, and breadlines, have no place, in this America of ours, where it is never a question, of the production of sufficient supplies to meet our needs.

When we were forced to look upon millions of our citizens, who were willing to work, but, who were unable to obtain it, we must realize that there is something wrong with the machinery but seemingly, we do not know how to make repairs, nor how to build a new machine, which will not break down. I am willing to admit, that our bill is one which is intended to make repairs, to tide us over the period of breakdown, and give us an opportunity to work out a permanent solution.

All through the years, we have had the so-called panics, those days of financial depression, in which millions, are thrown out of employment, through no fault of their own.

It is not that we produce less; it is, that the machinery is out of order, and the break in the machine gets worse, as time goes on, and also, the suffering increases. The more inquiring among our peoples, are asking why this is so—our economists answer them with calculous and conic section theories; they tell them about cycles, balances, and great sheets of tables, which, they themselves do not understand. Those in the soup and bread lines look at each other, and are of course, disillusioned.

In an economy which breaks down periodically, those who are caught in the throes of depression, should not be made to suffer, nor to face disillusion in the bread lines, and eventually, lose confidence in this great democracy of ours.

The production and distribution mechanisms might have been in proper working order, but something had gone wrong in the financial or monetary planning. The farms and gardens, were as usual giving forth plenty, and the transportation systems were, ready to carry this production to the consumers; but, the trouble at the top of the financial brackets, stalls the entire machine, men and women walked the streets, with horror of hunger in their eyes. Business was at a standstill.

Time was, when we waited for this tangle to straighten itself out, waiting for time itself, to cure depression, and of course, we let the hindermost suffer. But until some remedy is found, which will prevent the recurrence of depressions—and, that problem, is now receiving the attention of students of economy and government—there must be some consideration given to measures which will meet unemployment now.

After the cessession of hostilities in the great conflagration which is still raging, possibly there will be a period of considerable business activities, as there was after World War No. 1, but, this, may not last. It is my opinion, that steps should be taken now, at this legislative session, to meet that possibility, although, we all hope, that it will not develop. That is the purpose of House Bill 258.

It provides for improvements, in unemployment insurance, it is intended to advance morale, and if enacted, I am sure that it will do so—it will add to the feeling of security of workers, because they will know, that if they are unable to obtain employment, they will have recourse to an advanced unemployment insurance plan.

We all know, how the long waiting period before payments were made available, has hampered those in distress. The measure we have introduced covers this point. It reduces the waiting period from two weeks to one week. This will be an aid to those, who rely on insurance, which will be appreciated in time of stress. There is another very important feature in this bill. It provides for partial unemployment benefits. The experience of those who have administered the unemployment fund, has shown definitely, that such provision is required. Of course, this provision requires careful administration, to prevent any misuse of funds; but experience has shown thus far, that such administration has been a feature of the administrations of unemployment funds. We are approaching this whole question of unemployment with greater efficiency, and greater vision than has ever before been shown. This partial unemployment provision will take care of many cases which call for temporary, and partial aid in a time of lack of full employment.

Under-Employment Benefits, in the United States an article by B. M. Stuart and a publication of the National Labor Office, entitled Unemployment Insurance, advocate this plan in a general way. Recent Economic Changes, a publication of the National Bureau of Economic Research contains material along this line.

Under-employment is defined in these, as, unemployment within employment. This specialized meaning has developed, from recognition of the economic, as contrasted with the personal factors, operating for the large number who, though seeking work are unable to find it, and who, when cut off from economic support, see their thrift penalized, and their families paying in health, education, and unity.

Seasonal unemployment, recurs year after year, in many industries, with losses resulting in both work, and management. Various plans have been adopted, to cover these periods of seasonal unemployment, but none seem to have operated with complete success. Partial unemployment benefits, will also aid in covering these periods, and they also will assist in morale building, which is one of the important objectives of this bill.

Maximum payments available are increased under this measure, which is another, of its important features. It has been generally conceded, that the maximum payments were too low, and this change has long been urged, by those who are studying this whole problem. More than this, there is a provision, that, groups not now provided for, in unemployment insurance are made eligible for benefits. This also has long been under discussion by experts, who have agreed, that these groups should be covered by unemployment insurance.

In the enlightened view, of this question of unemployment insurance, it appears, that the paradox of millions in want, and hunger, while others are impoverished by storage and interest charges on food and clothing, which they cannot sell is being urged, against the too-long accepted theory, that social welfare is best brought about as a by-product of self-interest.

In my opinion, however, every depression has its influence in the trend toward regimentation, a condition which is emphatically not desirable, and which is bitterly opposed, by economists and favored by a very few.

I think House Bill 258 has features, which will help to solve some of the unemployment insurance problems, and which, will aid in halting any trend, toward this dangerous regimentation, which has been held to be, just around the corner.

I respectfully urge, that the Committee on Workmen's Compensation, give this bill, their serious thought and study, and report it to the floor of this House for a thor ugh debate. I do not claim that this bill contains all the answers, to the unemployment insurance problem; however, I am profoundly convinced, that it will be a step, in the right direction.

House Bill 258 has been studied by representatives of the American Federation of Labor. The Congress of Industrial Organizations, and United Mine Workers of America and they have, unanimously approved the provisions of this bill. Other highlights of this bill are that the maximum total compensation during a benefit year is raised from $288 to $572. The maximum number of compensable weeks is increased from 16 to 26 weeks.

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Minority Whip, the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOVETT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I would like to ask the gentleman if he is a member of the Committee on Workmen's Compensation, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. I believe I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I would like to ask the gentleman if the Committee on Workmen's Compensation ever considered House Bill 258?

Mr. LOVETT. In answer to the gentleman I might say that to my knowledge the Committee on Workmen's Compensation has never even had an organization meeting.

Mr. LANE. Do I understand the gentleman to say, Mr.

Speaker, that the Committee on Workmen's Compensation of this House never held a meeting?

Mr. LOVETT. To my knowledge that is true, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MORAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, if he is a member of the Committee on Workmen's Compensation?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman I would say that I am supposed to be a member of that committee, and I do not know anything about it only what I see in the paper.

Mr. LANE. I would ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, if the Committee on Workmen's Compensation ever considered House Bill 258?

Mr. MORAN. In reply to the gentleman I would say that I do not see how they could have. They have never had a meeting to get organized to consider anything.

Mr. LANE. Do I understand the gentleman to state that the Committee never held a meeting?

Mr. MORAN. Not to my knowledge, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Herman. I am sorry; he is not here. I withdraw that request.

I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I would ask the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, is he is a member of the Committtee on Workmen's Compensation?

Mr. SORG. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I also desire to ask the gentleman if the Committee on Workmen's Compensation ever considered House Bill 258?

Mr. SORG. To my knowledge they did not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I would ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, if the Committee on Workmen's Compensation ever held a meeting?

Mr. SORG. Not to my knowledge, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. Do I take it then that the Committee on Workmen's Compensation was never organized? Is that correct?

Mr. SORG. That I do not know, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I thank the gentleman. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Foor.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bedford permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FOOR. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I would ask the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Foor, if he is a member of the Committee on Workmen's Compensation?

Mr. FOOR. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I would ask the gentleman if that committee ever considered House Bill 258?

Mr. FOOR. To my knowledge, no sir.

Mr. LANE. I also would ask the gentleman if the Committee on Workmen's Compensation ever held a meeting?

Mr. FOOR. Not to my knowledge.

Mr. LANE. Then I am to understand the gentleman that the committee was never organized?

Mr. FOOR. I cannot answer that question.

Mr. LANE. I thank the gentleman. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Fox.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands the gentleman asked unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. LANE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not addressing the House when he interrogates Members. The Chair will permit one more interrogation.

Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FOX. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, did the Chair say he will permit one more interrogation?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Fox.

Mr. LANE. I will withdraw my request to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Fox, and I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Reese.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Reese, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DAVID P. REESE, Jr. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Reese, if he is the Chairman of the Committee on Workmen's Compensation.

Mr. DAVID P. REESE, Jr. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I would ask the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Reese, if his committee ever considered House Bill 253?

Mr. DAVID P. REESE, Jr. It has not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LANE. I would like to ask the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Reese, if the Committee on Workmen's Compensation ever held an organization meeting.

Mr. DAVID P. REESE, Jr. It has not.

Mr. LANE. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, in view of the statements which were made on the floor by the various members of this committee, including the Chairman, I desire the Chair to rule as to whether or not the Committee on Workmen's Compensation is a legally functioning committee of this House.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman please repeat his question?

Mr. LANE. In view of the statements that were made on the floor of this House by the various members of this committee, including the Chairman of the Committee on Workmen's Compensation, that this committee has never been organized. I desire the Chair to rule as to whether or not this committee is a legally functioning Committee of this House of Representatives in the Session of 1945.

The SPEAKER. Under Rule 27 of the House the Committee on Workmen's Compensation is a duly constituted Standing Committee of this House, and all its members were elected by the Members of this House.

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, could you name me the Secretary of that Committee.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no official knowledge of the organization of any committee.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LANE. Would it be possible for me to appeal from a decision of the Chair in regard to his ruling?

The SPEAKER. There has been no ruling; there was no point of order raised, consequently there is nothing from which to appeal. The Chair merely read the rule of the House.

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, I regret taking up the time of the House at this particular time, but I asked the Chair a specific question as to whether or not the Committee on Workmen's Compensation was a legally functioning Committee in view of the fact that it has admitted that it has not been organized, and I ask for a ruling.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has stated very definitely that under Rule 27 that Committee is a duly constituted Committee, elected by the Members of this House.

Mr. LANE. In spite of the fact that it is not organized?

The SPEAKER. That has nothing to do with the fact that it is a legally constituted Committee. It is certainly legally existing. The Chair at no time attempts to control or influnece any Committee.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LANE. What action is it necessary for this House to take to bring about a meeting of the Committee on Workmen's Compensation?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will read Section 2 of Article III, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania,

> No bill shall be considered, unless referred to a Committee, returned therefrom, and printed for the use of the Members.

Rule 30 of this House provides that

> Each Committee shall have full power over the bill, resolution or other paper committed to it, . . .

The responsibility for the consideration of bills before being acted upon by this House is placed clearly under the provisions of the Constitution and the Rules of this House upon the Committees of the House and not upon the Chair. The Chairman acts only as the organ of the Committee in precisely the same manner as the Speaker of the House acts as the instrument of the House. It is the function of both to carry out the wish of the body over which they respectively preside.

That is the Chair's ruling.

Mr. LANE. I take it that is the Chair's ruling.

The SPEAKER. That is the ruling of the Chair.

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that you have ruled on this subject, and also because I believe we are not operating a democratic form of government by permitting a Chairman of a Committee to be the dictator on legislation which is committed to that committee, which I take it is thrown into the wastebasket, I regretfully appeal from the ruling of the Chair and I ask for a vote as to whether or not the Chairman of a committee has sole power over the bills.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker——

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. ANDREWS. I would like to make a statement, Mr. Speaker. Would the gentleman from Washington yield to me?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington yield to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. The question that the gentleman from Washington wants to propound to the Chair is what action the Members of the Committee which has failed to organize should take to compel the Chairman to call a meeting of the Committee, or meet upon their own initiative, and what process they would take in case the Committee met on its own initiative to gain possession of the bills in the keeping of the Chairman.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman from Cambria that there are only two methods: one is a call by the Chairman; the other is a request signed by the majority of the members of the Committee asking for a meeting of the Committee.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in the event the Chairman declines to convene the Committee and the Members of the Committee fail themselves to call a meeting, what is the jurisdiction of the House to require the Committee to meet and act, or if the Committee declines to act, to gain possession of the bills in the Chairman's keeping.

The SPEAKER. The only other method would be for the House to move to discharge the Committee from the consideration of the bills.

Mr. ANDREWS. Can we discharge the Chairman?

The SPEAKER. That would include the Chairman because it would include the entire Committee. He is a member of the Committee.

Mr. ANDREWS. I mean, is it possible for the House to replace the Chairman?

The SPEAKER. That is an appointment of the Speaker of the House, and is not in the control of the House. The power to appoint, of course, carries with it the power to remove.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a further parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. I gather that in the event the Chair has reason to question the conduct of the Chairman of a Committee the Chair can replace that Chairman?

The SPEAKER. Power of appointment rests with the Speaker of the House so far as Committee Chairmen are concerned.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the non-existent committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman, if there such a thing as a non-existent committee, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DAVID P. REESE, Jr. I shall, Mr. Speaker, under my nom de plume.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would the Chairman of the vigilent, industrious, hardworking Committee of which he is Chairman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DAVID P. REESE, Jr. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. In order to end the discussion and controversy and such action as might be necessary for the minority party to take, Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman consent to follow the line of the other Chairmen of the other Committees and organize his Committee and pass upon some of the bills in his possession?

Mr. DAVID P. REESE, Jr. That has already been decided, Mr. Speaker, favorably.

Mr. ANDREWS. Do I gather then that the Chairman will organize his committee?

Mr. DAVID P. REESE, Jr. There is no question about that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, a further question, will it be soon or on the final day of the session?

Mr. DAVID P. REESE, Jr. It will be sooner than the gentleman would expect, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman, and I hope it satisfies the gentleman from Washington.

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Reese, and I hope the meeting is soon.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privlege.

Mr. SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a statement in connection with House Bill 568, Printer's No. 593.

Owing to enforced absence that prevented my personal presence on the floor of the House on April 19 when House Bill 568, Printer's No. 593 was undergoing final passage I was not able to express my interest and vote on that bill, and I am making this statement for the purpose of having no misapprehension concerning my relationship to the school teachers' salary bill.

I think the members of the Committee on Education and the Majority Floor Leader and others of the Members of the House will recognize my activity and my interest in House Bill 568, and except for the circumstances which prevented my personal presence on the floor of the House at that time I would have been glad to vote for that bill. My vote is registered on first and second reading of the bill, and during the time the bill was under consideration members of the Board of Education will indicate just what my interest was on that bill.

For that reason, with the permission of the Speaker and the Members of the House I am making this explanation to appear upon the records of the Journal.

BILLS REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE READ FIRST TIME

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I request consent that all bills reported from Committees as committed be read for the first time.
